Macquarie Student Writers Friend:

More Than Words: The Making of the Macquarie Dictionary Pat Manser, 2021-02-23 The Editorial Committee of the dictionary of Australian English led by Arthur Delbridge were adamant that their dictionary was to be descriptive It was an important point of difference from traditional dictionary policy This dictionary would give an account of Australian English as it was heard and written We wanted it all spoken written technical polite rude The speech of labourers the jargon of merchants swearwords Australianisms as well as the basic core of English vocabulary The idea for a dictionary of Australian English was conceived in the 1960s but it wasn't until 1981 that the first edition of the Macquarie Dictionary was published More Than Words tells the story of how the dictionary was brought to life during this period from identifying the need for a genuinely Australian dictionary to the long road towards publication and explores how the dictionary has evolved over the years since then

Lovell, Kevin Windle, 2008-08-01 The story of the Communist Party of Australia has been told in various ways Until now however archival collections that have borne on this story have been relatively inaccessible to the ordinary interested reader This book begins to redress that deficiency by bringing together 85 key documents from the Russian State Archives of Social and Political History RGASPI selected from a collection of thousands of documents concerning the relations between the Communist International and the Communist Party of Australia The selection focuses on the relationship between the CPA and the Comintern because the activities of the CPA are essentially incomprehensible without understanding the international communist context within which the CPA operated That context was dominated by the newly created Soviet state and its decision to authorize and utilize a network of communist parties throughout the world

Writing Home Glenn Morrison, 2017-01-30 Writing Home explores the literary representation of Australian places by those who have walked them In particular it examines how Aboriginal and settler narratives of walking have shaped portrayals of Australia's Red Centre and consequently ideas of nation and belonging Central Australia has long been characterised as a frontier the supposed divide between black and white ancient and modern But persistently representing it in this way is preventing Australians from reimagining this internationally significant region as home Writing Home argues that the frontier no longer adequately describes Central Australia and that the Aboriginal songlines make a significant but under acknowledged contribution to Australian discourses of hybridity belonging and home Drawing on anthropology cultural theory journalism politics and philosophy the book traces shifting perceptions of Australian place and space since precolonial times through six recounted walking journeys of the Red Centre Ishtar Louise M. Pryke, 2017-07-14 Ishtar is the first book dedicated to providing an accessible analysis of the mythology and image of this complex goddess The polarity of her nature is reflected in her role as goddess of sexual love and war and has made her difficult to characterise in modern scholarship By exploring this complexity Ishtar offers insight into Mesopotamian culture and thought and elucidates a goddess who transcended the limits of gender divinity and nature It gives an accessible introduction to the Near Eastern pantheon while also opening a pathway for comparison with the later Near Eastern and Mediterranean deities who followed her

Beyond Turkey's Borders Banu Senay, 2012-12-05 In an increasingly connected world the engagement of diasporic communities in transnationalism has become a potent force Instead of pointing to a post national era of globalised politics as one might expect Banu Senay argues that expanding global channels of communication have provided states with more scope to mobilise their nationals across borders Her case is built around the way in which the long reach of the proactive Turkish state maintains relations with its Australian diaspora to promote the official Kemalist ideology Activists invest themselves in the state to see both for and like the state and as such Turkish immigrants have been politicised and polarised along lines that reflect internal divisions and developments in Turkish politics This book explores the way in which the Turkish state injects its presence into everyday life through the work of its consular institutions its management of Turkish Islam and its sponsoring of national celebrations The result is a state engineered transnationalism that mobilises Turkish migrants and seeks to tie them to official discourse and policy Despite this individual Kemalist activists dissatisfied with the state's transnational work have appointed themselves as the true cultural attaches of the Turkish Republic It is the actions and discourses of these activists that give efficacy to trans Kemalism in the unique migratory context of Australian multiculturalism Vital to this engagement is its Australian backdrop where ethnic diversity policies facilitate the nationalising initiatives of the Turkish state as well as the bottom up activism of Atatürkists On the other hand it also complicates and challenges trans Kemalism by giving a platform to groups such as Kurds or Armenians whose identity politics clash with that of Turkish officialdom An original and insightful contribution on the scope of transnationalism and cross border mobilisation this book is a valuable resource for researchers of politics nationalism and international migration Life, Love and
