Institutional Constraints to Small Farmer Development in Southern Africa Ajuruchukwu Obi,2011-04-27

The Southern Africa region has experienced more than its fair share of problems in recent years Just when it seemed that the hardships wrought by the devastating cycle of droughts and floods of 2000 to 2002 were a thing of the past other problems emerged At one level there have been the weak and often erratic governance mechanisms and political crises in some countries of the region leading to severe disruptions in agricultural production to the point that supplies and markets have virtually disappeared At another level socio cultural rigidities have often militated against the adoption of efficient farming practices resulting in sub optimal choices that lock smallholders into a low equilibrium trap In the face of the disappearing supplies and missing markets these have engendered hyper inflationary trends of a magnitude unknown anywhere else in the world But in the midst of all this apparent dreariness cases are emerging from which immense lessons can be drawn This book assembles a collection of research papers based on studies completed in 2008 and 2009 in Southern Africa that examine various dimensions of the institutional constraints small farmers are facing in the region and how they are going about dealing with them The papers draw from these diverse and polar experiences and present some theoretical and practical insights that should form the basis for more in depth country level sector specific analyses focusing mainly on citrus horticultures cotton and livestock The thematic issues of income inequality land reform natural resource management and value chain governance and chain choice are covered in this book and are expected to be of interest for a wide constituency including researchers development practitioners rural animators and policy makers

Economic Efficiency Ben Van Rompuy,2012-08-01

Over the past decade we have witnessed an apparent convergence of views among competition agency officials in the European Union and the United States on the appropriate goals of competition law enforcement Antitrust policy it is now suggested should focus on enhancing economic efficiency which we are to believe will promote consumer welfare Recent EU Commission Guidelines on the application of Article 101 TFEU appear to banish considerations that cannot be construed as having an economic efficiency value such as the environment cultural policy employment public health and consumer protection from the application of Article 101 TFEU Arguing that the professed adoption of an exclusive efficiency approach to Article 101 TFEU does not preclude but rather obfuscates the role of non efficiency considerations the author of this timely contribution accomplishes the following objectives traces the genesis of the shift to an efficiency orientation in EU and US antitrust policy and dispels several ingrained misconceptions that underpin it demonstrates the close interrelationship between evolving images of the purpose of antitrust the development of related enforcement norms and enforcement output provides in depth analyses of a number of analytically rich cases in the audiovisual sector and particularly those related to sports rights and explores what the role of non efficiency considerations in the application of Article 101 TFEU could and should be under the modernized enforcement regime
