The Women Who Made Television Funny David C. Tucker, 2007-01-31 Most of the bright and talented actresses who made America laugh in the 1950s are off the air today but their pioneering Hollywood careers irrevocably changed the face of television comedy These smart and sassy women successfully negotiated the hazards of the male dominated workplace with class and humor and the work they did in the 1950s is inventive still by today's standards Unable to fall back on strong language shock value or racial and sexual epithets the female sitcom stars of the 1950s entertained with pure talent and screen savvy As they did so they helped to lay the foundation for the development of television comedy This book pays tribute to 10 prominent television actresses who played lead roles in popular comedy shows of the 1950s Each chapter covers the works and personalities of one actress Lucille Ball I Love Lucy Gracie Allen The George Burns and Gracie Allen Show Eve Arden Our Miss Brooks Spring Byington December Bride Joan Davis I Married Joan Anne Jeffreys Topper Donna Reed The Donna Reed Show Ann Sothern Private Secretary and The Ann Sothern Show Gale Storm My Little Margie and The Gale Storm Show Oh Susanna and Betty White Life with Elizabeth For each star a career sketch is provided concentrating primarily on her television work but also noting achievements in other areas Appendices offer cast and crew lists a chronology and an additional biographical sketch of 10 less familiar actresses who deserve recognition

TV Shows and Nonplace Alexander Gutzmer, 2023-08-30 This book scrutinizes the relationship between contemporary TV shows and space focusing on the ways in which these shows use and narrate specific spatial structures namely spaces far away from traditional metropolises Beginning with the observation that many shows are set in specific spatial settings referred to in the book as nonplace territories e.g. North Jersey New Mexico or rural and suburban Western Germany the author argues that the link between such nonplace territories and shows such as The Sopranos Breaking Bad or Dark is so intense because the narrative structure functions similarly to these territories flat decentralized without any sense of structure or stable hierarchy The book takes three different perspectives first it looks at the rationale for combining TV shows and nonplace territories from the viewpoint of narrative strategy It then thinks through what these strategies mean for practicing architects Finally it approaches the arguments made before from a user perspective what does this narrative mirroring of social spatial reality in places such as Albuquerque or Jersey City mean for people living in these places This new approach to architecture and space on screen will interest scholars and students of television studies screen architecture media and architectural theory and popular culture

Wastewater Collection System Maintenance Michael J. Parcher, 1997-10-23
FROM THE PREFACE Wastewater collection systems are dynamic not static There is no single maintenance method equipment or technique that works best Keeping an open mind trying new techniques and technologies benefits sewer system operators No two collection systems are alike Maintenance staffing skill levels equipment budgets age and complexity of the system make each agency unique However collection systems do have many traits and problems in common Based on inventory and analysis problems are identified Defects may then be prioritized and corrective maintenance operations put into effect Preventive maintenance techniques can be applied to all collection systems Preventive maintenance is cost effective it strives to prevent problems from occurring rather than reacting to difficult situations and putting out fires This book examines problems shared by all agencies roots grease deterioration hydraulic inefficiencies and structural defects New solutions to age old problems are applied TV inspection and video interpretation rehabilitation analysis and trenchless technologies Computerized maintenance management and GIS softwares are discussed Jetting line cleaning and exciting developments in nozzle technology are included Roots and chemical root control foam wastewater control and grease are major topics as well Wastewater Collection System Maintenance shares insights drawn from operator experience trial and error successes and failures in the field interviews and years of research and studies A user friendly rating and evaluation system is explained and applied to field conditions Equipment operation and maintenance and tricks of the trade are also discussed As cities grow new systems are extended upstream from older sewers Many of these core drainage basins are now under capacity and in need of capital improvement projects There are approximately 600 000 miles of sanitary sewers in the country Nationwide there exists a huge backlog of sewer pipes that need rehabilitation Replacement would cost many billions of dollars Maintenance operators are entrusted with the care and feeding of an aging sewer infrastructure Congressional Record United States.
