Chinese Modern Xiaobing Tang, 2000-04-03 An analysis of the Chinese experience of modernity through the literary works films and other cultural artifacts that represent it The Madman's Library Edward Brooke-Hitching, 2021-07-21 This fascinating and bizarre collection compiles the most unusual obscure books from the far reaches of the human imagination throughout history From the author of the critically acclaimed bestsellers The Phantom Atlas and The Sky Atlas comes a unique and beautifully illustrated journey through the history of literature The Madman's Library delves into its darkest territories to hunt down the oddest books and manuscripts ever written uncovering the intriguing stories behind their creation From the Qur'an written in the blood of Saddam Hussein to the gorgeously decorated fifteenth century lawsuit filed by the Devil against Jesus to the most enormous book ever created The Madman's Library features many long forgotten eccentric and extraordinary volumes gathered from around the world Books written in blood and books that kill books of the insane and books that hoaxed the globe books invisible to the naked eye and books so long they could destroy the Universe books worn into battle and books of code and cypher whose secrets remain undiscovered Spell books alchemist scrolls wearable books edible books books to summon demons books written by ghosts and more all come together in the most curiously strange library imaginable Featuring hundreds of remarkable images and packed with entertaining facts and stories to discover The Madman's Library is a captivating compendium perfect for bibliophiles literature enthusiasts and collectors intrigued by bizarre oddities obscure history and the macabre MUST HAVE FOR BOOKLOVERS Anyone who appreciates a good read will love delving into this weird world of books and adding this collection to their own bookshelf DISCOVER SOMETHING TRULY UNIQUE The Madman's Library will let you in on the secret and obscure histories of the strangest books ever made EXPERT AUTHOR Edward Brooke Hitching is the son of an antiquarian book dealer a lifelong rare book collector and a master of taking visual deep dives into unusual historical subjects such as the maps of imaginary geography in The Phantom Atlas or ancient pathways through the stars in The Sky Atlas Madmen and Other Survivors Jeremy Tambling, 2007-02-01 Madmen and Other Survivors Reading Lu Xun's Fiction puts the short stories written by this outstanding Chinese writer between 1918 and 1926 into a broad context of Modernism The fiction of Lu Xun 1881-1936 deals with the China moving beyond the 1911 Revolution He asks about the possibilities of survival and what that means even considering the possibility that madness might be a strategy by which that is possible Such an idea calls identity into question and Lu Xun is read here as a writer for whom that is a wholly problematic concept The book makes use of critical and cultural theory to consider these short stories in the context of not only Chinese fiction but in terms of the art of the short story and in relation to literary modernism It attempts to put Lu Xun into as wide a perspective as possible for contemporary reading To make his work widely accessible he is treated here in English translation The Birth of Twentieth-Century Chinese Literature Yu Gao, 2017-10-09 This study makes a linguistic case for the twentieth century revolution in Chinese language and literature It offers a history of reform and change in the Chinese language throughout the country's history and focuses on the concept of baihua a language reform movement championed by Hu Shi and other scholars which laid the foundation for the May fourth New Literature Movement the larger New Culture Movement and which now defines modern Chinese Examining the differences between classical and modern Chinese language systems alongside an investigation into the relevance and impact of translation in this language revolution notably addressing the pivotal role of May Fourth leader Lu Xun this book provides a rare insight into the evolution of the Chinese language and those who championed its development      Afterlives of Letters Satoru Hashimoto, 2023-10-24 Honorable Mention 2024 Aldo and Jeanne Scaglione Prize for East Asian Studies Modern Language Association When East Asia opened itself to the world in the nineteenth century Chinese Japanese and Korean intellectuals had shared notions of literature because of the centuries long cultural exchanges in the region As modernization profoundly destabilized cultural norms they ventured to create new literature for the new era Satoru Hashimoto offers a novel way of understanding the origins of modern literature in a transregional context drawing on Chinese Japanese and Korean language texts in both classical and vernacular forms He argues that modern literature came into being in East Asia through writerly attempts at reconstructing the present's historical relationship to the past across the cultural transformations caused by modernization Hashimoto examines writers' anachronistic engagement with past cultures deemed obsolete or antithetical to new systems of values showing that this transnational process was integral to the emergence of modern literature A groundbreaking cross cultural excavation of the origins of modern literature in East Asia featuring remarkable linguistic scope Afterlives of Letters bridges Asian studies and comparative literature and delivers a remapping of world literature      Fictional Realism in Twentieth-century China Dewei Wang, 1992 Although deconstruction has become a popular catchword as an intellectual movement it has never entirely caught on within the university For some in the academy deconstruction and Jacques Derrida in particular are responsible for the demise of accountability in the study of literature Countering these facile dismissals of Derrida and deconstruction Herman Rapaport explores the incoherence that has plagued critical theory since the 1960s and the resulting legitimacy crisis in the humanities Against the backdrop of a rich informed discussion of Derrida's writings and how they have been misconstrued by critics and admirers alike The Theory Mess investigates the vicissitudes of Anglo American criticism over the past thirty years and proposes some possibilities for reform      Fear of Seeing Mingwei Song, 2023-10-03 Winner 2023 SFRA Book Award Science Fiction Research Association A new wave of cutting edge risk taking science fiction has energized twenty first century Chinese literature These works capture the anticipation and anxieties of China's new era speaking to a future filled with uncertainties Deeply entangled with the politics and culture of a changing China contemporary science fiction has also attracted a growing global readership Fear of Seeing traces the new wave's origin and development over the past three decades exploring the core concerns and literary strategies that make it so distinctive and vital Mingwei Song argues that recent Chinese science fiction is united by a capacity to illuminate what had been invisible what society had chosen not to see what conventional literature had failed to represent Its poetics of the invisible opens up new literary possibilities and inspires new ways of telling stories about China and the world Reading the works of major writers such as Liu Cixin and Han Song as well as lesser known figures Song explores how science fiction has spurred larger changes in contemporary literature and culture He analyzes key topics variations of utopia and dystopia cyborgs and the posthuman and nonbinary perspectives on gender and genre among many more A compelling and authoritative account of the politics and poetics of contemporary Chinese science fiction Fear of Seeing is an important book for all readers interested in the genre s significance for twenty first century literature Literary Remains Eileen J. Cheng,2013-04-30 Lu Xun 1881 1936 arguably twentieth century China s greatest writer is commonly cast in the mold of a radical iconoclast who vehemently rejected traditional culture The contradictions and ambivalence so central to his writings however are often overlooked Challenging conventional depictions Eileen J Cheng s innovative readings capture Lu Xun s disenchantment with modernity and his transformative engagements with traditional literary conventions in his modern experimental works Lurking behind the ambiguity at the heart of his writings are larger questions on the effects of cultural exchange accommodation and transformation that Lu Xun grappled with as a writer How can a culture estranged from its vanishing traditions come to terms with its past How can a culture severed from its roots and alienated from the foreign conventions it appropriates conceptualize its own present and future Literary Remains shows how Lu Xun s own literary encounter with the modern involved a sustained engagement with the past His creative writings which imitate adapt and parody traditional literary conventions represent and mirror the trauma of cultural disintegration in content and in form His contradictory uncertain and at times bizarrely incoherent narratives refuse to conform to conventional modes of meaning making or teleological notions of history opening up imaginative possibilities for comprehending the past and present without necessarily reifying them Behind Lu Xun s refusal to mourn that is his insistence on keeping the past and the dead alive in writing lies an ethical claim to recover the redemptive meaning of loss Like a solitary wanderer keeping vigil at the site of destruction he sifts through the debris composing epitaphs to mark both the presence and absence of that which has gone before and will soon come to pass For in the rubble of what remains he recovered precious gems of illumination through which to assess critique and transform the moment of the present Literary Remains shows how Lu Xun s literary enterprise is driven by a radical hope that in spite of the destruction he witnessed and the limits of representation his writings like the texts that inspired his own might somehow capture glimmers of the past and the present and illuminate a future yet to unfold Literary Remains will appeal to a wide audience of students and scholars interested in Lu Xun modern China cultural studies and world literature

Lu Xun and World Literature Xiaolu Ma,Carlos Rojas,2025-01-07 In Lu Xun and World Literature Xiaolu Ma Carlos Rojas and other contributors examine various aspects of Lu Xun who is known as the father of modern Chinese literature

Essays in this book focus on Lu Xun's works in relation to the notions of world literature and processes of literary worlding. The contributors offer detailed analyses of Lu Xun's own literary oeuvre and of foreign works that engage with his writings. This volume also focuses on many facets of the publication and dissemination of Lu Xun's works from printing and binding to the discussions and debates that followed their release in China and abroad. This book not only makes an important contribution to the field of Lu Xun studies but also proposes a reexamination of the category of world literature. This exceptional volume sheds new and important light on the increasingly incumbent question of the relationship between the literary giant Lu Xun and world literature. Rather than dwell on how the author's work fits into some pre-existing rubric, the essays in this volume explore new territory in investigating how Lu Xun's work contributes to the way in which the character of world literature itself must be continually reconstructed and reimagined. Theodore D. Hutters, University of California, Los Angeles. This volume examines questions surrounding the relationship between Lu Xun, world literature, and the underlying processes of worlding, situating his work as a writer and a translator in a global context, both among and interacting with prominent international works and literary movements, as well as influencing writers and readers in countries well beyond China. As such, it is a milestone in our understanding of this challenging, always witty and engaging gadfly of the state. Just as Lu Xun and His Legacy, edited by Leo Ou-fan Lee, brought together much of the best in twentieth-century scholarship on Lu Xun, ours is a massive dose of good fortune to have Lu Xun and World Literature to steer us into the twenty-first. Jon Eugene von Kowallis, University of New South Wales, Sydney. author of The Lyrical Lu Xun: A Study of His Classical Style Verse.

The Heart of Time Sabina Knight, 2020-03-23. By examining how narrative strategies reinforce or contest deterministic paradigms, this work describes modern Chinese fiction's unique contribution to ethical and literary debates over the possibility for meaningful moral action. How does Chinese fiction express the desire for freedom as well as fears of attendant responsibilities and abuses? How does it depict struggles for and against freedom? How do the texts allow for or deny the possibility of freedom and agency? By analyzing discourses of agency and fatalism and the ethical import of narrative structures, the author explores how representations of determinism and moral responsibility changed over the twentieth century. She links these changes to representations of time and to enduring commitments to human heartedness and social justice. Although Chinese fiction may contain some of the most disconsolate pages in the twentieth century's long literature of disenchantment, it also bespeaks, Knight argues, a passion for freedom and moral responsibility. Responding to ongoing conflicts between the claims of modernity and the resources of past traditions, these stories and novels are often dominated by challenges to human agency. Yet read with sensitivity to traditional Chinese conceptions of moral experience, their testimony to both the promises of freedom and the failure of such promises opens new perspectives on moral agency.

Modern Selfhood in Translation Limin Chi, 2018-09-03. This book examines the development of Chinese translation practice in relation to the rise of ideas of modern selfhood in China from the 1890s to the 1920s. The key translations produced by late Qing and early Republican Chinese intellectuals over the three decades in question reflect a preoccupation with new personality ideals informed by foreign models and the healthy development of modern individuality in the face of crises compounded by feelings of cultural inadequacy. The book clarifies how these translated works supplied the meanings for new terms and concepts that signify modern human experience and sheds light on the ways in which they taught readers to internalize the idea of the modern as personal experience. Through their selection of source texts and their adoption of different translation strategies, the translators chosen as case studies championed a progressive view of the world, one that was open-minded and humanistic. The late Qing construction of modern Chinese identity instigated under the imperative of national salvation in the aftermath of the First Sino-Japanese War wielded a far-reaching influence on the New Culture discourse. This book argues that the New Culture translations, being largely explorations of modern self-consciousness, helped to produce an egalitarian cosmopolitan view of modern being. This was a view favoured by the majority of mainland intellectuals in the post-Maoist 1980s and which has since become an important topic in mainland scholarship.

Unreliable Narration and Trustworthiness Vera Nünning, 2015-02-24 Though the phenomenon known as unreliable narration or narrative unreliability has received a lot of attention during the last two decades, narratological research has mainly focused on its manifestations in narrative fiction, particularly in homodiegetic or first-person narration. Except for film, forms and functions of unreliable narration in other genres, media, and disciplines have so far been relatively neglected. The present volume redresses the balance by directing scholarly attention to disciplines and domains that narratology has so far largely ignored. It aims at initiating an interdisciplinary approach to and debate on narrative unreliability, exploring unreliable narration in a broad range of literary genres, other media, and non-fictional text types, contexts, and disciplines beyond literary studies. Crossing the boundaries between genres, media, and disciplines, the volume acknowledges that the question of whether or not to believe or trust a narrator transcends the field of literature. The issues of unreliability and untrustworthiness play a crucial role in many areas of human life as well as a wide spectrum of academic fields ranging from law to history and from psychology to the study of culture.

Machado De Assis's Philosopher or Dog? Suriani da Silva, 2017-07-05 The great Brazilian writer Joaquim Maria Machado de Assis (1839-1908) published five of his nine novels as feuilletons in daily newspapers or fortnightly women's magazines. How were the structure and themes of those novels entangled with this serial publication form? In da Silva's important new study, textual scholarship, critical theory, and the history of the book are combined in order to trace this relationship. The most important case study is an extended consideration of Philosopher or Dog (1891), the novel after which he abandoned the feuilleton. Through a comparison of the serial and book versions of Philosopher or Dog and a thorough study of the periodical in which it appeared, the international women's magazine The Season, da Silva analyses the changes which the genre novel was undergoing at the end of the nineteenth century: the decline of the serial and the standardisation of female press. Ana Claudia Suriani da Silva is Tutor of

Portuguese at the University of Birmingham and Honorary Research Fellow at Birkbeck College University of London

Mental Health, Psychiatry and the Arts Victoria Tischler, 2018-10-08 Medicine and psychiatry both based on science require the art of caring using the principles of art in learning and teaching Sitting with a patient making sense of their distress being empathetic in understanding both the symptoms and the person and alleviating suffering needs a human touch For that doctors need the soul of an artist and must be aware of the value that arts have for society and the individual from the Foreword by Dinesh Bhugra This comprehensive book explores how visual art cinema music poetry literature and drama can inform the teaching and practice of psychiatrists and mental health professionals Edited and written by a team of expert practitioners teachers and researchers including both clinicians and users of mental health services this comprehensive book will provide valuable insights for undergraduate and postgraduate educators with teaching responsibilities in psychiatry and mental health. Students of the medical humanities, art, music, and drama therapists and educators in occupational therapy and psychology will also find this a valuable and insightful handbook. The authors of this wonderful handbook provide a convincing argument that the arts are good for what ails us. They have each used a preferred artistic medium to deepen personal reflection and to enhance their own creativity as physicians, teachers, and therapists. Their models are clear, their suggestions practical, but none of the approaches you'll find here is reductive or simplistic. Try some of the reflective exercises and teaching strategies. You will be sure to rediscover something you have always cherished about the art of healing from the Foreword by Allan D. Peterkin.

Liberal Cosmopolitan Qian Suoqiao, 2011. This book is a cross-cultural critique on the problem of the liberal cosmopolitan in modern Chinese intellectuality in light of Lin Yutang's literary and cultural practices across China and America. It points to the desirability of a middling Chinese modernity.

Configurations of the Real in Chinese Literary and Aesthetic Modernity Peter Button, 2009-03-25. The emergence of the Chinese socialist realist novel can best be understood in light of the half-century long formation of the modern concept of literature in China. Globalized in the wake of modern capitalism, literary modernity configures the literary text in a relationship to both modern philosophy and literary theory. This book traces China's unique complex and creative articulation of literary modernity beginning with Lu Xun's The True Story of Ah Q. Cai Yi's aesthetic theory of the type dianxing and the image xingxiang is then explored in relation to global currents in literary thought and philosophy, making possible a fundamental rethinking of Chinese socialist realist novels like Yang Mo's Song of Youth and Luo Guangbin and Yan Yiyan's Red Crag      Tribute and Trade William Christie, Angela Dunstan, Q.S. Tong, 2020-06-01 In the 18th and 19th centuries relations between China and the West were defined by the Qing dynasty's strict restrictions on foreign access and by the West's imperial ambitions Cultural political and economic interactions were often fraught with suspicion and misunderstanding on both sides Yet trade flourished and there were instances of cultural exchange and friendship running counter to the official narrative Tribute and Trade China and Global Modernity explores encounters between China and the West during this period and beyond into the early 20th century through examples drawn from art literature science politics music cooking clothing and more How did China and the West see each other how did they influence each other and what were the lasting legacies of this contact
