How Italian Food Conquered the World John F. Mariani, 2024-09-04 An entertaining and savory gastronomical history of the cuisine of Italy and how it won over appetites worldwide USA Today Not so long ago Italian food was regarded as a poor man's gruel little more than pizza

macaroni with sauce and red wines in a box Here John Mariani shows how the Italian immigrants to America created through perseverance and sheer necessity an Italian American food culture and how it became a global obsession The book begins with the Greek Roman and Middle Eastern culinary traditions before the boot shaped peninsula was even called Italy then takes readers on a journey through Europe and across the ocean to America alongside the poor but hopeful Italian immigrants who slowly but surely won over the hearts and minds of Americans by way of their stomachs Featuring evil villains such as the Atkins diet and French chefs this is a rollicking tale of how Italian cuisine rose to its place as the most beloved fare in the world through the lives of the people who led the charge With savory anecdotes from these top chefs and restaurateurs Danny Meyer Tony Mantuano Michael Chiarello Giada de Laurentiis Giuseppe Cipriani Nigella Lawson And the trials and triumphs of these restaurants Da Silvano Spiaggia Bottega Union Square Caf Maialino Rao s Babbo Il Cantinori Mariani captures the history and elemental beauty of a cuisine that really does seem to appeal to more palates than any other you owe it to yourself to read this book Las Vegas Weekly

Interjections, Translation, and Translanguaging Rosanna Masiola, 2018-12-05 This book is about interjections and their transcultural issues Challenging the marginalization of the past the ubiquity of interjections and translational practices are presented in their multilingual and cross cultural aspects The survey widens the field of inquiry to a multi genre and context based perspective The quanti qualitative corpus has been processed on the base of topics of relevance and thematization The range of examples varies from adaptation of novels into films from Shakespeare from Zulu oral epics to opera from children s narratives to cartoons from migration literature to gangster and horror films and their audiovisual translation The use of American Yiddish Italian American South African English and Jamaican account for the controversial aspects of interjections as a universal phenomenon and conversely as a pragmatic marker of identity in post colonial contexts

Creating the New Right Ethnic in 1970s America Richard Moss, 2017-03-15 This work analyzes the New Ethnicity of the 1970s as a way of understanding America s political turn to the right in that decade An upsurge of vocal ethnic consciousness among second third and fourth generation Southern and Eastern Europeans the New Ethnicity simultaneously challenged and emulated earlier identity movements such as Black Power The movement was more complex than the historical memory of racist reactionary white ethnic leaders suggests The movement began with a significant grassroots effort to gain more social welfare assistance for near poor white ethnic neighborhoods and ease tensions between the working class African Americans and whites who lived in close proximity to one another in urban neighborhoods At the same time a more militant strain of white ethnicity was created by urban leaders who sought conflict with minorities and liberals The reassertion of ethnicity necessarily involved the invention of myths symbols and traditions and this process actually served to retard the progressive strain of New Ethnicity and strengthen the position of reactionary leaders and New

Right politicians who hoped to encourage racial discord and dismantle social welfare programs Public intellectuals created a mythical white ethnic who shunned welfare valued the family and provided an antidote to liberal elitism and neighborhood breakdown Corporations and publishers embraced this invented ethnic identity and codified it through consumption Finally politicians appropriated the rhetoric of the New Ethnicity while ignoring its demands The image of hard working self sufficient ethnics who took care of their own neighborhood problems became powerful currency in their effort to create racial division and dismantle New Deal and Great Society protections

The Perfect Egg Aldo Buzzi,2008-12-12 The writer who never talks about eating about appetite hunger food about cooks and meals arouses my suspicion as though some vital element were missing in him Scholarly playful idiosyncratic and witty Aldo Buzzi's The Perfect Egg is an excursion into the food that has obsessed provoked and intrigued the author through his life A book of genial and highly refined chat enriched with personal anecdotes recipes and quotations from literature and history it is a tribute to the profound pleasures of food Along the way the reader discovers recipes from Italy France Spain Germany and the United States related by Buzzi in a tone that is casual but delightfully attentive to detail He writes about how to make lime soup what goes into an olla podrida varieties of futurist cuisine the difference between edible and inedible pigeons and the emotional resonance of overcooked pasta And of course he reveals how to cook the perfect egg

Another Life Michael Korda,2011-12-21 In his remarkable memoir at once frank audacious canny and revealing Michael Korda the author of Charmed Lives and Queenie does for the world of books what Moss Hart did for the theater in Act One and succeeds triumphantly in making publishing seem as exciting and as full of great characters as the stage Another Life is not just an adventure the engaging and often hilarious story of a young man making his career but the insider's story of how a cottage industry metamorphosed into a big business with sometimes alarming results for all concerned Korda writes with grace humor and a shrewd eye not only about himself and his rise from a lowly but not humble assistant editor reading the slush pile of manuscripts to a famous editor in chief of a major publishing house but also about the celebrities and writers with whom he worked over four decades Here are portraits rare intimate always keenly observed of such larger than life figures as Ronald Reagan affable and good natured but the most reluctant of authors struggling with his ghosted presidential autobiography Richard Nixon seen here as a genial if bizarrely detached host superagent Irving Lazar pursuing his endless deals and dreams of class retired Mafia boss Joseph Bonanno the last of the old time dons laboring over his own version of his life in his desert retreat Joan Crawford giving Korda her rules for successful living and countless other greats near greats and would be greats Here too are famous writers sometimes eccentric sometimes infuriating sometimes lost souls captured memorably by someone who was close to them for years Graham Greene in pursuit of his FBI file and a Nobel Prize Tennessee Williams wrestling unsuccessfully with his demons Jacqueline Susann facing and conquering the dreaded second novel syndrome after the stunning success of Valley of the Dolls Harold Robbins who had to be guarded under lock and key and made to finish his novels struggling to keep the IRS at bay from the deck of his yacht Carlos Castaneda at his most sorcerously charming described at last in detail as he really was by one of the few people who knew him well not to mention Richard Adams Will and Ariel Durant Susan Howatch S J Perelman Fannie Hurst Larry McMurtry and many many more Parts of this book that have appeared in The New Yorker over the years have brought Korda great acclaim the chapter about Jacqueline Susann has been made into a major motion picture Here at last entertaining and provocative and always hugely readable is the whole story a book as engaging and full of life as Korda s highly acclaimed memoir of his family Charmed Lives about which Irwin Shaw wrote I don t know when I have enjoyed a book more

Food and Masculinity in Contemporary Autobiographies Nieves Pascual Soler,2017-12-12 This book is concerned with food autobiographies written by men from the 1980s to the present It concentrates on how food has transformed autobiographical narratives and how these define the ways men eat and cook nowadays After presenting a historical overview of the place of food within men s autobiography this volume analyzes the reasons for our present interest in food and the proliferation of life narratives focused on cooking Then it centers around the identities that male chefs are taking on in the writing of their lives and the generic models they use the heroic the criminal and the hunting autobiographical scripts This study gives evidence that autobiographies are crucial in the redefinition of the new masculinities emerging in the kitchen It will appeal to readers interested in Food Studies Autobiographical Studies Men s Studies and American Literature and Culture *Catalog of Copyright Entries.
