Models And Metaphors Studies In Language And Philosophy:

Models and Metaphors Max Black, 2019-06-30 Although the range is wide philosophy of language logic philosophy of science in this collection of essays there is a certain unity of treatment arising from the author's steady interest in using linguistic analysis to cast some new light on old problems such as the nature of logic causation and induction Models and Metaphors Max Black, Models and Metaphors Franklin K. Moore, 1962 Model and Metaphors, 1981 Rhetorics of Display Lawrence J. Prelli, 2021-12-24 Groundbreaking case studies mapping the rhetoric inherent in acts of presentation and concealment Rhetorics of Display is a pathbreaking volume that brings together a distinguished group of scholars to assess an increasingly pervasive form of rhetorical activity Editor Lawrence J. Prelli notes in his introduction that twenty-first century citizens continually confront displays of information and images from the verbal images of speeches and literature to visual images of film and photography to exhibits in museums to the arrangement of our homes to the merchandising of consumer goods The volume provides an integrated comprehensive study of the processes of selecting what to reveal and what to conceal that together constitute the rhetorics of display Surveying major historical transformations in the relationship between rhetoric and display this book also identifies the leading themes in relevant scholarship of the past three decades Seventeen case studies canvass a representative and diverse range of displays from body piercing to a civil rights memorial to a Titanic exhibition to imagery found in gambling casinos and examine the ways that phenomena persons places events identities communities and cultures are exhibited before audiences Collectively the contributors shed light on rhetorics that are nearly ubiquitous in contemporary communication and culture Metaphors in Medical Texts Geraldine W. van Rijn-van Tongeren, 1997 This book claims that metaphors must be seen as indispensable cognitive and communicative instruments in medical science Analysis of texts taken from recently published medical handbooks reveals what kind of metaphors are used to structure certain medical concepts and what the functions are of the metaphorical expressions in the texts Special attention is drawn to the idea that scientific facts do not originate from passive observation of reality Imaginative thinking and the use of metaphors are required to make the unknown accessible to us Yet although metaphors are often a sine qua non for the genesis of a scientific fact they may also inhibit the development of alternative views This is due to the fact that metaphors always highlight certain aspects of a phenomenon while other aspects remain obscured Analysis of the metaphors used in medical texts may reveal exactly which aspects are highlighted and which remain hidden and may thus help to find alternative metaphors and possibly therapies when current metaphors are no longer adequate This book should be of interest not only to linguists translators and researchers working in the field of intercultural communication but also to doctors and medical scientists and those interested in the philosophy of science Mary B. Hesse (1924-2016): Metaphors, Models, and the Growth of Scientific Knowledge Pietro Gori, 2025-08-20 This volume explores the work of Mary B. Hesse 1924-2016 a pivotal figure in twentieth-century philosophy of science At a time when the foundations of an integrated approach to the history and philosophy of science were being established Hesse as a female philosopher offered a distinctive and influential contribution grounded in a post empiricist understanding of the natural sciences Central to her thought was a focus on the metaphorical and analogical value of scientific language in contrast to views assessing its literal significance Hesse also departed from traditional hypothetico deductive accounts of scientific methodology and theory structure advancing instead perspectives rooted in both historical and contemporary scientific practices To mark the centenary of her birth this book brings together an international group of scholars to re examine and engage with Hesse s intellectual legacy The chapters address the central themes of her work and situate them within her broader philosophical context Each contribution adopts a cross disciplinary perspective highlighting the continued relevance of Hesse s ideas to current debates in the philosophy of science This volume will be of particular interest to scholars in the history and philosophy of science as well as those engaged in gender studies and the study of women in philosophy

The Spirit of American Liberal Theology Gary Dorrien, 2023-09-05 The Spirit of American Liberal Theology is an interpretation of the entire U S American tradition of liberal theology A highly condensed and far more accessible summary of Gary Dorrien s three volume trilogy The Making of American Liberal Theology Westminster John Knox Press 2001 2003 and 2006 Dorrien here presses the argument that the most abundant diverse and persistent tradition of liberal theology is the one that blossomed in the United States and is still refashioning itself While discussions of English and German liberalism persist new material includes expanded treatment of the Black social gospel the Universalists developments into early 2020s and a robust expression of the author s post Hegelian liberal liberationist perspective The Ethics of Research Biobanking Jan Helge Solbakk, Søren Holm, B. Hofmann, 2009-07-31 Biobanking i.e. storage of biological samples or data emerging from such samples for diagnostic therapeutic or research purposes has been going on for decades. However, it is only since the mid 1990s that these activities have become the subject of considerable public attention, concern and debate. This shift in climate is due to several factors. The purpose of this book is to investigate some of the ethical, legal and social challenges raised by research biobanking in its different modern forms and formats. The issues raised by research biobanking in its modern form can be divided into four main clusters: how biological materials are entered into the bank; research biobanks as institutions under what conditions researchers can access materials in the bank; and problems concerning ownership of biological materials and of intellectual property arising from such materials; and how the information is collected and stored, e.g. access rights, disclosure, confidentiality, data security and data protection.

Normative Structures of the Social World, 2021-11-15 A Nice Derangement of Epistemes John H. Zammito, 2004-02-15 Since the 1950s many philosophers of science have attacked positivism, the theory that scientific knowledge is grounded in objective reality. Reconstructing the history of these critiques, John H. Zammito argues that while so-called postpositivist theories of science are very often invoked, they actually provide little support for fashionable postmodern approaches to science studies. Zammito shows how problems that Quine and Kuhn saw in the philosophy of the natural sciences inspired a turn to the philosophy of language for resolution. This linguistic turn led to claims that science needs to be situated in both historical and social contexts, but the claims of recent science studies only deepened the philosophical quandary. In essence, Zammito argues that none of the problems with positivism provides the slightest justification for denigrating empirical inquiry and scientific practice, delivering quite a blow to the discipline of postmodern science studies. Filling a gap in scholarship to date, A Nice Derangement of Epistemes will appeal to historians, philosophers, philosophers of science, and the broader scientific community. The Language Animal Charles Taylor, 2016-03-14 From Sources of the Self to A Secular Age, Charles Taylor has shown how we create ways of being as individuals and as a society. Here he demonstrates that language is at the center of this generative process. Language does not merely describe it; it constitutes meaning, and the shared practice of speech shapes human experience. The Theory of Categorical Conversion Dompere, Kofi Kissi, 2017-09-17 The Theory of Categorical Conversion is advanced by Professor Kofi Kissi Dompere as mathematical, philosophical, and game-theoretic foundations to solve the problem of socio-natural transformation as governed by some internal process in relation to Marx, Schumpeter, and Nkrumah. Dompere's methodology is based on the Africentric principles of opposites made up of actual/potential, polarity/negativity/positivity, duality with relational continuum, and unity under cost/benefit, rationality and Asantefi Anoma principle supported by fuzzy paradigm of thought. Socio-natural transformations are seen in terms of game theories in a fuzzy stochastic space admitting of defective/deceptive information structures in quality/quantity space within the subjective/objective duality. The main premise of the monograph is that there exists a set of

necessary and sufficient conditions for internal self transformation The necessary conditions are made up of categorial moments and categorial transfer functions forming the domain of control instrumentation in creating the sufficient conditions for categorial conversion processes Dompere presents an important methodological framework for the study and construction of the theories of socioeconomic development and political change as well as info dynamics connecting knowledge sciences innovation and engineering to the space of knowing under qualitative quantitative transformational dynamics with defective deceptive information structures in the games for power and dominance by duals and poles in conflicts The necessary conditions of socio natural transformation are internally derived based on the relational structure of matter energy information activities within the dynamics of qualitative dispositions of dualities of actual potential polarities The theory consists of category formation showing ontological epistemological categories and categorial dynamics shows elemental conversions of categorial varieties in a continuum The logical tools and the paradigm of thought for the theoretical development of Nkrumah s framework involve self excitement self correction and self control systems induced by internal contradictions The set of necessary conditions constitutes the natural necessity that constrains cognitive freedom in socio natural transformations Had this conceptual system been familiar to economists and social scientists the construct of the theories of socioeconomic development and transformations would have been increasingly successful Darwin's Forgotten Defenders David N. Livingstone,1997 This book is the first systematic investigation of the response of evangelical intellectuals in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries to Darwin s evolutionary theories Despite evidence to the contrary many people continue to believe that warfare between science and religion over the issue of evolution broke out as soon as Darwin published The Origin of the Species in 1859 In fact as David Livingstone points out a substantial number of that era s leaders in science and technology had little trouble reconciling their conservative theological views to Darwin s new theories The author contends that the sort of pitched battle being waged by the creationist movement today has its roots not in the evangelical heritage of the nineteenth century but in the fundamentalism that emerged during the early decades of the twentieth century This study which sheds new light on previously neglected aspects of the Darwinian controversies should have appeal for all who are interested in the relationship between science and religion from back cover
