Modern Clan Politics The Power Of Blood In Kazakhstan And Beyond:

Modern Clan Politics Edward Schatz, 2004 Edward Schatz explores kin based clan divisions in the post Soviet state of Kazakhstan demonstrating that contrary to popular belief kinship divisions do not fade from political life under modernity Drawing from extensive ethnographic and archival research he argues that Kazakhs use clan networks to obtain goods and political favor Thus a vibrant politics of kin based clans or subethnic groups has emerged and flourished in post Soviet Kazakhstan

Movement, Power and Place in Central Asia and Beyond Madeleine Reeves, 2013-09-13 Central Asia is a region singularly marked by attempts to transform social life by transforming place Drawing together established scholars and a new generation of historians geographers and anthropologists this volume brings empirical specificity and theoretical depth to debates about the politics of place making in this diverse region making an important contribution to Central Asian studies and a distinctive regional comparison to the spatial turn in social analysis Case studies draw on archival research and oral history to explore the workings and unintended consequences of policies aimed at sedentarizing collectivizing and resettling populations as a means to fix and territorialize space The book also examines ethnographic studies attuned to the role of movement in sustaining social life from Soviet era trade networks that linked rural Central Asia and the Russian metropolis to pilgrimage routes through which kazakhness is articulated to the contemporary moralization of migration abroad in search of work Rather than analysing flows as abstract processes the book enquires about effortful activity material infrastructures political relations and social habits through which people ideas knowledge skills and material objects move or are prevented from moving As such it offers new insights into the complex intersections of movement power and place in this important region over the last two centuries This book was originally published as a special issue of Central Asian Survey

Kyrgyzstan beyond "Democracy Island" and "Failing State" Johan Engvall, Marlene Laruelle, 2015-12-03 Kyrgyzstan is probably the best known of any central Asian country the one that has elicited the most academic publications reports by NGOs or advocacy groups and op eds in the media The country opened up massively to Western influence through development aid for civil society and for economic reforms faced two revolutions in 2005 and 2010 and experienced bloody interethnic conflict in 2010 Kyrgyzstan is therefore commonly studied as a twin case that of having been for more than two decades both an island of democracy in Central Asia and the only country of the region to have made the transition to a parliamentary regime and the archetypical example of a failing state one marked by endemic corruption criminalization of the state apparatus and collapse of public services This volume goes beyond these two clichés and provides a research based and unideological narrative on the country It identifies political dynamics their powerbrokers and the role of international organizations investigates the profound social transformations of both the rural and the urban worlds and examines the broad feeling by local actors that Kyrgyzstan's fragile state identity should be consolidated This book gives the floor to the new generation of scholars whose long term vernacular language field research made it possible to provide new interpretative prisms for the complex evolution of Kyrgyzstan Mapping the Media and Communication Landscape of Central Asia Elira Turdubaeva, Evangelia Papoutsaki, 2023-02-16 Central Asian post independence media and communication industries professional practices education persisting and evolving values and traditions remain critically understudied with a notable scarcity of research and scholarly publications on the complex and increasingly changing communicative ecology landscape of this region Mapping the Media and Communication Landscape of Central Asia An Anthology of Emerging and Contemporary Issues addresses this gap in literature by exploring analyzing and shedding light to the field practice research and critical inquiry of media and mass communication in four countries in Central Asia Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan Kazakhstan and Uzbekistan This book includes local authors as well as new and emerging researchers from this region to contextualize the issues explored and provide a supportive dialogue between different points of view

Public Governance Reviews Kazakhstan: Review of the Central Administration OECD, 2014-12-22 This review examines the functioning structure and organisation of the central government and line ministries in Kazakhstan as well as their capacities to implement national objectives and priorities outlined in the Kazakhstan s Vision 2050 Multination States in Asia Jacques Bertrand, Andre Laliberte, 2010-03-22 As countries in Asia try to create unified polities many face challenges from minority groups within their own borders seeking independence This volume brings together international experts on countries in all regions of Asia to debate how differently they have responded to this problem Why have some Asian countries for example clamped down on their national minorities in favour of homogeneity whereas others have been willing to accommodate statehood or at least some form of political autonomy Together they suggest broad patterns and explanatory factors that are rooted in the domestic arena including state structure and regime type as well as historical trajectories In particular they find that the paths to independence as well as the cultural elements that have been selected to define post colonial identities have decisively influenced state strategies State Erosion Lawrence P.

Markowitz, 2013-10-11 State failure is a central challenge to international peace and security in the post Cold War era Yet theorizing on the causes of state failure remains surprisingly limited In State Erosion Lawrence P Markowitz draws on his extensive fieldwork in two Central Asian republics Tajikistan where state institutions fragmented into a five year civil war from 1992 through 1997 and Uzbekistan which constructed one of the largest state security apparatuses in post Soviet Eurasia to advance a theory of state failure focused on unlootable resources rent seeking and unruly elites In Tajikistan Uzbekistan and other countries with low capital mobility where resources cannot be extracted concealed or transported to market without state intervention local elites may control resources but they depend on patrons to convert their resources into rents Markowitz argues that different rent seeking opportunities either promote the cooptation of local elites to the regime or incite competition over rents which in turn lead to either cohesion or fragmentation Markowitz distinguishes between weak states and failed states challenges the assumption that state failure in a country begins at the center and radiates outward and expands the resource curse argument to include cash crop economies where mechanisms of state failure differ from those involved in fossil fuels and minerals Broadening his argument to weak states in the Middle East Syria and Lebanon and Africa Zimbabwe and Somalia Markowitz shows how the distinct patterns of state failure in weak states with immobile capital can inform our understanding of regime change ethnic violence and security sector reform

Asian Thought on China's Changing International Relations Emilian Kavalski, 2014-08-05 At the end of the Cold War commentators were pondering how far Western ideas would spread today the debate seems to be how far Chinese ideas will reach This volume examines Chinese international relations thought and practices identifying the extent to which China's rise has provoked fresh geo strategic and intellectual shifts within Asia

Politicizing Islam in Central Asia Kathleen Collins, 2023-06-06 In Politicizing Islam in Central Asia Kathleen Collins explores the causes dynamics and variation in Islamist movements first within the USSR and then in the post Soviet states of Tajikistan Uzbekistan and Kyrgyzstan Drawing upon extensive ethnographic and historical research on Islamist mobilization across numerous post Soviet Central Asian countries she covers over a century and explains the strategies and relative success of each movement Collins argues that in each case state repression of Islam and ideology motivated and enabled Islamist mobilization Presidents, Oligarchs and Bureaucrats Margarete Klein,Hans-Henning Schröder,2016-04-08 Over the last decade the transition paradigm which is based on the conviction that authoritarian political systems would over time necessarily develop into democracies has been subjected to serious criticism The complex political and societal developments in the post Soviet region in particular have exposed flaws in the claim that a shift from authoritarianism to democracy is inevitable Using case studies from the post Soviet region a broad range of international contributors present an original and innovative contribution to the debate They explore the character of post Soviet regimes and review the political transformations they have experienced since the end of the Cold War Through a combination of theoretical approaches and detailed empirical analysis the authors highlight the difficulties and benefits of applying the concepts of hybrid regimes competitive authoritarianism and neopatrimonialism to the countries of the post Soviet space Through this in depth approach the authors demonstrate how Presidents Oligarchs and Bureaucrats in the region lead their countries examine the sources of their legitimacy and their relationship to the societies they govern and advance the general theoretical debate on regime change and transition paths Staying at Home Rita Sanders,2016-08-01 Despite economic growth in Kazakhstan more than 80 per cent of Kazakhstan s ethnic Germans have emigrated to Germany to date Disappointing experiences of the migrants along with other aspects of life in Germany have been transmitted through transnational networks to ethnic Germans still living in Kazakhstan Consequently Germans in Kazakhstan today feel more alienated than ever from their historic homeland This book explores the interplay of those memories social networks and state policies which play a role in the construction of a Kazakhstani German identity Regime Transition in Central Asia Dagikhudo Dagiev,2013-10-30 Presenting a study of regime transition political transformation and the challenges that faced the post Communist republics of Central Asia on independence this book focuses on the process of transition in Tajikistan and Uzbekistan and the obstacles that these newly independent states are facing in the post Communist period The book analyses how in the early stages of their independence the governments of Central Asia declared that they would build democratic states but that in practice they demonstrated that they are more inclined towards authoritarianism With the declaration of independence Tajikistan and Uzbekistan like many other former Soviet national republics were faced with the issues of nationalism ethnicity identity and territorial delimitation This book looks at how the discourse of patrimonial nationalism in post Communist Tajikistan and Uzbekistan has been the elites strategy to address all these issues to maintain the stateness of their respective countries to preserve the unity of their nation to fill the ideological void of post Communism to prevent the rise of Islam and to legitimize their authoritarian practice

Arguing against the claim that the Central Asian states have undergone divergent paths of transition the book discusses how they are in fact all authoritarian although exhibiting different degrees of authoritarianism This book provides a useful contribution to studies on Central Asian Politics and International Relations The Crisis of Russian Democracy Richard Sakwa,2010-12-16 The view that Russia has taken a decisive shift towards authoritarianism may be premature but there is no doubt that its democracy is in crisis In this original and dynamic analysis of the fundamental processes shaping contemporary Russian politics Richard Sakwa applies a new model based on the concept of Russia as a dual state Russia s constitutional state is challenged by an administrative regime that subverts the rule of law and genuine electoral competitiveness This has created a situation of permanent stalemate the country is unable to move towards genuine pluralist democracy but equally its shift towards full scale authoritarianism is inhibited Sakwa argues that the dual state could be transcended either by strengthening the democratic state or by the consolidation of the arbitrary power of the administrative system The future of the country remains open Political Islam in Central Asia Emmanuel Karagiannis,2009-12-04 The terrorist attacks in the United States on 9 11 and the U S led military campaign against the Taliban regime in Afghanistan have intensified scrutiny of radical Islamic groups across Central Asia This books offers one of the first comprehensive studies of the activities of one of the most feared but least understood international Islamist organizations in post Soviet Central Asia Hizb ut Tahrir that is The Party of Islamic Liberation By utilizing social movement theory the book analyses political Islam in Central Asia in general and the phenomenon of Hizb ut Tahrir in particular It reveals the critical role of its ideology based on a selective interpretation of Islamic theology and history in the party s recruiting success Using primary sources including the group s publications and documents official reports alongside interviews with scholars security experts mullahs journalists diplomats government officials and group members it covers the rise of political Islam in the post Soviet Central Asia alongside the origins and current status of Hizb ut Tahrir its leadership ideology political methodology and party structure and its rise in the region from Kazakhstan to Russia and China Although the organization has received less international examination partly because it has advocated a non violent approach toward its goals this book sketches its prospective future relationship to violence in this key region Urban Life in Post-Soviet Asia Catharine Alexander,Victor Buchli,Caroline Humphrey,2007-09-12 Introduction Catherine Alexander and Victor Buchli Astana materiality and the city Victor Buchli Almaty rethinking the public sector Catherine Alexander Tashkent three capitals three worlds Marfua Tokhtakhodzhaeva City of migrants contemporary Ulan Ude in the context of Russian migration Galina Manzanova The creation and revitalisation of ethnic sacred sites in Ulan Ude since 1990s A Hurelbaatar The homeless of Ulan Ude Irina Baldaeva New subjects and situated interdependence after privatisation in Ulan Ude Caroline Humphrey Index Central Asia in the Era of Sovereignty Daniel L. Burghart,Theresa Sabonis-Helf,2018-03-16 After twenty five years of independence there is little doubt that the five Central Asian states will persist as sovereign independent states They increasingly differ from each other and are making their way in global politics No longer connected only to Russia they are now connected in important ways to Afghanistan South Asia China Iran and each other This volume covers a wide range of issues and presents the work of emerging scholars authors well known for their expertise in the region The first part addresses social issues Covering a wide range from HIV AIDs to social media the rebirth of Islam outmigration and problematic borders this section follows two main currents political development in the region and states responses to transboundary challenges The second part addressing economics and security provides analyses of new infrastructure informal economies from bazaars to criminal networks energy development the role of enclaves in the Ferghana Valley and the development of the states military structures This section illuminates the interactions between economic developments and security and the forces that could undermine both The final part comprised of five case studies offers a deeper dive into a specific factor that matters in the development of each Central Asian state These cases include Kazakhstan s foreign policy identity Kyrgyzstan s domestic politics Tajikistan s pursuit of hydropower foreign direct investment in Turkmenistan and the perception of everyday corruption in Uzbekistan
