Publications in Chinese, 1644-1969 George William Skinner, Winston Hsieh, Shigeaki Tomita, 1973 The Columbia Guide to Modern Chinese History R. Keith Schoppa, 2000-08-05 China the world's oldest and most populous state remains an enigma to most people in the West even at a time when that country is playing an increasingly prominent role on the international stage At the heart of modern Chinese history have been the efforts of the Chinese people to transform their polity into a modern nation state the Confucian orthodoxy into an ideology that can help direct that process and an agrarian economy into an industrial one These efforts are ongoing and of great importance This book is both an introduction to the major features of modern Chinese history and a resource for researchers interested in virtually any topic relating to the Chinese experience of the last 220 years This valuable reference contains a historical narrative providing a comprehensive overview of five core aspects of Chinese history domestic politics society the economy the world of culture and thought and relations with the outside world a compendium of 250 short descriptive articles on key figures events and terms a resource guide containing approximately 500 annotated entries for the most authoritative sources for further research in English as well as descriptions of important films depicting modern China and a guide to electronic resources and appendices including a chronology excerpts from key primary source documents and a wealth of tables and graphs on demographic social and economic trends Area Bibliography of China Richard T. Wang, 1997 A combination of scholarly commercial and popular interests has generated a large quantity of literature on every aspect of Chinese life during the past two decades This bibliography reflects these combined interests it is broken up into sections by subject headings and cross references refer the researcher to related topics Modern Chinese Society: Skinner, G.W., ed. Modern Chinese Society: Skinner, G.W. and Hsieh, W., editors. Publications in Chinese, 1644-1969 ,1973 The Chinese migr s of Thailand in the Twentieth Century Disaphol Chansiri,2008 examines Thai Chinese relations dating back to the first Thai dynasty Sukhothai to the present Ratanakosin The study explores the Thai domestic policies that have affected the Chinese population since World War II and assimilation policies of the Thai government towards the Chinese This book also analyzes both Skinner s and Chan and Tong s arguments and their main idea in the context of the present day environment and situation for the ethnic Chinese This research supports the Skinnerian paradigm which asserts that a majority of the descendants of Chinese immigrants in each generation merge with Thai society and become indistinguishable from the indigenous population to the extent that fourth generation Chinese are practically non existent The validation of the Skinnerian paradigm rejects Chan and Tong s hypothesis which claims that Skinner has overemphasized the forces of assimilation and that the Chinese in Thailand have not assimilated but retained their Chinese identity To support Skinner s assertion and reject Chan and Tong s argument this book presents rich empirical data collected via surveys conducted with the ethnic Chinese in Thailand from 2003 2004 This study uncovers that the forces of assimilation occur at two levels On the first level the Chinese in Thailand possess natural attributes which facilitate social and cultural integration and assimilation into Thai society On the second level government pro assimilation policies driven by the bilateral relations between Thailand and China and the political situation in both countries are also responsible for the assimilation of the Chinese in Thailand As the most current in depth study on the Chinese in Thailand The Chinese migr s of Thailand in the Twentieth Century is a critical addition for all collections in Asian Studies as well as Ethnic and Immigrant Studies

Schools Into Fields and Factories

Ming K. Chan, Arif Dirlik, 1991 In this collaborative effort by two leading scholars of modern Chinese history Ming K Chan and Arif Dirlik investigate how the short lived National Labor University in Shanghai was both a reflection of the revolutionary concerns of its time and a catalyst for future radical experiments in education Under the slogan Turn schools into fields and factories fields and factories into schools the university attempted to bridge the gap between intellectual and manual labor which its founders saw as a central problem of capitalism and which remains a persistent theme in Chinese revolutionary thinking The authors bring to bear the perspectives of institutional and intellectual history on their examination of the structure and operation of the university presenting new material on its faculty curriculum physical plant and history They demonstrate how the prominent features and problems of Chinese higher education during the early years of the Guomindang regime prefigure the Marxist program of the Cultural Revolution and continue to have an influence on revolutionary thinking in the situation of China today Jacket
