Theology for a Nuclear Age Gordon D. Kaufman, 1985 The Making of American Liberal Theology Gary J. Dorrien, 2006-01-01 In this first of three volumes Dorrien identifies the indigenous roots of American liberal theology and demonstrates a wider longer running tradition than has been thought The tradition took shape in the nineteenth century motivated by a desire to map a modernist third way between orthodoxy and rationalistic deism atheism It is defined by its openness to modern intellectual inquiry its commitment to the authority of individual reason and experience its conception of Christianity as an ethical way of life and its commitment to make Christianity credible and socially relevant to modern people Dorrien takes a narrative approach and provides a biographical reading of important religious thinkers of the time including William E Channing Ralph Waldo Emerson Horace Bushnell Henry Ward Beecher Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Charles Briggs Dorrien notes that although liberal theology moved into elite academic institutions its conceptual foundations were laid in the pulpit rather than the classroom Nuclear Religion Joseph Murphy Ph.D. D.D., 2019-05-09 Dr Joseph Murphy was an Irish born naturalized American author and New Thought minister ordained in Divine Science and Religious Science In Nuclear Religion he states that your mindset allows you to be rich or be poor You think positive thoughts if you are a person with a lot of money or you come up with a lot of sorry excuses for not having as much as you desire It is all in the mind You can be a person who lives in a ditch or one who lives in a penthouse it is all up to you Forrester on Christian Ethics and Practical Theology Duncan B. Kimura, 2017-03-02

Neopragmatism and Theological Reason examines the recent explosion of interest in pragmatism Part I traces the source of classical pragmatism's distinctive thought to Peirce James and Dewey specifically to their shared theological understanding inherited from Emerson's Transcendentalism and British Romanticism Part II reconstructs this rationality for postmodernity showing how neopragmatism properly understood is theological reason Kimura discusses the return of religious themes in philosophers like Putnam Cavell and Rorty and critiques the neopragmatic theologies of West McFague and Kaufman Neopragmatism and Theological Reason explores pragmatic themes across philosophy theology and literary theory arguing that neopragmatism must acknowledge its theological sources and then reconstruct its rationality to the religious context of modernity postmodernity America's Nuclear Legacy Wayne D.
