Polemics For A New Cinema:

Polemics for a New Cinema Albie Thoms, 1978 The Palgrave Handbook of Experimental Cinema Kim Knowles, Jonathan Walley, 2024-09-04 This book is a collection of newly commissioned essays by established and emerging scholars that maps out the current landscape of experimental cinema studies and sets agendas for future work in the field. Introducing new critical methodologies and calling overdue attention to neglected artists, regions and topics, the contributions to this volume reassess and reassert experimental cinema as a site of formal exploration and interrogation as well as resistance to institutional, political and social norms. This collection articulates what it means for experimental cinema to be these things in the contemporary moment, staking out new directions in thinking about the subject not only as a growing sub-field of cinema studies but as an artistic and scholarly tradition in dialogue with art history, visual culture, philosophy and the sciences. The contributions reflect a diversity of voices and perspectives, weaving together theoretical, poetic and personal modes of writing and traversing questions of form, emotion, materiality, nationality, postcoloniality, the body and ecology.

The Cinema of Australia and New Zealand Geoff Mayer, Keith Beattie, 2007 From The Story of the Kelly Gang in 1906 to The Lord of the Rings trilogy, Australia and New Zealand have made a unique impact on international cinema. This book celebrates the commercially successful narrative feature films produced by these cultures as well as key documentaries, shorts and independent films. It also invokes issues involving national identity, race, history and the ability of two small film cultures to survive the economic and cultural threat of Hollywood. Chapters on well-known films and directors such as The Year of Living Dangerously (Peter Weir, 1982), The Piano (Jane Campion, 1993), Fellowship of the Ring (Peter Jackson, 2001) and Rabbit-Proof Fence (Philip Noyce, 2002) are included, with less popular but equally important films and filmmakers such as Jedda (Charles Chauvel, 1955), They're a Weird Mob (Michael Powell, 1966), Vigil (Vincent Ward, 1984) and The Goddess (Clara Law, 2000). The A to Z of Australian and New Zealand Cinema Albert Moran, Errol Vieth, 2009-07-21 Whether it was Jane Campion's The Piano, Mel Gibson in Mad Max, Paul Hogan in Crocodile Dundee or The Lord of the Rings saga, we have all experienced the cinema of Australia and New Zealand. This book is an introduction and guide to the film of Australia and New Zealand. With entries on many exceptional producers, directors, writers and actors as well as the films indicated above and many others, this reference also presents the early pioneers, the film companies and government bodies and much more. In its hundreds of cross-referenced dictionary entries, through a chronology that shows how far these cinemas have come in a short time, and an introduction that presents them more broadly, a clear portrait of the two countries' motion pictures emerges. The bibliography is an excellent source for further reading. Directory of World Cinema: Australia and New Zealand Ben Goldsmith, Geoff Lealand, 2010-12-15 This addition to Intellect's Directory of World Cinema series turns the spotlight on Australia and New Zealand and offers an in-depth and exciting look at the cinema produced in these two countries since the turn of the twentieth century. Though the two nations share considerable cultural and economic connections, their film industries remain distinct marked by differences of scale level of government involvement and funding and relations with other countries and national cinemas Through essays about prominent genres and themes profiles of directors and comprehensive reviews of significant titles this user friendly guide explores the diversity and distinctiveness of films from Australia and New Zealand from Whale Rider to The Piano to Wolf Creek Desires for Reality Benjamin Halligan,2016-02-01 As with many aspects of European cultural life film was galvanized and transformed by the revolutionary fervor of 1968 This groundbreaking study provides a full account of the era s cinematic crises innovations and provocations as well as the social and aesthetic contexts in which they appeared The author mounts a genuinely fresh analysis of a contested period in which everything from the avant garde experiments of Godard Pasolini Schroeter and Fassbinder to the low cinematic genres of horror pornography and the Western reflected the cultural upheaval of youth in revolt a cinema for the barricades The Films of Paul Morrissey Maurice Yacowar,1993-05-28 The Films of Paul Morrissey is the first appraisal of one of the major figures of American independent cinema An innovator in the narrative cinema that emerged from Andy Warhol s Factory Morrissey as established in this study was also the force who shaped the most important films that have heretofore been attributed to Warhol The director s experiments in the use of non professional actors controversial subject matter and language are demonstrated through analysis of his most accomplished achievements including Mixed Blood 40 Deuce and Spike of Bensonhurst The Films of Paul Morrissey furthermore reveals the director s challenge to the moral social and political values of contemporary liberalism Historical Dictionary of Australian and New Zealand Cinema Karina Aveyard,Albert Moran,Errol Vieth,2017-12-26 Filmmakers have honed their skills and many have achieved critical and popular success at home and abroad as have actors and other crew American filmmakers and companies have found it cheaper to make films in Australia because wages and salaries are lower tax rebates have been attractive and the expertise in most areas of filmmaking is comparable to that of anywhere in the world At the same time Australian audiences still enjoy watching Australian films making some of them profitable even if this is a small profit when considered in Hollywood terms New Zealand filmmakers cast and crew have shown that they are equal to the world s best in making films with international themes while other films have shown that the world is interested in New Zealand narratives and settings Increased support for Maori filmmakers and stories has had a significant impact on production levels and on the diversity of stories that now reach the screen It has also helped create more viable career paths for those who continue to be based in their home country This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Australian and New Zealand Cinema contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 700 cross referenced entries on leading films as well as many directors writers actors and producers It also covers early pioneers film companies genres and government bodies Hollywood and the Culture Elite Peter Decherney,2005 Peter Decherney explores how the concerns of intellectuals and the needs of Hollywood studio heads led to the development of a mutually beneficial relationship during Hollywood's Golden Age 1915-1960 During this period museums, universities, and government agencies used films to maintain their position as quintessential American institutions transforming movies into an art form and making moviegoing a vital civic institution Decherney's history features an intriguing cast of characters including the poet Vachel Lindsay, film producers Adolph Zukor and Joseph Kennedy, Hollywood flak Will Hays, and philanthropist Nelson Rockefeller He shows how Columbia and Harvard started film studies programs in the 1910s and 1920s to remake American education and American culture And he shows how the Museum of Modern Art, the U.S. Office of War Information, and the National Endowment for the Arts worked with Hollywood to fight fascism and communism and to promote American values abroad Hollywood and the Culture Elite offers a unique glimpse into the collaboration between Hollywood and the stewards of high culture to ensure their own survival and profitability

The State and New Cinema in Contemporary India Sudha Tiwari, 2023-09-11 This book examines the relationship between the newly independent Indian state and its New Cinema movement It looks at state formative practices articulating themselves as cultural policy It presents an institutional history of the Film Finance Corporation (FFC), later the National Film Development Corporation (NFDC), and their patronage of the New Cinema in India from the 1960s to the 1990s, bringing into focus an extraordinary but neglected cultural moment in Indian film history and in the history of contemporary India The chapters not only document the artistic pursuit of cinema but also the emergence of a larger field where the market, political inclinations of the Indian state, and the more complex determinants of culture intersect how the New Cinema movement faced external challenges from the industrial lobby and politicians as well as experienced deep rifts from within It also shows how the Emergency, the Janata Party regime, economic liberalization, and the opening of airwaves all left their impact on the New Cinema The volume will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of film studies, politics, and public policy, especially cultural policy, media, and culture studies, and South Asian studies
