Polish Music Literature:

Polish Music Literature (1515-1990) Kornel Michałowski, 1991 Polish Music Literature (1515-1990) Kornel Michałowski, 1991 The Symphony and Symphonic Thinking in Polish Music Since 1956 Beata Bolesławska, 2019-05-22

1956 was a year of transition in Poland and an important year for Polish music. This year saw the beginning of a political thaw sometimes called the Polish October in communist Poland. It was also the year of the establishment of the Warsaw Autumn International Festival of Contemporary Music. This was a time of great artistic ferment in Polish music which also deeply influenced symphonic thinking. The year 1956 is thus an appropriate starting point for Beata Bolesławska's study of the contemporary Polish symphonic tradition. Bolesławska investigates the influential Polish avant garde illuminating the ways in which new musical means and ideas influenced symphonic music and the genre of the symphony in the music of such important composers as Witold Lutosławski 1913-1994, Henryk Mikolaj Górecki 1933-2010 and Krzysztof Penderecki b. 1933. Referring to the main elements of the European tradition as well as examining briefly the symphonic activity in Poland before 1956, the book concentrates on the symphonic writing in the context of avant garde trends represented by the so-called Polish school of composers as well as on its later redefinitions proposed by Polish composers up to the present day.

Polish Music since Szymanowski Adrian Thomas, 2008-02-01. This book looks at Polish music since 1937 and its interaction with political and cultural turmoil. In Part I musical developments are placed in the context of the socio-political upheavals of inter-war Poland, Nazi occupation and the rise and fall of the Stalinist policy of socialist realism. 1948-54. Part II investigates the nature of the thaw between 1954 and 1959, focusing on the role of the Warsaw Autumn Festival. Part III discusses how composers reacted to the onset of serialism by establishing increasingly individual voices in the 1960s. In addition to a discussion of sonorism from Penderecki to Szalonek, it considers how different generations responded to the modernist aesthetic. Bacewicz and Lutosławski, Baird and Seroocki, Górecki and Krauze. Part IV views Polish music since the 1970s, including the issue of national identity and the arrival of a talented generation and its ironic postmodern slant on the past.

A Romantic Century in Polish Music Maja Trochimczyk, 2009-12-09. This volume brings together a series of essays on some of the less-known aspects of music culture in Poland in the 19th century. Eight studies are presented chronologically, including such topics as careers of women composers, Karol Lipinski's concert tours and violins, Henryk Wieniawski, Polish reception of Wagner, images of composers by Polish music critics, Ignacy Jan Paderewski and Feliks Nowowiejski. Authors based in Poland, Germany and the U.S. include eminent scholars specializing in Polish music of the 19th and 20th centuries: Magdalena Dziadek, Maria Zduniak, Martina Homma, Krzysztof Rottermund, Krzysztof Szatrawski and Maja Trochimczyk.

Musical Life in Poland Lidia Rappoport-Gelfand, 2025-09-01. Never in the history of Polish music has there been a period like the one that followed World War II. History of Poland ,1926 The Depiction of Poland and Poles in The Daily Telegraph, 2007-2010 Dorota Kokowicz, 2019-01-17 A country s distinct image is directly related to its recognisability in the international arena and as a result greater potential for influencing other countries and global affairs more effectively In fact a country s image exerts an effect not only on the perception of this country abroad but also on attitudes to whatever concerns the country its products services and places as well as its residents This book explores the image of Poland as constituted by articles published in the online version of The Daily Telegraph from 2007 to 2010 Therefore this investigation answers the questions of how one of the most influential British newspapers was depicting a certain section of the Polish reality and consequently of the elements that were usually foregrounded and of the way in which they were presented to the readers Firmly grounded in the context of an outline of PR measures adopted by the Polish administration in the years 2007-2010 the study also indicates the extent to which the image of Poland as portrayed in the online version of the British newspaper reflected the Polish government s PR objectives of that time
