Political Elites Carl Beck, J. Thomas McKechnie, 2003-02 A diverse collection of studies on political elites drawn from anthropology sociology political science history economics social psychology psychology psychiatry and the humanities Political Elites Frank Bonilla, 1968 1968 Annual Supplement John B. Simeone, Alfred de Grazia, Carl E. Martinson, 2013-12-01 Leadership in East European Communism, 1945-1970 R. Barry Farrell, 2017-07-05 Fifteen eminent social scientists from North America and Eastern Europe met under the auspices of Northwestern University's Comparative Politics Program to discuss the significance and characteristics of changes in political leadership in Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union since World War II The presentations at the conference were edited and re written following the discussion They are incorporated into this comprehensive analysis of political leadership in European communist countries since World War II This volume is divided up into four parts and fourteen different chapters Part One examines the theoretical questions of leadership in European socialist countries Part Two provides a factual perspective including contemporary quantitative data and biographical analysis Part Three discusses the interaction of the leadership and society Jan Triska's concluding overview relates specific chapters to the informal discussions at the conference Some of the notable contributions include Historical Development of the Communist Theory of Leadership Alfred G Meyer The Theory of Political Leadership and the Issue of Totalitarianism Carl J Friedrich Marxist Theories of Leadership and Bureaucracy Andras Hegedus Trends in Top Political Leadership in USSR Frederick C Barghoorn Representation of Career Types in Soviet Political Leadership Frederic Fleron The Soviet Apparatchiki Michael P Gehlen Leadership in East European Communism 1945 1970 is essential reading for students of comparative politics and the politics of East European socialist countries and the Soviet Union Community Leadership in Maryland, 1790-1840 Whitman H. Ridgway, 2018-07-11 American democracy has fascinated generations of historians They have probed its philosophical foundations and the structure of its institutions but their studies reveal little about those who really wielded power in the formative years of the republic Employing a sophisticated research design Whitman Ridgway examines the changing leadership patterns in four diverse communities in Maryland from 1790 to 1840 The results indicate clearly the need to study the American democratic process at the local level Ridgway selected Baltimore City Frederick St Marys and Talbot counties representing the underlying economic and cultural diversity of one political culture Maryland to evaluate who governed how these patterns differed from one community to another and how such patterns changed over time The research design defines the scope of the study Ridgway uses the decisional method of analysis determining who actually made decisions in order to identify the political leaders His extensive research in manuscript and newspaper collections tax and census data and religious and genealogical records gathered information on some 1 300 persons This study of community power illuminates facets of a democratic society which perplexed Alexis de Tocqueville over a century ago Ridgway demonstrates that despite the expansion of popular participation in political affairs

the influence of the wealthy continued to be significant He shows also how leaders without benefit of wealth or social ties to the oligarchies were able to enter community decision making In a more modern context this important book adds to the literature in several ways Its greatest contribution is methodological no longer can historians talk about power relationships without studying them directly The work also compares two important periods the first and second party eras normally treated in isolation and through this comparison it reveals much about democracy egalitarianism and power Originally published 1979 A UNC Press Enduring Edition UNC Press Enduring Editions use the latest in digital technology to make available again books from our distinguished backlist that were previously out of print These editions are published unaltered from the original and are presented in affordable paperback formats bringing readers both historical and cultural value

This Changing World Foreign Service Institute (U.S.). Center for Area and Country Studies,1970 Patterns of Political Elite Mobility in Modern China, 1912-1949 Wenhui Cai,1983 Political Leadership in Korea Dae-Sook Suh,Chae-Jin Lee,2014-05-01 Included in this volume are studies of the traditional leadership of the Yi dynasty as well as twentieth century legislative party and bureaucratic leadership and an evaluation of views of political leaders in South Korea as well as two studies of the Communist system in North Korea The Library Catalogs of the Hoover Institution on War, Revolution, and Peace, Stanford University Hoover Institution on War, Revolution, and Peace,1969 Technology and Civic Life: Making and Implementing Development Decisions John Dickey Montgomery,1974 Monograph on the relationship between technological change and social change particularly in the context of developing countries undergoing industrialization covers social participation in modernization social implications of economic development etc and includes some decision making issues involved in resource allocation for development purposes References
