Political Thinking Of The Indonesian Chinese 1900-1995 Second Edition:

Political Thinking of the Indonesian Chinese, 1900-1995 Leo Suryadinata, 1997 This sourcebook aims to introduce to English readers the political thinking of the Chinese minority in Indonesia spanning almost a century from 1900-1995. Comprising the writings, speeches, letters, and memoirs of Indonesian Chinese leaders or individuals who have been significant in the development of Chinese minority thinking in Indonesia, translated from Peranakan Malay, Indonesian Chinese, or Dutch, this volume thus presents the voices of eminent Indonesian Chinese. This updated and expanded edition of the book, first published in 1979, includes several new articles of material bringing post-1997 developments up to date significantly till 1995, the year of the Bali Declaration when the Chinese tycoons were asked to help solve the Indonesian economic problem.

Political Participation and Ethnic Minorities Amy L. Freedman, 2002-05-03 First published in 2000, Routledge is an imprint of Taylor & Francis, an information company.

Catholics in Independent Indonesia: 1945-2010 Karel Steenbrink, 2015-05-12 Catholics in Independent Indonesia, 1945-2010, concludes Steenbrink's three-volume historical account of Catholicism in Indonesia with a detailed report of the survival and growth of this minority religion in Muslim Indonesia since its independence in 1945. Colonial Catholicism survived in the independent Republic of Indonesia during the nationalist Sukarno regime, 1945-1965, and regained a new dynamic during the general religious revival that was part of the New Order of Soeharto after 1965. From a Dutch-inspired institution, it became a fully Indonesian-steered community with a modern and international character. The second half of the book will deal with the different regional developments in this vast country.

Racism and Public Policy Y. Bangura, R. Stavenhagen, 2005-04-05 In a time when racism is on the rise as a source of conflict and social justice has been increasingly demanded by the civic society, this collection stands as a timely reminder that to ignore the racial factor in the globalization forces is as mistaken as eliminating class analysis. The essays published here supplement the literature of comparative race relations from the standpoint of the theory of institutional racism and its effect on public policies such as immigration, citizenship, security, and policing.

Intercultural dialogue across borders : China between tradition and modernity Jens Damm, Hauke Neddermann, 2020-01-01 This issue of the Chinese History and Society deals with cultural exchanges between China and the outside world and with their impact, mostly in terms of questions regarding tradition and modernity. China is understood more as an area composed of certain cultural elements which may include the Chinese and Taiwanese diaspora, where a sense of belonging still exists and which exerts influence on everyday culture and habits.

Shari'a, Citizenship, and Identity in Aceh Arskal Salim, Moch. Nur Ichwan, Eka Srimulyani, Marzi Afriko, 2025-05-15 Shari'a, Citizenship, and Identity in Aceh presents both an ethnographic and a sociohistorical account of identity making among both the Muslim majority population and different minority groups in Aceh, Indonesia. Diverging from previous studies on majority-minority group relations in a predominantly Muslim country that tend to engage solely with one group's experiences, Shari'a, Citizenship, and Identity in Aceh argues that the majority and minority groups in Aceh Indonesia have interactively and mutually created conceptions of identity and recognition that have significant implications on the experience of citizenship in the region The authors provide not only a narrative of majority minority group encounters in a variety of issues but also a wide ranging account of struggles from both the Muslim majority and non Muslim minority groups for recognition of their own identity in the public space To what extent do minority groups feel that they belong to Aceh s communal identity which is mostly Islamic And what kind of citizenship is in place when minorities feel marginalized living under Aceh s Islamic rules Shari a Citizenship and Identity in Aceh debunks the concept of citizenship by way of deploying the concept of the politics of recognition against the politics of the dominant culture theory It looks further at how equal citizenship in a democratic political system has been negotiated and compromised and how the politics of dominant culture has caused a sense of shared ownership to be largely deficient and vague in Aceh

Chinese Among Others Philip A. Kuhn, 2009-09-16 This book tells the remarkable worldwide story of Chinese emigration since the sixteenth century a process that is integral to the history of state and society in China Distinguished historian Philip A Kuhn explores the creative opportunism that has allowed Chinese migrants to adapt to different environments around the world The various human ecologies they confronted presented Chinese settlers with diverse challenges and opportunities in the colonial and postcolonial states of Southeast Asia in the settler societies of the Americas and Australasia and in Europe And post revolutionary China today presents fresh opportunities for emigrants to leverage their expatriate status to do business with a homeland eager for their investments donations and technologies

The Politics of Multiculturalism Robert W. Hefner, 2001-08-31 Few challenges to the modern dream of democratic citizenship appear greater than the presence of severe ethnic religious and linguistic divisions in society With their diverse religions and ethnic communities the Southeast Asian countries of Malaysia Singapore and Indonesia have grappled with this problem since achieving independence after World War II Each country has on occasion been torn by violence over the proper terms for accommodating pluralism Until the Asian economic crisis of 1997 however these nations also enjoyed one of the most sustained economic expansions the non Western world has ever seen This timely volume brings together fifteen leading specialists of the region to consider the impact of two generations of nation building and market making on pluralism and citizenship in these deeply divided Asian societies Examining the new face of pluralism from the perspective of markets politics gender and religion the studies show that each country has developed a strikingly different response to the challenges of citizenship and diversity The contributors most of whom come Southeast Asia pay particular attention to the tension between state and societal approaches to citizenship They suggest that the achievement of an effectively participatory public sphere in these countries will depend not only on the presence of an independent civil society but on a synergy of state and society that nurtures a public culture capable of mediating ethnic religious and gender divides The Politics of Multiculturalism will be of special interest to students of Southeast Asian history and society anthropologists grappling with questions of citizenship and culture political scientists studying democracy across cultures and all readers concerned with the prospects for civility and tolerance in a multicultural world The Politics of the Periphery in Indonesia John H. Walker, Glenn Banks, Minako Sakai, 2009-01-01 The Politics of the Periphery in Indonesia is a thought provoking examination of local politics and the dynamics of power at Indonesia's geographic and social margins After the fall of Suharto in 1998 and the introduction of a policy of decentralization in 2001 local stakeholders secured and consolidated decision making power and set about negotiating new relations with Jakarta The volume deals with power struggles and local national tensions looking among other things at resource control the historical roots of regional identity politics and issues relating to Chinese Indonesians The authors develop information in ways that transcend the post colonial territorial boundaries of Indonesia in the Malay Indonesian archipelago and use case studies to show how the changes described have galvanized Indonesian politics at the cultural and geographical peripheries New Nation-States and National Minorities Julien Danero Iglesias, Nenad Stojanović, Sharon Weinblum, 2013-03-01 The twentieth century saw the emergence of new states shaped on the classic nation state model How has this model been moulded and implemented What have been the implications for minorities in these new nation states And how have minorities responded to nationalising processes Following a discussion by Rogers Brubaker of his concept of nationalising state contributions to this volume examine the dynamic relations between national minorities and nation states established in the course of the last century including Ukraine Moldova Turkey Malaysia and Israel This book's original theoretical framework and comparative approach offer a new understanding of the complex interactions between the formulation of a state identity and the aspirations of those who do not fit in the proclaimed core nation In light of recent developments in notably Ukraine and Israel this book is essential reading for all those interested in the rights and protection of national minorities and more broadly in the debates over the definition of the polity in a tense environment
