Baker, 1996 A Comprehensive Guide to Railway Request Stops Anthony Hart, 2022-03-10 Rail By Request is an enthusiast's personal story and tells how the author visited photographed and spent time at every request stop on mainland Britain It also explains where his love of railways is rooted why he began this odyssey and how it became a very different and important experience to him Journeying across the whole railway map to capture these often ignored stops not just for posterity but for the journey The lure of request stops and the practicalities of completing the journey to discover them is the core of the story Researching every request stop in Britain and planning how to get there and overcoming any difficulties became a source of great satisfaction Every stop is described and has at least one illustration Some historical context to the stops is included with current statistics The story also shows how he ticked off each stop but unexpectedly found himself passing the time engaged in a form of railwayana mindfulness allowing the world to rush past whilst being alive in the moment It shows a calmer slower world does exist

Railways in Devon and Cornwall in the Late 20th Century Peter J Green,2025-11-30 Devon and Cornwall have long been attractive destinations not only for holidaymakers but also for railway enthusiasts and it was in Devon during a family holiday in 1959 that the author s passion for railways began Peter started photographing railways at an early age mainly concentrating on steam but he made some visits to Devon in the 1970s to see the Western Class diesel hydraulics running along the coast They were being replaced by Class 50 diesel electrics at the time More time was spent in Devon in the 1970s and early 1980s photographing preserved railways as well as the modern scene and an Easter visit to Goodrington became a regular event for several years The 1986 West of England resignalling scheme provided a good reason for a further series of visits to Devon to record the mechanical signal boxes semaphore signalling and associated equipment before it all disappeared The first of the author s many trips to Cornwall was in the summer of 1984 when he spent ten days attempting to photograph the entire Cornish railway system Although an impossible task the Class 37s on the china clay operations as well as all the Peaks Class 47s and 50s on the main lines ensured an enjoyable time Here with the help of other contributors the author has attempted to assemble a comprehensive photographic record of the railways in the two counties in the late 20th Century

Class 50 Diesels Peter Green,2022-05-05 A gallery of spectacular photos celebrating the history of these popular locomotives of the late twentieth century Peter J Green first photographed Class 50 diesels in action in 1975 while they were still being transferred from the London Midland to the Western Region of British Rail But it was in the early 1980s when they were named and painted in Large Logo livery that his interest in the class really took off For Peter they stood out from most other locomotives that were painted in the rather drab Rail Blue livery The sound of the locomotives particularly when running at speed was also very impressive producing shouts of 50 from waiting photographers even before the train was in sight The class became a particular target for his railway photography and many of his trips were made with them in mind They regularly worked trains around his hometown of Worcester so if he did not want to go too far it was easy to find a satisfactory subject at which to point his camera Before their withdrawal in the late 1980s and early 1990s they were used on many rail tours which always provided good photographic opportunities Today with many of the class working on heritage railways and a number of privately owned locomotives registered for main line use there is still plenty to keep his cameras occupied A selection of Peter s best photos of the Class 50 diesels taken over a period of forty five years appear in these pages

The World's First Railway System Mark Casson,2009-09-10 This is the first history of the British railway system written from a modern economic perspective It uses conterfactual analysis to construct an alternative network to represent the most efficient alternative rail network that could have been constructed given what was known at the time the first time this has been done
