Religion Interpretation And Diversity Of Belief:

Religion, Interpretation, and Diversity of Belief Terry F. Godlove, 1997 Often different religious traditions offer very different pictures of the world In fact religions are so fascinating partly because they present alternative pictures of the nature of time space persons food community life death and so on How are we to make sense of this radical diversity of belief The most common response is to say that religions are alternative conceptual frameworks or schemes whose categories organize experience in sometimes diverse ways On this view of the framework model of religious belief we cannot map religious frameworks onto a single comprehensive grid because they themselves function as the maps In this sense the Buddhist and Baptist are sometimes said to live in different worlds Religion Interpretation and Diversity of Belief traces the history of the framework model from Kant to Durkheim and then argues for its replacement Rather than seeing religions as all encompassing grids we must recognize that they themselves are constrained in at least two unavoidable ways first by the formal rules that make human experience possible at all and second by the fact that as language users we must presuppose that we hold the vast bulk of our beliefs in common Given these constraints we can then see religious differences however dramatic as relatively limited and largely theoretical The framework model is deeply entrenched in those disciplines central to the study of religion especially so in philosophy sociology anthropology psychology and theology The negative thrust of this is to suggest this allegiance needs to be reconsidered Positively the book sketches a picture of linguistic interpretation on which our differences religious or otherwise stand out against the background of what we have in common

Radical Interpretation in Religion Nancy Frankenberry, 2002-09-19 Publisher Description Religion: A Humanist Interpretation Raymond Firth, 2013-04-15 Religion A Humanist Interpretation represents a lifetime s work on the anthropology of religion from a rather unusual personal viewpoint Raymond Firth treats religion as a human art capable of great intellectual and artistic achievements but also of complex manipulation to serve the human interests of those who believe in it and operate it His study is comparative drawing material from a range of religions around the world Its findings are a challenge to established beliefs This anthropological approach to the study of religion covers themes ranging from religious belief and personal adjustment gods and God offering and sacrifice religion and politics Malay magic and spirit mediumship truth and paradox in religion

Freedom of Religion and Religious Diversity Md Jahid Hossain Bhuiyan, Ann Black, 2024-08-23 Today pluralism is increasingly the norm and can be seen as a permanent characteristic of modernity As seen in world events religion has not become irrelevant but more diverse giving rise to a complex web of religion and belief minorities together with intra plural majorities Nations seek ways to implement the ideal of freedom of religion but as this book shows whether East or West in the global North or the South there is no simple formalism for accommodating religious diversity Different faith communities have competing needs and demands for the same social space with tensions inevitably arising This book highlights responses from liberal democracies which enshrine secularism into their constitutions to other constitutions where religion and ethnic identity are enshrined to prioritise their ethno religious majority Western and Asian countries encounter different obstacles and challenges With analysis from 19 international scholars the book explores different obstacles and responses to accommodation of religious minorities in a range of jurisdictions In a globalised world it will be invaluable for comparative legal scholars for law and religion scholars researchers and students and decision makers e g governments non governmental organisations and for those who seek to better understand the challenges of our time

The Oxford Handbook of Religious Diversity Chad V. Meister, 2011 This substantial volume of thirty three original chapters covers the full range of issues in religious diversity An indispensable guide for scholars and students its essays make novel contributions and are crafted by recognized experts who represent a wide variety of religious and philosophical perspectives and backgrounds

Interculturality, Rationality and Dialogue Carlos Miguel Gómez, 2012-04-10 This work is a philosophical investigation into the argumentative conditions for intercultural dialogue in Latin America Through a critical discussion of some key theories of argumentation and intercultural dialogue and a thoughtful analysis of the Latin American context of diversity this book develops an intercultural model of argumentation based on the criteria of Intercultural Reasonableness and Discursive Interpellation These criteria which have a contextual and dialogical character aim to offer the appropriate normative ground for a polylogical argumentative dialogue in which the parties can make use of their own types of language and rationality without presupposing a common standard for the rational evaluation of arguments

Encountering Religious Pluralism Harold Netland, 2001-08-14 Harold Netland traces the emergence of the pluralistic ethos that challenges Christian faith and mission interacting heavily with philosopher John Hick and providing a framework for developing a comprehensive evangelical theology of religions

Philosophy and the Study of Religions Kevin Schilbrack, 2014-03-03 Philosophy and the Study of Religions A Manifesto advocates a radical transformation of the discipline from its current narrow focus on questions of God to a fully global form of critical reflection on religions in all their variety and dimensions Opens the discipline of philosophy of religion to the religious diversity that characterizes the world today Builds bridges between philosophy of religion and the other interpretative and explanatory approaches in the field of religious studies Provides a manifesto for a global approach to the subject that is a practice centred rather than a belief centred activity Gives attention to reflexive critical studies of religion as socially constructed and historically located

An Analysis of Religious Belief John Russell Amberley (viscount), 1876

The Possibility of Discussion Hugo Strandberg, 2016-03-03 Answering the question How is fruitful discussion possible this book addresses the central philosophical issue of how reason shall be understood and how it is limited This study argues that the understanding of discussion according to which it necessarily starts from putative universal norms and rules for argumentation is problematic among other reasons since such rules are unfruitful in contexts where there are vast disagreements such as religion Inspired by Wittgensteinian ideas Strandberg develops instead a new way of understanding discussion truth and rationality which escapes these problems and shows how this solution can be used to answer the accusation against Wittgensteinian philosophy for being conservative and resulting in fideism
