Religion In Ancient Etruria Wisconsin Studies In Classics:

Religion in Ancient Etruria Jean-René Jannot, 2005 This timely volume embraces and interprets the increasingly broad and deep canon of life narratives by African Americans The contributors discover and recover neglected lives texts and genres enlarge the wide range of critical methods used by scholars to study these works and expand the understanding of autobiography to encompass photography comics blogs and other modes of self expression This book also examines at length the proliferation of African American autobiography in the twenty first century noting the roles of digital genres remediated lives celebrity lives self help culture non Western religious traditions and the politics of adoption The life narratives studied range from an eighteenth century criminal narrative a 1918 autobiography and the works of Richard Wright to new media graphic novels and a celebrity memoir from Pam Grier

Religious Architecture in Latium and Etruria, C. 900-500 BC Charlotte Rose Potts, 2015 Religious Architecture in Latium and Etruria c 900 500 BC presents the first comprehensive treatment of cult buildings in western central Italy from the Iron Age to the Archaic Period By analysing the archaeological evidence for the form of early religious buildings and their role in ancient communities it reconstructs a detailed history of early Latial and Etruscan religious architecture that brings together the buildings and the people who used them

The Economy of Roman Religion Andrew Wilson, Nick Ray, Angela Trentacoste, 2023-06-07 This interdisciplinary edited volume presents twelve papers by Roman historians and archaeologists discussing the interconnected relationship between religion and the Roman economy over the period c 500 BC to AD 350 The connection between Roman religion and the economy has largely been ignored in work on the Roman economy but this volume explores the many complex ways in which economic and religious thinking and activities were interwoven from individuals to institutions The broad geographic and chronological scope of the volume engages with a notable variety of evidence epigraphic archaeological historical papyrological and zooarchaeological In addition to providing case studies that draw from the rich archaeological documentary and epigraphic evidence the volume also explores the different and sometimes divergent pictures offered by these sources from discrepancies in the cost of religious buildings to the tensions between piety and ostentatious donation The edited collection thus bridges economic social and religious themes The volume provides a view of a society in which religion had a central role in economic activity on an institutional to individual scale The volume allows an evaluation of impact of that activity from both financial and social viewpoints providing a new perspective on Roman religion a perspective to which a wide range of archaeological and documentary evidence from animal bone to coins and building costs has contributed As a result this volume not only provides new information on the economy of Roman religion it also proposes new ways of looking at existing bodies of evidence

Continuity and Change in Etruscan Domestic Architecture Paul M. Miller, 2017-04-30 Etruscan architecture underwent various changes between the later Iron Age and the Archaic period This book reconsiders these changes by focusing on the building materials and techniques used in the construction of domestic structures

The

Codrus Painter Amalia Avramidou, 2011-01-06 The Codrus Painter was a painter of cups and vases in fifth century B C E Athens with a distinctive style he is named after Codrus a legendary Athenian king depicted on one of his most characteristic vases He was active as an artist during the rule of Pericles as the Parthenon was built and then as the troubled times of the Peloponnesian War began In contrast to the work of fellow artists of his day the vases of the Codrus Painter appear to have been created almost exclusively for export to markets outside Athens and Greece especially to the Etruscans in central Italy and to points further west Amalia Avramidou offers a thoroughly researched amply illustrated study of the Codrus Painter that also comments on the mythology religion arts athletics and daily life of Greece depicted on his vases She evaluates his style and the defining characteristics of his own hand and of the minor painters associated with him Examining the subject matter figure types and motifs on the vases she compares them with sculptural works produced during the same period Avramidou's iconographic analysis not only encompasses the cultural milieu of the Athenian metropolis but also offers an original and intriguing perspective on the adoption meaning and use of imported Attic vases among the Etruscans Archiv für Religionsgeschichte, 2007

Imperium and Cosmos Paul Rehak, 2009-05-20 Caesar Augustus promoted a modest image of himself as the first among equals princeps a characterization that was as popular with the ancient Romans as it is with many scholars today Paul Rehak argues against this impression of humility and suggests that like the monarchs of the Hellenistic age Augustus sought immortality an eternal glory gained through deliberate planning for his niche in history while flexing his existing power Imperium and Cosmos focuses on Augustus's Mausoleum and Ustrinum site of his cremation the Horologium Solarium a colossal sundial and the Ara Pacis Altar to Augustan Peace all of which transformed the northern Campus Martius into a tribute to his major achievements in life and a vast memorial for his deification after death Rehak closely examines the artistic imagery on these monuments providing numerous illustrations tables and charts In an analysis firmly contextualized by a thorough discussion of the earlier models and motifs that inspired these Augustan monuments Rehak shows how the princeps used these on such an unprecedented scale as to truly elevate himself above the common citizen Etruscan Italy John Franklin Hall, 1996 Livy describes the Etruscans as filling the whole of ancient Italy with their power and influence While Etruscan rule throughout large parts of the Italian peninsula endured for but a few centuries Etruscan influence was so extensive that in some respects it continues into the present Outside the Etruscan heartland Rome itself was perhaps the best preserver of things Etruscan The fourteen essays comprising this volume explore Etruscan Italy and examine the influence exerted by Etruscan civilization upon the cultures of Italy in Roman and post Roman times Represented are contributions from various disciplines which converge to employ multiple methodologies in a comprehensive approach to delineating the enduring themes of Etruscan Italy

Some Organic Readings in Narrative, Ancient and Modern: Gathered and originally presented as a book for John Ian Repath, Fritz-Gregor Herrmann, 2019-10-01 This volume in honour of John Morgan contains seventeen essays by colleagues research students and post doctoral researchers who have worked with and been influenced by him during his 40 years in Swansea up to and beyond his retirement in 2015 It is designed to reflect the esteem and affection in which the honorand is held as teacher supervisor colleague and friend All the contributions reflect John Morgan s interests with a particular focus on narrative which has always been at the forefront of his teaching and research he has elucidated the forms structures strategies and functions of numerous ancient narratives especially fictional in a voluminous body of scholarship The contributors consider a wide range of narratives extending from those which show the influence of older stories on the beginnings of ancient Greek civilisation through various narrative genres in different periods of antiquity and up to later eras when the impact of Greek and Roman learning stories and ideas has been felt The core of this volume contains discussions of narratives from the Roman imperial period since this is the area to which the majority of John Morgan s work has been devoted and where his research has seen him become a world leader in the study of the ancient Greek novel Several of the contributions at various stages of development were delivered and discussed at gatherings organised under the aegis of KYKNOS the Centre for Research on the Narrative Literatures of the Ancient World which was established at Swansea in 2004 at John Morgan s initiative Program of the Annual Meeting - American Historical Association American Historical Association,2007 Some programs include also the programs of societies meeting concurrently with the association
