Religious Patronage in Anglo-Norman England, 1066-1135 Emma Cownie, 1998 Although the Norman Conquest of 1066 swept away most of the secular and ecclesiastical leaders of pre Conquest England it held some positive aspects for English society such as its effects on Anglo Saxon monastic foundations which this study explores The first part deals in depth with five individual case studies Abingdon Gloucester Bury St Edmunds St Albans and St Augustine s Canterbury as well as Fenland and other houses showing how despite mixed fortunes the major houses survived to become the richest in England The second part places the experiences of the houses in the context of structural changes in religious patronage as well as within the social and political nexus of the Anglo Norman realm Dr Cownie analyses the pattern of gifts to religious houses on both sides of the Channel looking at the reasons why they were made EMMA COWNIE gained her Ph D from the University of Wales at Cardiff she currently holds a research fellowship at King s College London

England and Europe in the Reign of Henry III (1216-1272) Ifor W. Rowlands, 2017-03-02 The close political economic and cultural ties that developed between England and its neighbours were a defining feature of the rule of Henry III which permeated nearly all levels of society from the king and his barons to the Church and merchants artisans and fortune hunters They were evident both in the high politics of Henry III as well as in the more general cultural developments as can be seen in the French architecture Italian masonry and German goldwork of Westminster Abbey They can likewise be traced with regard to individuals such as Simon de Montfort whose family was active in the Holy Land Languedoc Northern France and England In short thirteenth century England formed part of a broader European cultural political and economic commonwealth The essays that form this volume demonstrate the variety and strength of these contacts between England and her neighbours during Henry s reign and by seeking to place Henry s England within a broader geographical and thematic range will contribute to a broader understanding of England s place within thirteenth century Europe

Landscapes of Monastic Foundation Tim Pestell, 2004 Pre Conquest monastic foundations in the present day counties of Norfolk and Suffolk in their topographical social economic and political environment evolution of religious devotion in East Anglia since the 7th century Conversion the influence of the Anglo Saxon past on the post Conquest monastic landscape

Dudo of Saint-Quentin's Historia Normannorum Benjamin Pohl, 2015 When Dudo of Saint Quentin s Historia Normannorum first appeared in or around 1015 written for the then Duke of Normandy Richard II Dudo created a text without precedent By committing the lives and deeds of Richard II s ancestors to written memory for the first time since the foundation of Normandy under the Viking Rollo in 911 Dudo provided the Norman court at Rouen with both an official dynastic historiography and a treasured record of their collective past The Historia Normannorum was conceived from the outset as an idiosyncratic text which purported to be both staunchly traditional and remarkably innovative By means of a pioneering transdisciplinary combination of Historical Studies Manuscript Studies Literary Theory and Cultural Memory Studies this book explores medieval historiography through a unique and highly innovative lens The analysis showcases the Historia Normannorum's status as one of the most formative historical narratives of the Middle Ages one which may even provide the earliest surviving example of an illustrated chronicle from the entire Latin West Back cover

Authorities in the Middle Ages Sini Kangas, Mia Korpiola, Tuija Ainonen, 2013-04-30 Medievalists reading and writing about and around authority related themes lack clear definitions of its actual meanings in the medieval context Authorities in the Middle Ages offers answers to this thorny issue through specialized investigations This book considers the concept of authority and explores the various practices of creating authority in medieval society In their studies sixteen scholars investigate the definition formation establishment maintenance and collapse of what we understand in terms of medieval struggles for authority influence and power The interdisciplinary nature of this volume resonates with the multi faceted field of medieval culture its social structures and forms of communication The fields of expertise include history legal studies theology philosophy politics literature and art history The scope of inquiry extends from late antiquity to the mid fifteenth century from the Church Fathers debating with pagans to the rapacious ghosts ruining the life of the living in the Sagas There is a special emphasis on such exciting but understudied areas as the Balkans Iceland and the eastern fringes of Scandinavia

Ecclesiastical Lordship, Seigneurial Power and the Commercialization of Milling in Medieval England Adam Lucas, 2016-04-29 This is the first detailed study of the role of the Church in the commercialization of milling in medieval England Focusing on the period from the late eleventh to the mid sixteenth centuries it examines the estate management practices of more than thirty English religious houses founded by the Benedictines Cistercians Augustinians and other minor orders with an emphasis on the role played by mills and milling in the establishment and development of a range of different sized episcopal and conventual foundations Contrary to the views espoused by a number of prominent historians of technology since the 1930s the book demonstrates that patterns of mill acquisition innovation and exploitation were shaped not only by the size wealth and distribution of a house's estates but also by environmental and demographic factors changing cultural attitudes and legal conventions prevailing and emergent technical traditions the personal relations of a house with its patrons tenants servants and neighbours and the entrepreneurial and administrative flair of bishops abbots priors and other ecclesiastical officials

1998 Massimo Mastrogregori, 2013-05-08 Annually published since 1930 the International bibliography of Historical Sciences IBOHS is an international bibliography of the most important historical monographs and periodical articles published throughout the world which deal with history from the earliest to the most recent times The works are arranged systematically according to period region or historical discipline and within this classification alphabetically The bibliography contains a geographical index and indexes of persons and authors Henry I C. Warren Hollister, 2008-10-01 Henry I son of William the Conqueror ruled from 1100 to 1135 a time of fundamental change in the Anglo Norman world This long awaited biography written by one of the most distinguished medievalists of his generation offers a major reassessment of Henry s character and reign Challenging the dark and dated portrait of the king as brutal greedy and repressive it argues instead that Henry s rule was based on reason and order C Warren Hollister points out that Henry laid the foundations for judicial and financial institutions usually attributed to his grandson Henry II Royal government was centralized and systematized leading to firm stable and peaceful rule for his subjects in both England and Normandy By mid reign Henry I was the most powerful king in Western Europe and with astute diplomacy an intelligence network and strategic marriages of his children legitimate and illegitimate he was able to undermine the various coalitions mounted against him Henry strove throughout his reign to solidify the Anglo Norman dynasty and his marriage linked the Normans to the Old English line Hollister vividly describes Henry s life and reign places them against the political background of the time and provides analytical studies of the king and his magnates the royal administration and relations between king and church The resulting volume is one that will be welcomed by students and general readers alike
