The Routledge Companion on Architecture, Literature and The City Jonathan Charley, 2018-09-03 This Companion breaks new ground in our knowledge and understanding of the diverse relationships between literature architecture and the city which together form a field of interdisciplinary research that is one of the most innovative and exciting to have emerged in recent years Bringing together a wide variety of contributors not only writers architectural and literary scholars and social scientists but graphic novelists and artists the book offers contemporary essays on everything from science fiction and the crime novel to poetry comics and oral history It is structured into two sections History Narrative and Genre and Strategy Language and Form Including over ninety illustrations the book is a must read for academics and students

Greening Post-Industrial Cities Corina McKendry, 2017-09-22 City greening has been heralded for contributing to environmental governance and critiqued for exacerbating displacement and inequality Bringing these two disparate analyses into conversation this book offers a comparative understanding of how tensions between growth environmental protection and social equity are playing out in practice Examining Chicago USA Birmingham UK and Vancouver Canada McKendry argues that city greening efforts were closely connected to processes of post industrial branding in the neoliberal economy While this brought some benefits concerns about the unequal distribution of these benefits and greening s limited environmental impact challenged its legitimacy In response city leaders have moved toward initiatives that strive to better address environmental effectiveness and social equity while still spurring growth Through an analysis that highlights how different varieties of liberal environmentalism are manifested in each case this book illustrates that cities though constrained by inconsistent political will and broader political and economic contexts are making contributions to more effective socially just environmental governance Both critical and hopeful McKendry s work will interest scholars of city greening environmental governance and comparative urban politics

Limits to Culture Malcolm Miles, 2015-06-20 How can we unmask the vested interests behind capital s cultural urban agenda Limits to Culture pits grass roots cultural dissent against capital s continuing project of control via urban planning In the 1980s notions of the creative class were expressed though a cultural turn in urban policy towards the creative city De industrialisation created a shift away from how people understood and used urban space and consequently gentrification spread With it came the elimination of diversity and urban dynamism new art museums and cultural or heritage quarters lent a creative mask to urban redevelopment This book examines this process from the 1960s to the present day revealing how the notion of creativity been neutered in order to quell dissent In the 1960s creativity was identified with revolt yet from the 1980s onwards it was subsumed in consumerism which continued in the 1990s through cool Britannia culture and its international

reflections Today austerity and the scarcity of public money reveal how the illusory creative city has given way to reveal its hollow interior through urban clearances and underdevelopment

Street-Level Architecture Conrad Kickert, Hans Karssenberg, 2022-08-04 This book provides the tools to maintain and rebuild the interaction between architecture and public space Despite the best intentions of designers and planners interactive frontages have dwindled over the past century in Europe and North America This book demonstrates why even our best intentions for interactive frontages are currently unable to turn a swelling tide of economic and technological evolution land consolidation introversion stratification and contagious decline It uses these lessons to offer concrete locational programming design and management strategies to maximize street level interaction and trust between street level architecture its inhabitants and the city This book demonstrates that designers developers planners and managers ultimately have to create the right preconditions for inhabitants and passersby to bring frontages to life These preconditions connect architecture to its urban social economical and technological context Only the right frontage in the right context with the right design the right inhabitation and the right attitude to the city will become part of the ecosystem of trust and interaction that supports public life This book empowers the many participants in this ecosystem to build inhabit and enjoy truly urbane architecture

Mapping Urban Regeneration Ali Cheshmehzangi, 2023-08-29 This book is an unusual attempt to study urban regeneration First it is based on mapping the realities of urban regeneration case study examples and their impacts on people places and city life experiences Second it is context specific exploring only a particular region rather than covering one country or multiple locations Hence the aim is to avoid generic and global solutions but rather focus on local pathways and directions Third it delves into specific case study examples that could share some lessons for research practice and academia particularly in the field of urban regeneration This book is the first of hopefully many more on the way in urban mapping studies with various themes and focus areas The ultimate goal is to ensure urban mapping is recognized well and practiced extensively in research and education It is essential to map realities in cities and communities those that we usually witness but should be experienced perceived and touched not just via desk research Mapping techniques are more than just common tools in urbanism urban geography urban studies urban planning etc They are not just tools but inventive ways of understanding cities places communities experiences and people Thus in this book we try to understand more about people and places through life experiences and mapping the urban regeneration projects of multiple cities in Yunnan Province This collection is based on a very concise context specific research focused on only one region The decision to do so is intentional just because contextual cultural and local attributes need to be looked at more accurately considerably and dexterously Hence this collection delves into case study examples of an inspiring location where traditions remain resources are plenteous and cultures are diverse Yunnan is one of the few provinces left in China that offers a lot for comprehensive research studies at the urban rural and township levels The experiences we gained from mapping studies observations and multi stakeholder engagements are exceptionally rich and vibrant allowing us to think more holistically and find ways and suggestions beyond just the generic globalized models elsewhere We hope the book will be useful to various stakeholders particularly urban specialists researchers and students It is also a valuable collection for policymakers decision makers and governmental authorities who should refrain from top down processes and bring back people to the heart of urban regeneration processes

The Practice of Modernism John R. Gold,2007-06-13 Making extensive use of information gained from hours of in depth
