Casey,2012-12-06 Contrary to popular belief professional philosophers want and need to be heard Lacking a large and general public in this country they turn to audiences of peers and rivals But these audiences are found either in giant unfocused professional bodies or in restrictive groups of specialists In this respect the Society for Phenomenology and Existential Philosophy can claim a unique role among academic organizations in this country Now in its tenth year it has become one of the most important forums in America for the open exchange of ideas The Society has grown considerably since its founding and its annual meetings attract scholars in philosophy and other disciplines from across the country and abroad But these meetings differ markedly from others too large to be dominated by any single clique or doctrine they are at the same time small enough to encourage lively discussion within its organized sessions and not just in the corridors outside The Society derives its focus from the two closely allied philosophical directions indicated in its title Yet from the beginning it has included in its meetings a sizeable number of contributors who are not identified with or even sympathetic to these directions but are at least willing to engage in a dialogue with those who are Furthermore the Society has accomplished to a limited degree something rare indeed in American intellectual life an interdisciplinary ex 2 INTRODUCTION change

Thought and Feeling Richard E. Nisbett, 2017-07-05 Recently there has been growing awareness and acceptance of the proposition that people do not exist in a world of physically defined forces and events but in a world defined by their own perceptions cognitions conclusions and imaginations We respond and react not to some objectively defined set of stimuli but to our own apperceptions of stimuli that we define subjectively The original essays in this volume center on one aspect of this process of attribution The extent to which the perception of events and causes results in the determination modification or alteration of emotions feelings and affective states This book is divided into five sections each of which elucidates and extends these theoretical conceptions Part 1 provides a historical background and analytical framework for the rest of the book Part 2 presents chapters dealing with the sorts of internal cues which may give rise to a feeling state Part 3 presents a chapter discussing the evaluative needs aroused by the internal cues Part 4 is concerned with the process of explanation triggered by the evaluative needs Part 5 deals with various external cues and how they are used to label the internal feeling state There is a concluding discussion of the cognitive alteration of feeling states The authors deal with aggression boredom obesity the control of pain and delusional systems This volume is of continuing importance to clinical and experimental psychologists as well as social psychologists Each of the authors takes the theoretical concept of cognition and relates it to research in biofeedback physiology social psychology altered states of consciousness etc Thus the book bridges the gap between cognitive theory and the use of that theory in applied research Travis Pass Trilogy
