Remembering The Present Painting And Popular History In Zaire:

Remembering the Present Johannes Fabian, 1996-12-19 This book combines ethnography with the study of art to present a fascinating new vision of African history. It contains the paintings of a single artist depicting Zaire's history along with a series of ethnographic essays discussing local history, its complex relationship to forms of self-expression and self-understanding, and the aesthetics of contemporary urban African and Third World societies. As a collaboration between ethnographer and painter, this innovative study challenges text-oriented approaches to understanding history and argues instead for an event and experience-oriented model, ultimately adding a fresh perspective to the discourse on the relationship between modernity and tradition. During the 1970s, Johannes Fabian encouraged Tshibumba Kanda Matulu to paint the history of Zaire. The artist delivered the work in batches together with an oral narrative. Fabian recorded these statements along with his own question and answer sessions with the painter. The first part of the book is the complete series of 100 paintings with excerpts from the artist's narrative and the artist-anthropologist dialogues. Part Two consists of Fabian's essays about this and other popular painting in Zaire. The essays discuss such topics as performance, orality, history, colonization, and popular art.

Remembering the Present Johannes Fabian, 1996 This is an extraordinarily original, powerfully argued book, provocative in the best sense of the word. The sheer juxtaposition of the terrible history of Zaire as painted by a Zairean popular artist who lived through some of the worst of it, the artist's precise and eloquent explications of his work, a bluntly factualist account of the events depicted, and Fabian's searching ethnographical commentary without privileging any of these so different types of discourse over any of the others, raises some of the most fundamental and most difficult questions in history, art, and anthropology. Remembering the Present is a major step forward in both the presentation of cultural materials and in their analysis. Clifford Geertz

Remembering the Present, Book consists of Part 1: The history of Zaire as painted and told by Tshibumba Kanda Matulu; Part 2: All was lost: ethnographic essays on Tshibumba's history of Zaire and covers the history of Zaire from pre-colonial times to the Mobutu regime. Remembering the present Johannes Fabian, Remembering the Present: The history of Zaire as painted and told by Tshibumba Kanda Matulu Johannes Fabian, 1996

Mapping Modernisms Elizabeth Harney, Ruth B. Phillips, 2018-11-01 Mapping Modernisms brings together scholars working around the world to address the modern arts produced by indigenous and colonized artists. Expanding the contours of modernity and its visual products, the contributors illustrate how these artists engaged with ideas of Primitivism through visual forms and philosophical ideas. Although often overlooked in the literature on global modernisms, artists, artworks, and art patrons moved within and across national and imperial borders, carrying appropriating or translating objects, images, and ideas. These itineraries made up the dense networks of modern life, contributing to the crafting of modern subjectivities and of local, transnationally inflected modernisms. Addressing the silence on indigeneity in established narratives of modernism, the contributors decenter art history's traditional Western orientation.
