Renaissance Reader First Hand Encounters With The Renaissance:

In Readers' Hands Sabrina Corbellini, Wim François, Renske A. Hoff, 2024-10-28 This volume explores the production transmission and reading practices of vernacular Bibles in early modern Europe This varied collection of essays provides historical book historical literary theological and art historical perspectives to the movements of manuscript and printed Bibles The contributions concern Bibles in many different languages and from across the European continent from Ireland to Portugal Rather than perceiving Scripture and the material carriers of Scripture as static things this volume demonstrates how Bibles constantly acquired new meanings and functions as they moved through time and space and were touched by the hands of makers readers and users Moderation and the Mean in the Literature of Spain's Golden Age Richard Rabone, 2023 A sustained analysis of the reception of the Aristotelian golden mean in early modern Spanish literature Studying works of three canonical authors Garcilaso Calderón Gracián it argues that the ethical credo of moderation was an important part of the classical inheritance on which Golden Age authors frequently drew Literature and the Encounter with God in Post-Reformation England Michael Martin, 2016-05-23 Each of the figures examined in this study John Dee John Donne Sir Kenelm Digby Henry and Thomas Vaughan and Jane Lead is concerned with the ways in which God can be approached or experienced Michael Martin analyzes the ways in which the encounter with God is figured among these early modern writers who inhabit the shared cultural space of poets and preachers mystics and scientists The three main themes that inform this study are Cura animarum the care of souls and the diminished role of spiritual direction in post Reformation religious life the rise of scientific rationality and the struggle against the disappearance of the Holy Arising from the methods and commitments of phenomenology the primary mode of inquiry of this study resides in contemplation not in a religious sense but in the realm of perception attendance and acceptance Martin portrays figures such as Dee Digby and Thomas Vaughan not as the eccentrics they are often depicted to have been but rather as participating in a religious mainstream that had been radically altered by the disappearance of any kind of mandatory or regular spiritual direction a problem which was further complicated and exacerbated by the rise of science Thus this study contributes to a reconfiguration of our notion of what religious orthodoxy really meant during the period and calls into question our own assumptions about what is or was orthodox and heterodox A Companion to Ovid Peter E. Knox, 2012-11-20 A Companion to Ovid is a comprehensive overview of one of the most influential poets of classical antiquity Features more than 30 newly commissioned chapters by noted scholars writing in their areas of specialization Illuminates various aspects of Ovid's work such as production genre and style Presents interpretive essays on key poems and collections of poems Includes detailed discussions of Ovid's primary literary influences and his reception in English literature Provides a chronology of key literary and historical events during Ovid's lifetime Books and Readers in Early Modern England Jennifer Andersen, Elizabeth Sauer, 2012-07-28 Books and Readers in Early Modern England examines readers reading and publication practices from the Renaissance to the

Restoration The essays draw on an array of documentary evidence from library catalogs prefaces title pages and dedications marginalia commonplace books and letters to ink paper and bindings to explore individual reading habits and experiences in a period of religious dissent political instability and cultural transformation Chapters in the volume cover oral scribal and print cultures examining the emergence of the public spheres of reading practices Contributors who include Christopher Grose Ann Hughes David Scott Kastan Kathleen Lynch William Sherman and Peter Stallybrass investigate interactions among publishers texts authors and audience They discuss the continuity of the written word and habits of mind in the world of print the formation and differentiation of readerships and the increasing influence of public opinion The work demonstrates that early modern publications appeared in a wide variety of forms from periodical literature to polemical pamphlets and reflected the radical transformations occurring at the time in the dissemination of knowledge through the written word These forms were far more ephemeral and far more widely available than modern stereotypes of writing from this period suggest

Early Modern Encounters with the Islamic East Sabine Schülting, Sabine Lucia Müller, Ralf Hertel, 2016-04-29 An exploration of early modern encounters between Christian Europe and the Islamic East from the perspective of performance studies and performativity theories this collection focuses on the ways in which these cultural contacts were acted out on the real and metaphorical stages of theatre literature music diplomacy and travel The volume responds to the theatricalization of early modern politics to contemporary anxieties about the tension between religious performance and belief to the circulation of material objects in intercultural relations and the eminent role of theatre and drama for the re imagination and negotiation of cultural difference Contributors examine early modern encounters with and in the East using an innovative combination of literary and cultural theories They stress the contingent nature of these contacts and demonstrate that they can be read as moments of potentiality in which the future of political and economic relations as well as the players cultural religious and gender identities are at stake
