Macon Stephen Taylor and Matthew Jennings, 2013 Macon has been a crossroads of cultures since Native Americans built the massive earthworks that now form the Ocmulgee National Monument In the 19th century fortunes rose and fell with the price of cotton for small farmers and businessmen as well as plantation owners The Civil War destroyed the plantation economy but it left Macon s historic treasures largely undisturbed Though manufacturing replaced plantation slavery cotton and race remained central facts of life as the City of Churches adapted to a changing world From the 1950s onward the city s role as a textile center withered but the likes of Little Richard Otis Redding and the Allman Brothers Band built a musical legacy for Macon that survives today

Western Kentucky in Vintage Postcards Cliff

Downey, 2002 Western Kentucky in Vintage Postcards guides residents visitors and history buffs alike on a virtual driving tour through Kentucky's westernmost counties to enjoy its rich history and natural beauty. Readers will discover why this is perhaps the most diverse region in the Bluegrass State with its many different geographical areas: flat lands to rolling hills and coal fields to miles of lakes. The scenic journey begins in Hopkinsville, meanders north through Madisonville to Henderson and continues west to the Mississippi River with stops in Murray, Mayfield, Paducah and several small towns. Vintage postcards culled from a variety of sources highlight those things that are uniquely Western Kentucky: tobacco fields, coal mines, Confederate president Jefferson Davis, Kentucky Lake and Lake Barkley, farming, historical buildings and sites, floods and dams.

Southeast Georgia in Vintage Postcards Gary L. Doster, 1998 Tifton, Georgia in Vintage Postcards William R. Wells, 2002. A sawmill town that has become the crossroads of South Georgia, Tifton was founded by Henry Harding Tift, a Connecticut Yankee, in 1872. He built a sawmill in what was first known as Slab Town, but the name eventually changed when sawmill worker George Badger, resolving to be the first to honor village's founder, climbed a pine tree and nailed a placard with TIFTON on it, a condensed version of Tift's Town. Today, this thriving community is a meeting place for Interstate 75, U.S. 41, U.S. 319 and U.S. 82 and boasts a long and proud history. Tifton, Georgia in Vintage Postcards reveals the early beginnings of the town and its story to the present day with picturesque street scenes, local schools, including Abraham Baldwin Agricultural College, Georgia Coastal Plains Experiment Station, people and sports, and industry and agriculture. Also highlighted in this engaging volume is the nearby community of Ty Ty.

Northwest Georgia in Vintage Postcards Gary L. Doster, 1998 Vintage Postcards from the African World Jessica B. Harris, 2020-05-15. For over forty years, professor and culinary historian Jessica B. Harris has collected postcards depicting Africans and their descendants in the American diaspora. They are presented for the first time in this exquisite volume, Vintage Postcards from the African World: In the Dignity of Their Work and the Joy of Their Play, which brings together more than 150 images providing a visual document of more than a century of work in agricultural and culinary pursuits and joy in entertainments, parades and celebrations. Organized by geography (Africa, the Caribbean and the United States) as well as by the types of scenes depicted (the farm, the garden and the sea, the marketplace, the vendors and the cooks, leisure, entertainments and festivities), the images capture the dignity of the labors of everyday life and the pride of festive occasions. Superb and rare images demonstrate everything from how Africans and their descendants dressed to what tools they used to how their entertainments provided relief from toil. Three essays accompany the postcards: one of which details Harris's collection and the collecting process; a second presents suggestions on how to interpret the cards; a final essay gives brief information on the history of postcards and postcard dating and its increasing use and value to scholars.
