Imagine you own ten acres of productive land. You can grow vegetables on your land, you can raise cattle, or you can grow some vegetables and some cattle.

PRODUCTION POSSIBILITIES FRONTIER

Assume you can grow 50 bushels of vegetables per acre or one cow per acre. This is given and will not change through the exercise. Because resources, land, time, and other inputs, are scarce, you must give up producing some of one thing to grow more of the other.

On your ten acre plot you can grow up to 500 bushels of vegetables (50 bushels per acre times ten acres) or raise as many as ten cows (one cow per acre times ten acres).

1. Question: What is the opportunity cost to produce one more cow?
2. Question: What is the opportunity cost to produce one more bushel of vegetables?

As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and gripping novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
