their lives and soared from Earth on sheets of flame LDEF: 69 Months in Space. First Post-Retrieval Symposium, Part 1
,1992 LDEF was carried into orbit in April 1984 by the Space Shuttle Challenger The 11 ton satellite contained 57 experiments to assess the effects of the space environment i e ionizing radiation meteoroids cosmic dust and high altitude atomic oxygen on materials and mechanical electronic optical and living systems In January 1990 after 69 months in low Earth orbit LDEF was retrieved by the Space Shuttle Columbia and returned to Earth The retrieval occurred 57 months after it was originally planned due in part to the Challenger tragedy The 69 months in space provided experimenters the unique opportunity to sample and measure the space environment over a longer time period than originally planned The 57 LDEF experiments were returned to the Principal Investigators and their science teams for analyses and interpretation In June 1991 over 400 LDEF researchers and data users met in Kissimmee Florida for the First LDEF Post Retrieval Symposium The papers presented contained important new information about space environments and their impact on materials systems and biology Australia in Space Kerrie A. Dougherty,2017-12-31 The exploration of space was seen as the greatest adventure of the Twentieth Century while in the Twenty First Century space based services have become an integral part of our daily lives Although it is not often recognised Australia has had its part to play in setting the world on the road to the stars and was one of the earliest nations to launch its own satellite Today the country is one of the largest users of space based services This revised and updated edition of Space Australia tells the story of Australia s involvement with space activities from the earliest rocketeers to the latest satellite projects It describes the vision high hopes and achievements of professional space scientists and engineers in both the civil and defence spheres as well as the inspired amateurs and the new breed of young space entrepreneurs who want to contribute to Australia s space future The book also highlights the challenges of maintaining an Australian commitment to space activities through changing political and economic circumstances
