Redding,2011-09-15 In Haints Arthur Redding examines the work of contemporary American authors who draw on the gothic tradition in their fiction not as frivolous or supernatural entertainments but to explore and memorialize the ghosts of their heritage Ghosts Redding argues serve as lasting witnesses to the legacies of slaves and indigenous peoples whose stories were lost in the remembrance or mistranslation of history No matter how much Americans willingly or unwillingly repress the true history of their ancestry their ghosts remain unburied and restless Such authors as Toni Morrison and Leslie Marmon Silko deploy the ghost as a means of reconciling their own violently repressed heritage with their identity as modern Americans And just as our ancestors were haunted by ghosts of the past today we are haunted by ghosts of contemporary crises urban violence racial hatred and even terrorism In other cases that Redding studies such as James Baldwin s The Evidence of Things Not Seen and Toni Cade Bambara s Those Bones Are Not My Child writers address similar crises to challenge traditional American claims of innocence and justice Finally Redding argues that ghosts emphasize a growing worry about a larger impending crisis the apocalypse Yet the despair the apocalypse inspires is vital to providing the grounds for new solutions to modern issues In the end the armies of the dispossessed enlist the forces of the spirit world to create a better future by ensuring that mistakes of the past are not repeated that Americans do not deny their heritage and that accountability exists for any given crisis book jacket      The New York Times Book Review ,1975-04      New York Times Saturday Book Review Supplement ,1995-06      The Wrong Doyle Robert Girardi,2004 Returning home from Paris to take over his recently deceased uncle s broken down golf course and bar Tim Doyle decides to put off selling the property long enough to search for buried pirate gold on the premises      New York Herald Tribune Book Review ,1954
