Walking to Magdalena Seth Schermerhorn, 2019-04-01 In Walking to Magdalena Seth Schermerhorn explores a question that is central to the interface of religious studies and Native American and indigenous studies What have Native peoples made of Christianity By focusing on the annual pilgrimage of the Tohono O odham to Magdalena in Sonora Mexico Schermerhorn examines how these indigenous people of southern Arizona have made Christianity their own This walk serves as the entry point for larger questions about what the Tohono O odham have made of Christianity With scholarly rigor and passionate empathy Schermerhorn offers a deep understanding of Tohono O odham Christian traditions as practiced in everyday life and in the words of the O odham themselves The author's rich ethnographic description and analyses are also drawn from his experiences accompanying a group of O odham walkers on their pilgrimage to Saint Francis in Magdalena For many years scholars have agreed that the journey to Magdalena is the largest and most significant event in the annual cycle of Tohono O odham Christianity Never before however has it been the subject of sustained scholarly inquiry Walking to Magdalena offers insight into religious life and expressive culture relying on extensive field study videotaped and transcribed oral histories of the O odham and archival research The book illuminates indigenous theories of personhood and place in the everyday life narratives songs and material culture of the Tohono O odham A Study in Sable Mercedes

Lackey, 2025-09-23 The eleventh novel in Mercedes Lackey's magical Elemental Masters series reimagines Sherlock Holmes in a richly detailed alternate 20th century England Psychic Nan Killian and Medium Sarah Lyon White along with their clever birds the raven Neville and the parrot Grey have been agents of Lord Alderscroft the Elemental Fire Master known as the Wizard of London since leaving school Now Lord Alderscroft assigns them another commission to work with the famous man living at 221 Baker Street but not the one in flat B They are to assist the man living in flat C Dr John Watson and his wife Mary themselves Elemental Masters of Water and Air take the occult cases John's more famous friend disdains and they will need every skill the girls and their birds can muster Nan and Sarah's first task to confront and eliminate the mysterious and deadly entity that nearly killed them as children the infamous Haunt of Number 10 Berkeley Square But the next task divides the girls for the first time since they were children A German opera star begs Sarah for help seeking a Medium's aid against not just a single spirit but a multitude As Sarah becomes more deeply entwined with the Prima Donna Nan continues to assist John and Mary Watson alone only to discover that Sarah's case is far more sinister than it seems It threatens to destroy not only a lifelong friendship but much much more Rachael's Legacy Pat Mattaini Mestern, 2012-10-22 Pat Mestern's fictional works are among the most rewarding and most pleasing published today Her historical novels conjure up a time long gone and characters long dead They never fail to embrace the sorts of scandals dreams and secrets that can haunt nearly every family in every walk of life for many tomorrows J Marshall Craig screen writer and film director Based on a true story From the sophistication and glamour of upper class New York City life during the roaring twenties Erie Carliss travels to the rural Mennonite country in Wellington County Ontario to discover her secret past In the search for answers Erie finds herself in the middle of a power struggle among whiskey runners and gangsters The new friendships and rekindled interests of old acquaintances blossom This is an exciting and moving story of a young woman coming to terms with her heritage and making a choice between the life she was raised in and a life she was born into Pat Mestern has once again delivered a masterpiece of genuine relatable characters whose journeys unveil more than they could have ever imagined In this sequel to Anna Child of the Poor House Rachael s Legacy takes the reader through the intertwined lives of Erie and Anna Carliss and the Mennonite community Author of seven fiction books prior Pat s storytelling ability shines through and wraps you up in an exhilarating experience of mystery family history and love Magdalena Wade Davis,2020-09-15 A captivating new book from Wade Davis award winning best selling author and National Geographic Explorer in Residence for more than a decade that brings vividly to life the story of the great R o Magdalena illuminating Colombia s complex past present and future Travelers often become enchanted with the first country that captures their hearts and gives them license to be free For Wade Davis it was Colombia Now in a masterly new book Davis tells of his travels on the mighty Magdalena the river that made possible the nation Along the way he finds a people who have overcome years of conflict precisely because of their character informed by an enduring spirit of place and a deep love of a land that is home to the greatest ecological and geographical diversity on the planet As Gabriel Garc a M rquez once wrote during his own pilgrimage on the river The only reason I would like to be young again would be the chance to travel again on a freighter going up the Magdalena Only in Colombia can a traveler wash ashore in a coastal desert follow waterways through wetlands as wide as the sky ascend narrow tracks through dense tropical forests and reach verdant Andean valleys rising to soaring ice clad summits This rugged and impossible geography finds its perfect coefficient in the topography of the Colombian spirit restive potent at times placid and calm in moments explosive and wild Both a corridor of commerce and a fountain of culture the wellspring of Colombian music literature poetry and prayer the Magdalena has served in dark times as the graveyard of the nation And yet always it returns as a river of life At once an absorbing adventure and an inspiring tale of hope and redemption Magdalena gives us a rare kaleidoscopic picture of a nation on the verge of a new period of peace Braiding together memoir history and journalism Wade Davis tells the story of the country s most magnificent river and in doing so tells the epic story of Colombia

No Choice But Freedom Pat Mattaini Mestern,2006 Based on the true stories of English woman Elizabeth Bagley Morrison who tried to make a mark in Colonial America with her far reaching ideals and William Servos Hult an African slave who won his freedom and rose to prominence in the spice trade before immigrating to Canada Mestern has woven truth through her fiction s fabric creating a tale of people and principles at the founding of our nation The Little Chronicle of Magdalena Bach Esther Meynell,1925 Hal Hartley Mark L. Berrettini,2011-01-05 Since the late 1980s Hal Hartley has challenged standards of realist narrative cinema with daring narrative constructions character development and the creation of an unconventional visual world In this pioneering critical overview of his work and its cultural historical context Mark L Berrettini discusses seven of Hartley s feature films including The Unbelievable Truth Trust Simple Men Amateur Henry Fool Fay Grim and The Book of Life Drawing on journalism theories of representation narrative and genre and cinema history Berrettini discusses the absurdist comedic representation of serious themes in Hartley s films impossible love coincidence and human relations extreme isolation and the restrictions posed by gender norms He looks at the films consistently absurd tone and notes how these themes reappear within framing narratives that shift from the seemingly mundane in Hartley s earliest works to the vibrantly creative and fantastic in his later films Employing close analysis and theories related to cinematic narrative and to realism the book s critical appraisal of Hartley s films considers aspects of American independent cinema and postwar European cinema antirealism and minimalism The volume concludes with a pair of in depth interviews with the director from two distinct points in his career

Three Roads to Magdalena David Wallace Adams, 2016-06-03 Someday Candelaria Garcia said to the author you will get all the stories. It was a tall order in Magdalena, New Mexico, a once-booming frontier town where Navajo, Anglo, and Hispanic people have lived in shifting, sometimes separate, sometimes overlapping worlds for well over a hundred years. But these were the stories, and this was the world that David Wallace Adams set out to map in a work that would capture the intimate, complex history of growing up in a Southwest borderland. At the intersection of memory, myth, and history, his book asks what it was like to be a child in a land of ethnic and cultural boundaries. The answer, as close to all the stories as one might hope to get, captures the diverse, ever-changing experience of a Southwest community defined by cultural borders and the nature and role of children in defending and crossing those borders. In this book, we listen to the voices of elders who knew Magdalena nearly a century ago and the voices of a younger generation who negotiated the community's shifting boundaries. Their stories take us to sheep and cattle ranches, Navajo ceremonies, Hispanic fiestas, mining camps, First Communion classes, ranch house dances, Indian boarding school drill fields, high school social activities, and children's rodeos. Here we learn how class, religion, language, and race influenced the creation of distinct identities and ethnic boundaries but also provided opportunities for cross-cultural interactions and intimacies. And we see the critical importance of education in both reinforcing differences and opening a shared space for those differences to be experienced and bridged. In this, Adams's work offers a close-up view of the transformation of one multicultural community but also of the transformation of childhood itself over the course of the twentieth century. A unique blend of oral social and childhood history, Three Roads to Magdalena is a rare living document of conflict and accommodation across ethnic boundaries in our ever-evolving multicultural society. Published in Cooperation with the William P. Clements Center for Southwest Studies, Southern Methodist University.
