Good words, ed. by N. Macleod Norman Macleod, 1867 Agent vs. Assassin Lisa Renee Jones, 2024-12-27 Lilah's enemies love to taunt her For some reason they don't seem to understand how much such things amuse her For the first time she faces an opponent just as cold and highly calculated Lilah Ghost A battle between killers London labour and the London poor Henry Mayhew, 1861 The Logical Must Penelope Maddy, 2014-08-01 The Logical Must is an examination of Ludwig Wittgenstein's philosophy of logic early and late undertaken from an austere naturalistic perspective Penelope Maddy has called Second Philosophy The Second Philosopher is a humble but tireless inquirer who begins her investigation of the world with ordinary perceptual beliefs moves from there to empirical generalizations then to deliberate experimentation and eventually to theory formation and confirmation She takes this same approach to logical truth locating its ground in simple worldly structures and our knowledge of it in our basic cognitive machinery tuned by evolutionary pressures to detect those structures where they occur In his early work Tractatus Logico Philosophicus Wittgenstein also links the logical structure of representation with the structure of the world but he includes one key unnaturalistic assumption that the sense of our representations must be given prior to independently of facts about how the world is When that assumption is removed the general outlines of the resulting position come surprisingly close to the Second Philosopher's roughly empirical account In his later discussions of logic in Philosophical Investigations and Remarks on the Foundations of Mathematics Wittgenstein also rejects this earlier assumption in favor of a picture that arises in the wake of the famous rule following considerations Here Wittgenstein and the Second Philosopher operate in even closer harmony locating the ground of our logical practices in our interests our natural inclinations and abilities and very general features of the world until the Second Philosopher moves to fill in the account with her empirical investigations of the world and cognition At this point Wittgenstein balks but as a matter of personal animosity rather than philosophical principle
