Nuclear Weapons And Law:

Nuclear Weapons and Law Arthur Selwyn Miller, Martin Feinrider, 1984-12-21 This book presents a rounded critique of the conventional wisdom about the legality of nuclear weapons by experts in international and constitutional law Part I addresses the status of nuclear weapons under international law Scholars on one side of the question draw upon treaties and international custom to argue that most uses of nuclear weapons are illegal and that even mere possession of such weaponry is legally unjustifiable Others argue that law cannot be imposed on the nuclear weapons states without their consent and that nuclear weapons provide deterrence that binds the superpowers in a peaceful balance of power Part I concludes with a comprehensive bibliography on nuclear weapons and international law Part II the section that focuses on nuclear weapons and American constitutional law offers widely divergent approaches and conclusions Although there is no explicit prohibition of such weapons in the United States Constitution several contributors suggest that the advent of nuclear weapons has so changed the milieu in which constitutional institutions operate that many accepted conclusions must be reexamined Part III explores the effects of nuclear weapons on the environment and the medical consequences of nuclear war Nuclear

Nuclear Weapons Stuart Casey-Maslen, 2021-11-04 A new nuclear arms race is underway between Russia and the United States one that focuses on the technology of delivery of nuclear warheads This book describes how and why this race is happening who still possesses nuclear weapons and what constraints apply to those weapons under international law A global nuclear ban treaty entered into force in January 2021 but the nuclear powers kept distant The last remaining treaty restraining the arsenals of the two nuclear superpowers will expire in less than five years time and the risk is that other States will turn to nuclear arms for their defence further fracturing the non proliferation regime installed after the Cuban missile crisis

Nuclear Weapons under International Law Gro Nystuen, Stuart Casey-Maslen, Annie Golden Bersagel, 2014-08-28 Nuclear Weapons under International Law is a comprehensive treatment of nuclear weapons under key international law regimes It critically reviews international law governing nuclear weapons with regard to the inter state use of force international humanitarian law human rights law disarmament law and environmental law and discusses where relevant the International Court of Justice s 1996 Advisory Opinion Unique in its approach it draws upon contributions from expert legal scholars and international law practitioners who have worked with conventional and non conventional arms control and disarmament issues As a result this book embraces academic consideration of legal questions within the context of broader political debates about the status of nuclear weapons under international law

The Legality of Threat Or Use of Nuclear Weapons John Burroughs, 1998 The threat or use of nuclear weapons would generally be contrary to the rules of international law applicable in armed conflict and in particular the principles and rules of humanitarian law There exists an obligation to pursue in good faith and bring to a conclusion negotiations leading to nuclear disarmament in all its aspects under strict and effective international control Advisory Opinion of the International Court of Justice 8 July 1996 This book shows how courageous states from the developing world working in concert with visionary lawyers physicians and other sectors of international civil society boldly obtained astonishing results from the highest court in the world The World Court clearly ruled that the threat or use of nuclear weapons is illegal in almost all conceivable circumstances The Court further underlined the unconditional obligation of the nuclear weapon states to begin and conclude negotiations on nuclear disarmament in all its aspects It is now up to all of us to determine the follow up whatever the opposition We cannot end this century without clear commitments and steps to eliminate nuclear weapons Razali Ismail Permanent Representative of Malaysia to the United Nations President of the United Nations General Assembly 1996 1997 It is not often that a judicial opinion on a given question is both hailed and criticized by participants on all sides of the question This book written by a leading member of the team that helped to prepare the case on the illegality of the threat and use of nuclear weapons explains succinctly what the World Court and the judges in their separate statements did and did not say In so doing it makes a compelling case for the proposition that the Opinion represents a milestone on the road to nuclear abolition Peter Weiss Co President International Association of Lawyers Against Nuclear Arms The 20th century has been defined in large part by the unleashing of the terrible destructive power of the atom and the subsequent struggle to overcome the threat of nuclear annihilation If humankind survives the 8 July 1996 Advisory Opinion of the International Court of Justice and the extraordinary process that led up to it will have played an essential role The Il legality of the Threat or Use of Nuclear Weapons is a concise yet thorough guide to the case In straightforward language it describes the history of this unprecedented initiative and summarizes and explains states arguments to the Court the Court s findings and the separate statements of the judges The author provides cogent expert analysis and most importantly reveals how the opinion imparts hope and points the way to the future The Court has authoritatively interpreted law which states acknowledge they must follow including humanitarian law protecting civilians from indiscriminate effects of warfare the United Nations Charter and the Nuclear Non Proliferation Treaty The implications are profound abandonment of reliance on the threat and use of nuclear weapons as an instrument of national policy and expeditious elimination of nuclear arsenals The opinion can be cited as an authoritative statement of the law in any political or legal setting including the United Nations and national courts and parliaments in which nuclear weapon policies are challenged John Burroughs an attorney for the Western States Legal Foundation in California served as the legal coordinator for the World Court Project International Association of Lawyers Against Nuclear Arms at the November 1995 hearings before the International Court of Justice Nuclear Weapons and International Law Richard A. Falk, Lee Meyrowitz, Jack Sanderson, Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs. Center of International Studies, 1981 Nuclear Weapons and Contemporary International Law Edward

McWhinney, Nagendra Singh, 2024-09-02 Nuclear Disarmament in International Law Haralambos Athanasopoulos, 2000-02-01 When German physicists Otto Hahn and Fritz Strassman first split the uranium atom in 1938 they might have little imagined the potential power their experiments had unleashed Since the United States successfully detonated the first atomic weapons in 1945 the entire world has lived in fear of annihilation Technological advances in weaponry and importantly their delivery systems have only heightened the sense of dread Yet since the end of World War II world governments have been unable to agree on a strategy for nuclear disarmament This led first to the Cold War and ultimately to the proliferation of nuclear weapons throughout the world This work examines the nuclear question within the framework of international law The advent of the nuclear age and its impact on postwar peace and law is first covered This is followed by analyses of the initial United Nations disarmament initiatives and the reasons they were doomed from the start The globalization of the Cold War the expansion of the nuclear arms race and the START treaties and the legacy of 1970s era detente efforts in the years leading up to the end of the Cold War are then detailed How the United Nations reacted to the end of the Cold War and the prospects for disarmament in the 21st century are the subjects of the concluding section

Prohibition of Nuclear Weapons: The Relevance of International Law Elliott Meyrowitz, 2025-02-03 The United States is the only nation to have used nuclear weapons in warfare and claims not only through its State Department but through a Congressional vote as late as 1999 that the use of nuclear weapons is lawful Can such a claim with its undeniable assurance of the greatest degree of destruction of life and property this planet will ever have seen be sustained The author investigates this question as a prelude to a more extensive inquiry into the options of legal scholars on the legal status of nuclear weapons and international law Published under the Transnational Publishers imprint

Nuclear Weapons And Law Introduction

In today's digital age, the availability of Nuclear Weapons And Law books and manuals for download has revolutionized the way we access information. Gone are the days of physically flipping through pages and carrying heavy textbooks or manuals. With just a few clicks, we can now access a wealth of knowledge from the comfort of our own homes or on the go. This article will explore the advantages of Nuclear Weapons And Law books and manuals for download, along with some popular platforms that offer these resources. One of the significant advantages of Nuclear Weapons And Law books and manuals for download is the cost-saving aspect. Traditional books and manuals can be costly, especially if you need to purchase several of them for educational or professional purposes. By accessing Nuclear Weapons And Law versions, you eliminate the need to spend money on physical copies. This not only saves you money but also reduces the environmental impact associated with book production and transportation. Furthermore, Nuclear Weapons And Law books and manuals for download are incredibly convenient. With just a computer or smartphone and an internet connection, you can access a vast library of resources on any subject imaginable. Whether you're a student looking for textbooks, a professional seeking industry-specific manuals, or someone interested in self-improvement, these digital resources provide an efficient and accessible means of acquiring knowledge. Moreover, PDF books and manuals offer a range of benefits compared to other digital formats. PDF files are designed to retain their formatting regardless of the device used to open them. This ensures that the content appears exactly as intended by the author, with no loss of formatting or missing graphics. Additionally, PDF files can be easily annotated, bookmarked, and searched for specific terms, making them highly practical for studying or referencing. When it comes to accessing Nuclear Weapons And Law books and manuals, several platforms offer an extensive collection of resources. One such platform is Project Gutenberg, a nonprofit organization that provides over 60,000 free eBooks. These books are primarily in the public domain, meaning they can be freely distributed and downloaded. Project Gutenberg offers a wide range of classic literature, making it an excellent resource for literature enthusiasts. Another popular platform for Nuclear Weapons And Law books and manuals is Open Library. Open Library is an initiative of the Internet Archive, a non-profit organization dedicated to digitizing cultural artifacts and making them accessible to the public. Open Library hosts millions of books, including both public domain works and contemporary titles. It also allows users to borrow digital copies of certain books for a limited period, similar to a library lending system. Additionally, many universities and educational institutions have their own digital libraries that provide free access to PDF books and manuals. These libraries often offer academic texts, research papers, and technical manuals, making them invaluable resources for students and researchers. Some notable examples include MIT OpenCourseWare, which offers free access to course materials from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the Digital Public Library of America, which provides a vast collection of digitized books and historical documents. In conclusion, Nuclear Weapons And Law books and manuals for download have transformed the way we access information. They provide a cost-effective and convenient means of acquiring knowledge, offering the ability to access a vast library of resources at our fingertips. With platforms like Project Gutenberg, Open Library, and various digital libraries offered by educational institutions, we have access to an ever-expanding collection of books and manuals. Whether for educational, professional, or personal purposes, these digital resources serve as valuable tools for continuous learning and self-improvement. So why not take advantage of the vast world of Nuclear Weapons And Law books and manuals for download and embark on your journey of knowledge?
