Performance Of Self Ritual Clothing And Identity During The Hundred Years War:

The Performance of Self Susan Crane, 2002-05-28 Crane's consideration of court performances of later fourteenth and earlier fifteenth century English and French literature and culture is both polished and erudite written both deftly and with clarity throughout A finely crafted and imaginative study Paul Strohm University of Oxford The Cambridge Companion to Medieval Women's Writing Carolyn Dinshaw, David Wallace, 2003-05-22 The Cambridge Companion to Medieval Women's Writing seeks to recover the lives and particular experiences of medieval women by concentrating on various kinds of texts the texts they wrote themselves as well as texts that attempted to shape limit or expand their lives The first section investigates the roles traditionally assigned to medieval women as virgins widows and wives it also considers female childhood and relations between women The second section explores social spaces including textuality itself for every surviving medieval manuscript bespeaks collaborative effort It considers women as authors as anchoresses dead to the world and as preachers and teachers in the world staking claims to authority without entering a pulpit The final section considers the lives and writings of remarkable women including Marie de France Heloise Joan of Arc Julian of Norwich Margery Kempe and female lyricists and romancers whose names are lost but whose texts survive Power, Identity and Miracles on a Medieval Frontier Catherine Clarke, 2018-04-19 A thriving port a frontier base for the lords of Gower and a multi cultural urban community the south Wales town of Swansea was an important centre in the Middle Ages at a nexus of multiple identities cultural practices and configurations of power As the principal town of the Marcher lordship of Gower and seat of the Marcher lord's rule Swansea was a site of contested authority colonial control and complex interactions and collisions between different cultures languages and traditions Swansea also features in the miracle collection prepared for the canonisation of Thomas Cantilupe Bishop of Hereford d 1282 as the setting for the intriguing case of the hanging and strange revival of the Welsh rebel William Cragh Taking medieval Swansea and Wales as its starting point this volume brings into focus questions of place power identity and belief bringing together inter disciplinary perspectives which span History Literary Studies and Geography Archaeology and engaging with current debates in the fields of medieval frontier studies urban history manuscript studies and hagiography This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Medieval History Onstage Violence in Sixteenth-century French Tragedy Michael Meere, 2021 Studies the representation of violence in tragedies written for the French stage during the sixteenth century and explores its connection with issues such as politics religion gender and militantism to place the plays within their historical cultural and theatrical contexts Vision, Devotion, and Self-Representation in Late Medieval Art Alexa Sand, 2014-03-31 Focuses on one of the most attractive features of late medieval manuscript illumination the portrait of the book owner at prayer within the pages of her prayer book The Hundred Years War David Green, 2014-11-25 What life was like for ordinary French and English people embroiled in a devastating century long conflict that changed their world The Hundred Years War 1337 1453 dominated life in England and France for well over a century It became the defining feature of existence for generations This sweeping book is the first to tell the human story of the longest military conflict in history Historian David Green focuses on the ways the war affected different groups among them knights clerics women peasants soldiers peacemakers and kings He also explores how the long war altered governance in England and France and reshaped peoples perceptions of themselves and of their national character Using the events of the war as a narrative thread Green illuminates the realities of battle and the conditions of those compelled to live in occupied territory the roles played by clergy and their shifting loyalties to king and pope and the influence of the war on developing notions of government literacy and education Peopled with vivid and well known characters Henry V Joan of Arc Philippe the Good of Burgundy Edward the Black Prince John the Blind of Bohemia and many others as well as a host of ordinary individuals who were drawn into the struggle this absorbing book reveals for the first time not only the Hundred Years War s impact on warfare institutions and nations but also its true human cost Hundred Years War makes us care about this long ago conflict and the society that pursued and was shaped by it It is likely to and indeed should become a standard introduction to the war Charles F Briggs Speculum Female Devotion and Textile Imagery in Medieval English Literature Anna McKay,2024 Uncover the female voices lived experiences and spiritual insights encoded by the imagery of textiles in the Middle Ages For millennia women have spoken and read through cloth The literature and art of the Middle Ages are replete with images of women working cloth wielding spindles distaffs and needles or sitting at their looms Yet they have been little explored Drawing upon the burgeoning field of medieval textile studies as well as contemporary theories of gender materiality and eco criticism this study illustrates how textiles provide a hermeneutical alternative to the patriarchally dominated written word It puts forward the argument that women s devotion during this period was a fabricated phenomenon a mode of spirituality and religious exegesis expressed devised and practised through cloth Centred on four icons of female devotion Eve Mary St Veronica and of course Christ the book explores a broad range of narratives from across the rich tapestry of medieval English literature from the fields of Piers Plowman to the late medieval Morte D arthur the devotions of Margery Kempe to the visionary experiences of Julian of Norwich Gervase of Tilbury s fabulous Otia Imperialia to the anchoritic guidance literature of the Middle Ages and the innumerable and oft forgotten lives of Christ prayers legends and miracle tales in between Cultural Creativity in the Early English Renaissance E. Salter,2006-04-12 This book is about the ways that ordinary people in town and country creatively define themselves their families and their social networks It explores inheritance strategies personal possessions attitudes to commemoration after death the daily fashioning of identity and the interactions between imagination and daily life Joan of Arc and Spirituality Bonnie Wheeler,A. Astell,2016-09-27 Joan of Arc is an unusual saint Canonized in 1920 as a virgin she died in 1431 as a condemned heretic Uneducated militant and youthful she obeyed Voices that counselled her to pursue an unprecedented vocation The various trial records provide a wealth of evidence about how Joan and others understood her spiritual life This collection explores multiple facets of Joan's prayerful life Two thirds of the essays focus on Joan in her own time the later chapters study Joan's formative influence upon modern women Taken together these essays offer new perspectives on the heroism of Joan's original way of sanctity

The Body in History John Robb, Oliver J. T. Harris, 2013-09-02 This book is a long term history of how the human body has been understood in Europe from the Palaeolithic to the present day focusing on specific moments of change Developing a multi scalar approach to the past and drawing on the work of an interdisciplinary team of experts the authors examine how the body has been treated in life art and death for the last 40 000 years Key case study chapters examine Palaeolithic Neolithic Bronze Age Classical Medieval Early Modern and Modern bodies What emerges is not merely a history of different understandings of the body but a history of the different human bodies that have existed Furthermore the book argues these bodies are not merely the product of historical circumstance but are themselves key elements in shaping the changes that have swept across Europe since the arrival of modern humans

Spatial Resistance Christian Beck, 2019-01-11 Spatial Resistance Literary and Digital Challenges to Neoliberalism utilizes various literary and digital artifacts to show the potential and possibility of changing the ways we consider the spaces we inhabit As many spaces become increasingly privatized and policed it is necessary to contemplate ways in which corporate and state controlled spaces can not only be subverted but fundamentally changed to embrace the diverse lived experiences of all peoples Through an analysis of fictional and virtual spaces readers will be able to identify new ways to institute spatial change in everyday spatial lives in an effort to promote more democratic and equal experiences While this book uses primarily the philosophy of Gilles Deleuze and Félix Guattari to engender change it also provides practical examples to amend change or update the actions to suit particular needs and spaces This book shows that radical politics and the possibility of significant change can reside in just about any object or narrative it is the responsibility of the individual to take up the task of creating social change premised on equality liberty and solidarity

Objects of belief Joshua Easterling, Fiona Somerset, 2025-10-07 Objects in late medieval Europe were a means for lay people and clergy to negotiate their access to powers beyond the everyday in folk practice as well as religious observance As has been noted by scholars this period is marked by a profusion of objects granted special importance imaginary as well as material These objects prompt reconsideration of cultural and intellectual frameworks for example of superstition reform and heresy that never quite successfully contain them Essays in this volume center attention on these things themselves from puppets to rosaries as indeed do the written accounts through which they are often mediated With a focus on England contributors re evaluate our understanding of works and authors including Geoffrey Chaucer Walter Hilton Nicholas Love Julian of Norwich miracles of the Virgin Edward Hall's Chronicle the Wycliffite Glossed Gospels and the Croxton Play of the Sacrament

the assumption of a far greater cultural gulf between the learned and the lay in the medieval world than between rich and poor Elf Queens explores the church's systematic campaign to demonize fairies and infernalize fairyland and the responses this provoked in vernacular romance The Archaeology of Death in Post-medieval Europe Sarah Tarlow, 2015-01-01

Historical burial grounds are an enormous archaeological resource and have the potential to inform studies not only of demography or the history of disease and mortality but also histories of the body of religious and other beliefs about death of changing social relationships values and aspirations In the last decades the intensive urban development and a widespread legal requirement to undertake archaeological excavation of historical sites has led to a massive increase in the number of post medieval graveyards and burial places that have been subjected to archaeological investigation The archaeology of the more recent periods which are comparatively well documented is no less interesting and important an area of study than prehistoric periods This volume offers a range of case studies and reflections on aspects of death and burial in post medieval Europe Looking at burial goods the spatial aspects of cemetery organisation and the way that the living interact with the dead contributors who have worked on sites from Central North and West Europe present some of their evidence and ideas The coherence of the volume is maintained by a substantial integrative introduction by the editor Professor Sarah Tarlow This book is a first and a necessary one It is an exciting and far ranging collection of studies on post medieval burial practice across Europe that will most certainly be used extensively Professor Howard Williams Royal and Elite Households in

Medieval and Early Modern Europe , 2018-03-12 In this volume the authors bring fresh approaches to the subject of royal and noble households in medieval and early modern Europe The essays focus on the people of the highest social rank the nuclear and extended royal family their household attendants noblemen and noblewomen as courtiers and physicians Themes include financial and administrative management itinerant households the household of an imprisoned noblewoman blended households and cultural influence The essays are grounded in sources such as records of court ceremonial economic records letters legal records wills and inventories The authors employ a variety of methods including prosopography economic history visual analysis network analysis and gift exchange and the collection is engaged with current political sociological anthropological gender and feminist theories Armour and Masculinity in the Italian Renaissance Carolyn

Springer, 2010-01-01 During the Italian Wars of 1494 to 1559 with innovations in military technology and tactics armour began to disappear from the battlefield Yet as field armour was retired parade and ceremonial armour grew increasingly flamboyant Displaced from its utilitarian function of defense but retained for symbolic uses armour evolved in a new direction as a medium of artistic expression Luxury armour became a chief accessory in the performance of elite male identity coded with messages regarding the owner's social status genealogy and political alliances Carolyn Springer decodes Renaissance armour as three dimensional portraits through the case studies of three patrons of luxury armourers Guidobaldo II della Rovere 1514-75 Charles V Habsburg 1500-58 and Holy Roman Emperor from 1519-56 and Cosimo I de Medici 1519-74 A fascinating exposition of male self representation Armour and Masculinity in the Italian Renaissance explores the significance of armour in early modern Italy as both cultural artefact and symbolic form Dress and Cultural Difference in Early Modern Europe Cornelia Aust, Denise Klein, Thomas Weller, 2019-10-08 Dress is a key marker of difference It is closely attached to the body part of the daily routine and an unavoidable means of communication The clothes people wear tell stories about their allegiances and identities but also about their exclusion and stigmatization They allow for the display of wealth and can mercilessly display poverty and indigence Clothes also enable people to play with identities and affinities for instance individuals can claim higher social status via their clothes In many ways dress is thus open to manipulation by the wearer and misinterpretation by the observer Authorities whether religious or secular local or regional have always aimed at imposing order on this potential muddle This is particularly true for the early modern era when the world became ever more complex In Europe the composition of societies diversified with the emergence of new social groups and increasing migration and travel Thanks to intensified long distance trade and technological developments new fashionable clothes and accessories entered the market With the emergence of a consumer culture it was now the case that not only the extremely wealthy could afford at least the occasional indulgence in luxury items and accessories Over recent years research has focused on a variety of areas related to dress and appearance in the context of early modern political socio economic and cultural transformations both within Europe and related to its entanglement with other parts of the world Nevertheless a significant compartmentalization in the research on dress and appearance remains research is often organized around particular cities and territories and much research is still framed by modern national boundaries This special issue looks at dress and its perception in Europe from a transcultural perspective and highlights the many differences that clothing can express

Affections of the Mind Emma Lipton, 2011-08-15 Affections of the Mind argues that a politicized negotiation of issues of authority in the institution of marriage can be found in late medieval England where an emergent middle class of society used a sacramental model of marriage to exploit contradictions within medieval theology and social hierarchy Emma Lipton traces the unprecedented popularity of marriage as a literary topic and the tensions between different models of marriage in the literature of the later fourteenth and fifteenth centuries by analyzing such texts as Chaucer's Franklin's Tale The Book of Margery Kempe and the N Town plays Affections of the Mind focuses on marriage as a fluid and contested category rather than one with a fixed meaning and argues that the late medieval literature of sacramental marriage subverted aristocratic and clerical traditions of love and marriage in order to promote the values of the lay middle strata of society This book will be of value to a broad range of scholars in medieval studies Approaches to the Medieval Self Stefka G. Eriksen, Karen Langsholt Holmqvist, Bjørn Bandlien, 2020-09-21 The main aim of this book is to discuss various modes of studying and defining the medieval self based on a wide span of sources from medieval Western Scandinavia c 800 1500 such as archeological evidence architecture and art documents literature and runic inscriptions The book engages with major theoretical discussions within the humanities and social sciences such as cultural theory practice theory and cognitive theory The authors investigate how the various approaches to the self influence our own scholarly mindsets and horizons and how they condition what aspects of the medieval self are visible to us Utilizing this insight we aim to propose a more syncretic approach towards the medieval self not in order to substitute excellent models already in existence but in order to foreground the flexibility and the complementarity of the current theories when these are seen in relationship to each other The self and how it relates to its surrounding world and history is a main concern of humanities and social sciences Focusing on the theoretical and methodological flexibility when approaching the medieval self has the potential to raise our awareness of our own position and agency in various social spaces today
