Stationery Office (Great Britain), 2016 The Rights Revolution Charles R. Epp, 1998-10-15 It is well known that the scope of individual rights has expanded dramatically in the United States over the last half century Less well known is that other countries have experienced rights revolutions as well Charles R Epp argues that far from being the fruit of an activist judiciary the ascendancy of civil rights and liberties has rested on the democratization of access to the courts the influence of advocacy groups the establishment of governmental enforcement agencies the growth of financial and legal resources for ordinary citizens and the strategic planning of grass roots organizations In other words the shift in the rights of individuals is best understood as a bottom up rather than a top down phenomenon The Rights Revolution is the first comprehensive and comparative analysis of the growth of civil rights examining the high courts of the United States Britain Canada and India within their specific constitutional and cultural contexts It brilliantly revises our understanding of the relationship between courts and social change The ^AOxford Handbook of Criminal Process Darryl K. Policing, Race and Racism Mike Rowe, 2012-12-06 Over recent years race has become one of the most important issues faced by the police This book seeks to analyse the context and background to these changes to assess the impact of the Lawrence Inquiry and the MacPherson Report and to trace the growing emphasis on policing as an antiracist activity proactively confronting racism in both crime and non crime situations Whilst this change has not been wholly or consistently applied it does represent an important change in the discourse that surrounds police relations with the public since it changes the traditional role of the police as neutral arbiters of the law This book shows why race has become the most significant issue facing the British police and argues that the police response to race has led to a consideration of fundamental issues about the relation of the police to society as a whole and not just minority groups who might be most directly affected
