Paniagua-Zambrana, Zaal Kikvidze, 2025-04-23 Natural resources and associated biological diversity provide the basis of livelihood for humans particularly in the rural areas and mountain regions around the world Over centuries indigenous peoples traditional societies and local communities have developed their own specific knowledge regarding plant use management and conservation The history of plant use by humans as food and to treat diverse ailments dates back to ancient civilizations Even though the advent of allopathic medicine has somehow minimized the role of medicinal plants in favor of synthetic drugs a number of modern drug discoveries have been based on medicinal plants used by indigenous peoples Ethnobiology is the burgeoning interdisciplinary scientific field which covers all types of interactions between plants and people and Eastern Europe is recognized as a plant diversity hot spot This new Major Reference Work on the Ethnobotany of Mountain Regions of Eastern Europe Carpathians covers in detail the mountains and valleys of this region which are known to be rich in unique medicinal and food plant species Local communities residing in the mountain regions of Eastern Europe possess unique knowledge of surrounding resources which is the result of many years of interaction with and selection of the most desirable and pervasive plant species present In this context this major reference work provides comprehensive information on cross culture variation in the traditional uses of plants as food medicine and for cultural purposes among these diverse communities residing in Eastern Europe The key areas of focus include plant diversity in the Carpathians cross cultural variation in traditional uses of plant species by these communities high value medicinal and food plant species and threats and conservation status of plant species and traditional knowledge Food Culture in the Mediterranean Carol Helstosky, 2009-03-20 Food that originated from the Mediterranean area is incredibly popular Pasta pizza gyros kebab and falafel can be found just about everywhere Many people throughout the world have a good idea of what Mediterranean cuisine and diet are all about but they know less about the entire food culture of the region This one stop source provides the broadest possible understanding of food culture throughout the region giving a variety of examples and evidence from the southern Mediterranean or North Africa Morocco Algeria Tunisia Libya and Egypt the Western Mediterranean or European side of the Mediterranean Spain France Italy and the French and Italian islands to the eastern Mediterranean or Levant Greece Turkey Syria Lebanon and Israel The Mediterranean region is home to three of the world's major religions and for centuries the Mediterranean Sea has been an invitation to trade travel conquest and immigration Where different cultures beliefs and traditions mix there is always volatility and tension but there is also great energy Understanding the food

Romantic Nationalism in Eastern Europe Serhiy Bilenky,2012-05-16 This book explores the political imagination of Eastern Europe in the 1830s and 1840s when Polish Russian and Ukrainian intellectuals came to identify themselves as belonging to communities known as nations or nationalities Bilenky approaches this topic from a transnational perspective revealing the ways in which modern Russian Polish and Ukrainian nationalities were formed and refashioned through the challenges they presented to one another both as neighboring communities and as minorities within a given community Further all three nations defined themselves as a result of their interactions with the Russian and Austrian empires Fueled by the Romantic search for national roots they developed a number of separate yet often overlapping and inclusive senses of national identity thereby producing myriad versions of Russianness Polishness and Ukrainianness

Science of Food Nutrition and Health Vinod Puri,2023-07-21 Diet is one of the important facets of comprehensive approach to good health along with physical social emotional and intellectual well being During the second half of the 20th century we witnessed a dramatic change in our eating patterns and lifestyle aided by agricultural and industrial revolution globalisation and urbanisation and emergence of associated diet related chronic diseases such as obesity coronary heart disease hypertension diabetes some type of cancer stroke and degenerative arthritis The science of food and nutrition is very complex Nutrition science like many other fields of science is evolutionary and there are always conflicting research outcomes that need to be carefully evaluated We ingest hundreds of dietary components every day and understanding various metabolic pathways and the effect of interactions of various dietary components in vivo is rather challenging Recent advances in genetic research fostered the emergence of new disciplines such as nutrigenomics proteomics metabolomics and transcriptomics which can shed light on the molecular level interaction between dietary nutrients and the genome These technologies provide the vision for future nutrition research that may unravel how the diet genome interactions modifies the phenotype Food may not be the overall cure for the treatment of every possible disease but the importance of food in both causing and relieving certain problems cannot be neglected This is one of the most researched topics and there is a lot written about it However this book is probably the only text that provides up to date information on the various interrelated topics on food and nutrition that would be of interest to wider community
