The Practice of Execution in Canada Ken Leyton-Brown, 2010-04-10 It is easy to forget that the death penalty was an accepted aspect of Canadian culture and criminal justice from Confederation until 1976 The Practice of Execution in Canada is not about what led some to the gallows and others to escape it Rather it examines how the routine rituals and practices of education can be seen as a crucial social institution Drawing on hundreds of case files Ken Leyton Brown shows that from trial to interment the practice of execution was constrained by law and tradition Despite this however the institution was not rigid Criticism and reform pushed executions out of the public eye and in so doing stripped them of meaningful ritual and made them more vulnerable to criticism Comprehensive and absorbing this groundbreaking study is for anyone who wants a deeper understanding of contemporary debates on capital punishment , Eating Behind Bars Leslie Soble, Alex Busansky, Aishatu R. Yusuf, Impact Justice, 2025-10-28 A vivid exploration of the food crisis affecting millions of incarcerated Americans Eating Behind Bars sheds new light on the power and peril of what s on our plates This eye opening book will convince you that everyone absolutely everyone is deserving of nourishing food that affirms their humanity and dignity Jos Andr s chef and humanitarian Prisons and jails are America s hidden food deserts where hunger and malnourishment coexist with shocking levels of food waste because much of what is served is so awful it ends up in the trash Breakfast lunch and dinner are tense and humiliating when incarcerated people are forced to eat in silence finish meals within minutes and disciplined with food deliberately worse than the standard fare This disturbing portrait came to light in 2020 when the nonprofit Impact Justice released the first ever national examination of food in prison catapulting the issue from the margins of prison litigation to the center of national conversations about mass incarceration and food justice This landmark book digs deeper revealing a systemic drive to cut costs at the expense of health and decency It is also a story of resistance and hope chronicling how incarcerated people and their allies are fighting back as well as exploring farm to tray programs chef led initiatives and other ways to make food in prison a source of healing and bring dignity back to the table Charleston's Trial Daniel J. of treason for organizing the failed Beer Hall Putsch of 1923 He spent much of the following year in prison This was the time of his final transformation into the self proclaimed savior and infallible leader who would interpret and distort Germany's historical traditions to support his vision for the Third Reich Everything that would come the rallies and riots the single minded deployment of a catastrophically evil idea all of it crystallized in the year 1924 It was a year of deep reading and intensive writing a year of courtroom speeches and a sensational trial that made him a national figure a year of working feverishly on the book that became his manifesto Mein Kampf In 1924 historian Peter Ross Range explores this single and pivotal period of Hitler's life He richly depicts the stories and scenes of a year vital to understanding the man and the brutality he wrought in a war that changed the world

Women and the Noose Richard Clark, 2011-10-24 From Sarah Malcolm sentenced to be executed for multiple murders in the early eighteenth century to Ruth Ellis the last woman to be hanged in Britain in 1955 Women and the Noose traces the history of female crime through the cases of seventy women who met their end on the hangman's gallows In this detailed account each woman's story is revealed her background criminal acts and execution Through their tales historian Richard Clark highlights the wide range of crimes once punishable by death from cold blooded murder and crimes of passion to burglary and petty theft He also shows how as time went on execution methods evolved from burning at the stake to death by hanging and how the public came to prefer a more humane private death over the cruel public scenes of earlier periods Clark's frank treatment of events combined with sympathetic revelations about the women's private lives makes this revised and updated edition of Women and the Noose a chilling and surprisingly moving read

Seven Wives and Seven Prisons L. A. Abbott, 1870 The Last Outlaws Katherine Biber, 2025-07-02 Brilliantly reconstructed from contemporary narratives The Last Outlaws is both a gripping work of historical true crime and a richly revealing examination of our nation at its birth The Chant of Jimmie Blacksmith meets Killing for Country In the winter of 1900 Wiradjuri man Jimmy Governor and his brother Joe murdered nine people across New South Wales in a rampage that caused panic in the colony on the cusp of nationhood Triggered it seems by a racist incident they killed men women and children evading a vast manhunt until they were eventually captured Joe was shot in the open Jimmy survived to be put on trial Thus the last man to be outlawed in the colony was hanged in the new nation meeting his end in Darlinghurst Gaol as the Federation decorations were taken down The brothers' names still resonate partly due to Thomas Keneally's novel The Chant of Jimmie Blacksmith and Fred Schepisi's subsequent film but their story has remained distorted and obscure Undertaken with the co operation of the Governor's descendants Katherine Biber's compelling reconstruction of events from the murders themselves to Jimmy's eventual execution brings this extraordinary story back to life In doing so it sheds fresh vivid light on the country that inspired and reacted to the murders Not only did many of the lawyers and politicians involved also play key roles in Federation but the case revealed in microcosm the psychology of the nascent nation its attitudes to land and race its anxiety about a wider First Nations insurrection its obsession with paperwork and the emerging sciences of neuroanatomy and criminology its nepotism religiosity sweeping police powers and sensationalist media More powerfully than the story of Ned Kelly or the Anzacs the fate of Jimmy Governor illuminates the origin story of the Australian nation Populated by a cast of extraordinary characters and compelling detail The Last Outlaws brings the energy of true crime into the telling of history offering an electric new understanding of both our past and our present Foul Deeds and Suspicious Deaths in London's East End Geoffrey Howse,2005-01-01 London s East End has been associated with some of the worst elements of human depravity where foul deeds and murder were commonplace and the area s notoriety was added to by the horrific murders committed by Jack the Ripper For centuries the East End s notoriety for foul deeds has remained unsurpassed in the annals of crime in this country The Role of Food in Resettlement and Rehabilitation Julie Parsons,Kevin Wong,2025-07-16 Exploring the role of food in enabling people with convictions to live a good life this book examines the tangible ways in which growing food cooking and eating together has the potential to be both transformative and small steps incremental in facilitating desistance journeys for people with convictions At its most reductive food sustains us physically it s the fuel which keeps us alive Of course emotionally culturally and socially it does more than that This edited book addresses an under researched area of resettlement and rehabilitation which has real world application to policy and practice in criminal justice and related areas such as mental health physical health employment and education Importantly given the relatability of food growing cooking and eating to the wider public it offers opportunities to connect the desistance journeys and lives of people with convictions to the wider public The Role of Food in Resettlement and Rehabilitation will be of great interest to students and scholars of criminology sociology social work and food studies It is also important reading for government policymakers in criminal justice and health care social policy and criminal justice practitioners including prison governors social workers and providers of services for people with convictions in custody and community Seven Wives and Seven Prisons, Or, Experiences in the Life of a Matrimonial Monomaniac.
