Radical Departure:

Ethel Barrymore Kathleen Spaltr, 2026-01-13 Born in Philadelphia in 1879 Ethel Barrymore would eventually prove herself a vital actor who was suited to radio stage and screen After breaking out with Captain Jinks of the Horse Marines 1901 she performed in many plays including Alice Sit by the Fire 1905 D class e 1919 and The Corn Is Green 1943 before investing her energies in films such as The Spiral Staircase 1946 and Portrait of Jennie 1949 Barrymore ultimately won the Academy Award for Best Supporting Actress for her role in None but the Lonely Heart 1944 opposite Cary Grant She knew Hollywood's nature all too well and she remained committed to the Drew and Barrymore stage acting legacy up until the time of her passing in 1959 Ethel Barrymore Shy Empress of the Footlights emphasizes how Barrymore's career was born from duty not desire Kathleen Spaltr traces Barrymore's story back to her Drew grandparents' emergence as a tour de force in nineteenth century US theater Along the way Spaltr examines the multifaceted relationship the First Lady of the American Theater had with stardom detailing such disappointments as having to relinquish her childhood dream of being a concert pianist in order to pursue acting Spaltr also pulls directly from interviews to illustrate how Barrymore often misinterpreted as demure was exhausted by the stage she so masterfully commanded With far more depth than a typical rise and fall narrative Ethel Barrymore paints an empathetic picture of the struggles Barrymore faced from her ascension to stardom to her abdication of the throne Spaltr's comprehensive and nuanced approach recontextualizes Barrymore's career showcasing just how much her dogged allegiance to the Drew Barrymore legacy cost her Historical Institutionalism and International Relations Thomas Rixen, Lora Anne Viola, Michael Zürn, 2016-05-27 This book applies the analytical approach called Historical Institutionalism HI so far mostly used within comparative politics to the field of International Relations IR It provides an introduction to HI concepts and makes an argument for why it is particularly well suited for understanding current developments within international institutions In particular it helps us to understand the combination of change and stability that together form the dynamics of institutional development over time It is the first book to collect original empirical research applying historical institutionalism to international institutions The chapters cover a range of institutions important to IR including the development of European Union competition policy the global politics of financial reform after the 2008 crisis the institutional development of the World Health Organization membership reforms in the League of Nations and the United Nations Security Council and civil society access to intergovernmental organizations The concluding chapter discusses the relationship of HI to other institutionalist approaches and the role of HI in future IR research Aerial Age, 1920 Study of Reconstruction Finance Corporation United States. Lee,1999-01-01 In this book philosopher Keekok Lee challenges one of the central assumptions of contemporary environmentalism that if we could reduce or eliminate pollution we could save the planet without unduly disrupting our modern industrialized societies Lee argues instead that the process of modernization with its attendant emphasis on technological innovation has fundamentally transformed nature into just another manmade artefact Ultimately what needs to be determined is if nature has value above and beyond human considerations whether aesthetic spiritual or biological This provocative book attempts to reconfigure environmental ethics positing the existence of two separate ontological categories the natural and the artefactual Natural entities be they organisms or inert matter are morally considerable because they possess the ontological value of independence whereas artefacts are created by humans expressly to serve their own interests and ends

The Language and Reality of Time Thomas Sattig, 2006-05-11 Thomas Sattig's book develops a comprehensive framework for doing philosophy of time He brings together a variety of different perspectives linking our ordinary conception of time with the physicist's conception and linking questions about time addressed in metaphysics with questions addressed in the philosophy of language Within this framework Sattig explores the temporal dimension of the material world in relation to the temporal dimension of our ordinary discourse about the world The discussion is centred around the dispute between three dimensionalists and four dimensionalists about whether the temporal profile of ordinary objects mirrors their spatial profile Are ordinary objects extended in time in the same way in which they are extended in space Do they have temporal as well as spatial parts Four dimensionalists say yes three dimensionalists say no Sattig develops an original three dimensionalist picture of the material world and argues that this picture is preferable to its four dimensionalists rivals if ordinary thought and talk are taken seriously Among the issues that Sattig discusses are the metaphysics of persistence change composition
