and the Re-Invention of Public Environmental Art, 1958-2010 "Xin Wu, 2017-07-05 Impeccably researched and richly detailed this book addresses the issue of translation between visual arts and landscape design in the 50 more years career of Patricia Johanson an important artist in the second half of the twentieth century Examining the artist's search for an art of the real as a member of the post World War II New York art world and how such pursuit has led her from painting and sculpture to public garden and environmental art Xin Wu argues for the significance of the process of art creation challenging the centrality of art objects This book is an insightful study to confront a crucial question in the history of art through the work of a contemporary artist It therefore converses with art historians and critics alike as well as advanced readers of twentieth century art Following Johanson's artistic development from its formation in the 1960s American art scene to the very present day across the fields of art architecture garden civil engineering and environmental aesthetics it investigates the process of creation in a transdisciplinary perspective and reveals a view of art as a domain of exploration of key issues for the contemporary world The artist's concept of nature is highlighted and particular impacts of Chinese aesthetics and thought unveiled Based on extensive analysis of unpublished private archives Xin Wu offers us the first ever comprehensive scholarly interpretation of Patricia Johanson's oeuvre including drawings paintings sculptures installations garden proposals and built and unbuilt projects in the United States Brazil Kenya and Korea

Patricia Johanson and the Re-invention of Public Environmental Art, 1958-2010 Xin Wu, 2013 Impeccably researched and richly detailed this book addresses the issue of translation between visual arts and landscape design in the 50 year career of American painter and environmental artist Patricia Johanson Exploring the artist's search for an art of the real as a member of the postwar New York art world it demonstrates that visual translation cannot be understood solely through the works of art instead attention must be paid to the process of creation This book is an insightful attempt to confront a crucial question in the history of art through the work of a contemporary artist

Threads of globalization Melia Belli Bose, 2024-02-06 Threads of globalization is an interdisciplinary volume that brings fashion specific garments motifs materials and methods of production into dialogue with gender and identity in various cultures throughout Asia during the long twentieth century It examines how the shift from artisanal production to fast fashion over the past 150 years has devalued women's textile labour and how skilled textile garment makers and the organizations that support them are preserving and reviving heritage traditions It also offers examples of how socially engaged artists in Asia and the diaspora use their work to criticize labour and environmental abuses in the global fashion industry

Miss Angel Angelica Goodden, 2011-05-31 A word was coined to describe the condition of people stricken with a new kind of fever when the Swiss born artist Angelica Kauffman 1741 1807 came to London in 1766 The whole world it was said is Angelicamad One of the most successful women artists in history a painter who possessed what her friend Goethe called an unbelievable and massive talent Kauffman became the toast of Georgian England captivating society with her portraits mythological scenes and decorative compositions She knew and painted poets novelists and playwrights collaborating with them and illustrating their work her designs adorned the houses of the Grand Tourists she had met and painted in Italy actors statesmen philosophers kings and queen sat to her and she was the force that launched a thousand engravings Despite rumours of relationships with other artists including Sir Joshua Reynolds and an apparently bigamous and annulled first marriage to a pseudo Count Kauffman was adopted by royalty in England and abroad as a model of social and artistic decorum A profoundly learned artist but one who is loved above all for her tender adaptations from classical antiquity and sentimental literature a commercially successful celebrity yet also a founding member of The Royal Academy of arts the virginal creator of sexually ambivalent beings who was one of the hardest headed businesswomen of her age Kauffman s life and work is full of apparent contradictions explored in this first biography in over 80 years Stories of Hope Sandra Abegglen, Tom Burns, Richard F. Heller, Rajan Madhok, Fabian Neuhaus, John Sandars, Sandra Sinfield, Upasana Gitanjali Singh, 2025-07-02 Higher education is in crisis Students are disengaged lecturers are burned out and universities seem more preoccupied with rankings and revenue than with knowledge and wellbeing But rather than dwell on the problems this book focuses on solutions on hope Bringing together a diverse range of educators and practitioners this collection showcases real world innovations that challenge the status quo and offer glimpses of a more humane and inspiring educational future From rethinking systems and curriculum design to fostering imaginative collaboration and exploring the role of technology the book highlights practical hopeful interventions that are already making a difference This is not a manifesto of complaints but an invitation to reimagine education The contributors offer fresh perspectives from around the world illustrating how small but meaningful changes can transform learning spaces empower educators and inspire students For academics teachers administrators and anyone invested in the future of education this book serves as both a source of inspiration and a call to action It is an evolving ecosystem of ideas grounded in practice rich with possibility and rooted in radical hope Now is the time to create the change we wish to see New Narratives of Disability Sara E. Green, Donileen R. Loseke, 2019-11-25 This volume seeks to answer the call for richer more diverse understandings of disability through questions about narrative frameworks in disability research Narrative is a omnipresent meaning producing communication form in social life that is both cultural and personal DIY Detroit Kimberley Kinder, 2016-03-15 For ten years James Robertson walked the twenty one mile round trip from his Detroit home to his factory job when his story went viral it brought him an outpouring of attention and support But what of Robertson s Detroit neighbors likewise stuck in a blighted city without services as basic as a bus line What they re left with after decades of disinvestment and decline is DIY urbanism sweeping their own streets maintaining public parks planting community gardens boarding up empty buildings even acting as real estate agents and landlords for abandoned homes DIY Detroit describes a phenomenon that in our times of austerity measures and market based governance has become woefully routine as inhabitants of deteriorating cities domesticate public services in order to get by The voices that animate this book humanize Detroit s troubles from a middle class African American civic activist drawn back by a crisis of conscience to a young Latina stay at home mom who has never left the city and whose husband works in construction to a European woman with a mixed race adopted family and a passion for social reform who introduces a chicken coop goat shed and market garden into the neighborhood These people show firsthand how living with disinvestment means getting organized to manage public works on a neighborhood scale helping friends and family members solve logistical problems and promoting creativity compassion and self direction as an alternative to broken dreams and passive lifestyles Kimberley Kinder reveals how the efforts of these Detroiters and others like them create new urban logics and transform the expectations residents have about their environments At the same time she cautions against romanticizing such acts which are after all short term solutions to a deep and spreading social injustice that demands comprehensive change
