Religious Pluralism In South Asia And Europe:

Religious Pluralism in South Asia and Europe Jamal Malik, Helmut Reifeld, 2005 12 Essays Bring An Extraordinary Range Of Voices And Experiences To The Dialogue Of Religious Pluralism A Rich And Challenging Collection Of Interest To Those Interested In The Public Debate On The Possibility Of Harmonious Co Existence Between Peoples Of Diverse Faiths Divided Under 3 Man Heads Legitimization Of Plurality Individual Church And Community Living Plurality Secularism, Decolonisation, and the Cold War in South and Southeast Asia Clemens Six, 2017-07-20 The intensifying conflicts between religious communities in contemporary South and Southeast Asia signify the importance of gaining a clearer understanding of how societies have historically organised and mastered their religious diversity Based on extensive archival research in Asia Europe and the United States this book suggests a new approach to interpreting and explaining secularism not as a Western concept but as a distinct form of practice in 20th century global history In six case studies on the contemporary history of India Indonesia Malaysia and Singapore it analyses secularism as a project to create a high degree of distance between the state and religion during the era of decolonisation and the emerging Cold War between 1945 and 1970 To demonstrate the interplay between local and transnational dynamics the case studies look at patterns of urban planning the struggle against religious nationalism conflicts around religious education and anti communism as a dispute over secularism and social reform The book emphasises in particular the role of non state actors as key supporters of secular statehood a role that has thus far not received sufficient attention A novel approach to studying secularism in Asia the book discusses the different ways that global transformations such as decolonisation and the Cold War interacted with local relations to reshape and relocate religion in society It will be of interest to scholars of Religious Studies International Relations and Politics Studies of Empire Cold War Studies Subaltern Studies Modern Asian History and South and Southeast Asian Studies The Development of Pluralism in Modern Britain and France Richard Bonney, David J. B. Trim, 2007 Europe is increasingly multi ethnic and multi faith as well as multi cultural Western democracies now comprise a plurality of fundamental opinions and inherited cultures it is not clear how or if they can be related to each other without involving either oppression or anarchy This debate requires historical understanding and a contemporary grasp of the points at issue amongst different cultures By virtue of their proximity and frequent historical interaction Britain and France lend themselves to comparative study The studies in this volume collectively demonstrate that the affairs of religious minorities in these two countries were not only of concern to themselves and their national established churches Rather over a long term period they had a sustained impact on many other issues All chapters illustrate the problematic shift from a persecutory to a pluralistic mentality Minorities and Populism - Critical Perspectives from South Asia and Europe Volker Kaul, Ananya Vajpeyi, 2020-02-28 This volume assembles renowned scholars to address for the first time the relationship between minorities and populism in South Asia and Europe from a critical perspective Despite the very different and to some extent opposite historical and political

trajectories there is today a convergence on nationalist affirmation and on majoritarian politics between South Asia and Europe In India the Hindu majority rebels against wide ranging minority rights anchored in the Constitution In Europe the refugee crisis and Islamic radicalization bring to the forefront the postcolonial legacy Despite all rhetoric there are obvious dangers of majoritarianism Populist parties are divisive partisan disregard minority rights engage in lynching social division stigmatization and exclusion turning minorities into second class citizens There is a profound structural connection between minorities and the current rise of populism in India and Europe But there remains a deep perplexity and also anxiety Does the presence of minorities necessarily have to trigger majoritarian policies Are there no solutions to this dilemma Many observers considered multicultural policies and affirmative action programs in India as a possible model for Europe to adopt in order to achieve greater integration But eventually they seem to have failed Why so Are multiculturalism and the recognition of differences still options today On the other hand most scholars in India typically reject the European model of liberal democracy and secularism as impracticable in India and locate the reason for the current malaise in the west But is liberal democracy really so bad in dealing with pluralism This volume collecting a selection of the Reset DOC Venice Padua Delhi dialogue series is going to answer two fundamental questions First what precisely is the nexus between minorities and populism in South Asia and Europe Starting from those case studies the authors will also draw some general theoretical inferences about the nature of populism Secondly given the dangers of populism for minorities the volume will look for the most adequate and feasible solutions

Religious Education in Asia Kerry J. Kennedy, John Chi-Kin Lee, 2020-08-30 The book examines ancient religious traditions and modernity in a globalized Asia that is as much in need of a moral compass as it is economic development Religious education has been an aspect of many societies over time and irrespective of culture Yet as globalization advances local values are challenged every day by internationalized discourses and global perspectives It is this context that provides the rationale for this edited book It seeks to understand what forms religious education takes in Asian contexts and what role it continues to play On the one hand the societies which are the subject of this book reflect ancient religious traditions but on the other they are responsible for a significant portion of the world's economic development The book will appeal to researchers interested in the current state of religious education in Asia policymakers with responsibility for religious education and teachers who practice religious education on a daily basis and Islam amongst migrant communities in contexts as diverse as Norway Italy the UK France and Portugal Migration and Religion in Europe sheds light on the meaning of religious practices to diasporic communities It examines the manner in which such practices can be used by migrants and local societies to produce distance or proximity as well as their political significance in various host nations Offering insights into the affirmation of national identities and cultures and the implications of this for governance and political discourse within Europe this book will appeal to scholars with interests in anthropology religion and society migration transnationalism and gender Dynamics of Islam in the Modern World Saeed Zarrabi-Zadeh, Armina Omerika, Thomas K.
