The International Politics of Eurasia: v. 3: The Politics of Religion in Russia and the New States of Eurasia S. Frederick Starr,Karen Dawisha,2016-06-16 First Published in 2015 This ambitious ten volume series develops a comprehensive analysis of the evolving world role of the post Soviet successor states Each volume considers a different factor influencing the relationship between internal politics and international relations in Russia and in the western and southern tiers of newly independent states The contributors were chosen not only for their recognized expertise but also to ensure a stimulating diversity of perspectives and a dynamic mix of approaches This is Volume3 The Politics of Religion in Russia and the New States of Eurasia Soviet and Muslim Eren Tasar,2017-11-01 Central Asia was the sole Muslim region of the former Russian Empire that lacked a centralized Islamic organization or muftiate When Soviet leader Joseph Stalin created such a body for the region as part of his religious reforms during World War II he acknowledged that the Muslim faith could enjoy some legal protection under Communist rule From a skeletal and disorganized body run by one family of Islamic scholars out of a modest house in Tashkent's old city this muftiate acquired great political importance in the eyes of Soviet policymakers and equally significant symbolic significance for many Muslims Relying on recently declassified Central Asian archival sources most of them never seen before by historians Eren Tasar argues that Islam did not merely survive the decades from World War II until the Soviet collapse in 1991 but actively shaped the political and social context of Soviet Central Asia Muslim figures institutions and practices evolved in response to the social and political reality of Communist rule Through an analysis that spans all aspects of Islam under Soviet rule from debates about religion inside the Communist Party to the muftiate's efforts to acquire control over mosques across Central Asia changes in Islamic practices and dogma and overseas propaganda targeting the Islamic World Soviet and Muslim offers a radical new reading of Islam's resilience and evolution under atheism

The Christian Right & US Foreign Policy in the 21 st Century Mohd Afandi Salleh, 2020-01-07 This book is about the role of the Christian Right in the US foreign policy decision making process It reveals that the Christian Right has long been fascinated with some international issues in general and US foreign policy in particular The interest of the movement in international issues increased markedly during the George W Bush administration 2000 2009 During this period the movement successfully widened its activism from domestic social conservative issues to foreign policy issues by participating in articulating and lobbying for its religious version of American foreign policy In assessing the role of the Christian Right in US foreign policy making this dissertation examines aspects of US foreign policy namely Israel international religious freedom and global humanitarianism Based on these three aspects the Christian Right is seen as skilled in framing and defining issues The Christian Right seems effective in selecting and prioritizing international issues that have a reasonable chance of being picked up on by foreign policy decision makers especially in Congress Moreover the Christian Right has shown its maturity in seeking engagement and cooperation with other organizations regardless of whether they are secular or religious to advance its international goals Finally in pursuing and conveying its international agenda the Christian Right has adopted a more moderate and mundane approach Instead of using its traditional religious rhetoric the Christian Right has successfully projected its foreign policy preferences into the conventional realist discourse of American foreign policy that was largely based on the objective of national interest and national security
