Religious Convictions

Kent Greenawalt

Religious Convictions:

Religious Convictions and Political Choice Kent Greenawalt, 1987-12-10 How far may Americans properly rely on their religious beliefs when they make and defend political decisions For example are ordinary citizens or legislators doing something wrong when they consciously allow their decisions respecting abortion laws to be determined by their religious views Despite its intense contemporary relevance the full dimensions of this issue have until now not been thoroughly examined Religious Convictions and Political Choice represents the first attempt to fill this gap Beginning with an account of the basic premises of our liberal democracy Greenawalt moves to a comparison between rational secular grounds of decision and grounds based on religious convictions He discusses particular issues such as animal rights and abortion showing how religious convictions can bear on an individual's decisions about them and inquires whether reliance on such convictions is compatible with liberal democratic premises In conclusion he argues that citizens cannot be expected to rely exclusively on rational secular grounds

Religious Convictions and Political Choice Kent Greenawalt, 1991 How far may Americans properly rely on their religious beliefs when they make and defend political decisions Are decisions based on religious convictions compatible with liberal democratic premises Kent Greenawalt dissects such issues as abortion and animal rights to illustrate secular and religious bases for decision making concluding that citizens cannot be expected to rely exclusively on rational secular grounds

Dimension of Religions and Non-religious Convictions Within Intercultural Education Council of Europe. Committee of Ministers, Council of Europe Publishing, 2009-01-01 This policy recommendation defines the perspective from which religions and non religious convictions are to be taken into account in a framework of intercultural education while setting out a number of principles objectives and teaching and learning methods It was adopted by the Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe on December 10 2008 as the final outcome of the project carried out by the Steering Committee for Education on the New Challenge of Intercultural Education Religious Diversity and Dialogue in Europe 2002 2005 It can be used as a reference by policy makers curricula designers trainers and teachers in their everyday work to develop competences for intercultural dialogue and to remove obstacles that prevent appropriate treatment of the diversity of religions and non religious convictions in school settings Publisher's description

Religious Conviction in Liberal Politics Christopher J. Eberle, 2002-05-02 What role should a citizen's religious convictions play in her political activities Is she for example permitted to decide on the basis of her religious convictions to support laws that criminalize abortion or discourage homosexual relations Christopher Eberle is deeply at odds with the dominant orthodoxy among political theorists about the relation of religion and politics His argument is that a citizen may responsibly ground her political commitments on religious beliefs even if her only reasons for her political commitments are religious in nature His ideal of citizenship allows citizens to engage in politics without privatizing their religious commitments and yet does not license mindless and intransigent sectarianism An inherently controversial book that offers a substantial challenge to political liberalism it will be read by students and professionals in philosophy political science law and religious studies and general readers seeking insight into the relationship between religious commitments and liberal politics

Signposts - Policy and practice for teaching about religions and non-religious world views in intercultural education Robert Jackson, 2014-08-01 How can the study of religions and non religious world views contribute to intercultural education in schools in Europe An important recommendation from the Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe Recommendation CM Rec 2008 12 on the dimension of religions and non religious convictions within intercultural education aimed to explain the nature and objectives of this form of education Signposts goes much further by providing advice to policy makers schools including teachers senior managers and governors and teacher trainers on tackling issues arising from the recommendation Taking careful account of feedback from education officials teachers and teacher trainers in Council of Europe member states Signposts gives advice for example on clarifying the terms used in this form of education developing competences for teaching and learning and working with different didactical approaches creating safe space for moderated student to student dialogue in the classroom helping students to analyse media representations of religions discussing non religious world views alongside religious perspectives handling human rights issues relating to religion and belief and linking schools including schools of different types to one another and to wider communities and organisations Signposts is not a curriculum or a policy statement It aims to give policy makers schools and teacher trainers in the Council of Europe member states as well as others who wish to use it the tools to work through the issues arising from interpretation of the recommendation to meet the needs of individual countries Signposts results from the work of an international panel of experts convened jointly by the Council of Europe and the European Wergeland Centre and is written on the group's behalf by Professor Robert Jackson

Christian Ethics Introduced Hans O. Tiesel, 2024-03-11 Christian Ethics Introduced asks why humans count as ends in themselves The biblical answer was is that humans have standing inherent worth as creatures in the image of God This traditional answer yielded to seventeenth and eighteenth century enlightenment secularism To these secularists human reason promised to be a surer and more peaceable foundation for a just culture than religion Human rationality the light of human reason would enlighten and improve the human condition Two world wars and more realistic trends in new social sciences created not just awareness of human irrationality but fostered skepticism of sound foundations for morality and justice It seemed that both traditional religion and enlightened reason fell short of what had been hoped And the cause of failure may not lie in traditional religion or in human irrationality Rather the problem might lie in human conduct Specifically it may lie in the human inclination to favor self over others of the me outranking the we Christian responses to the human failure to live a moral and just life recognize the persistence of immoral conduct acknowledge it in regard to oneself ask for forgiveness and make amends and peace with God and with those wronged Bases of Religious Belief, Historic and Ideal Charles Mellen Tyler, 1897 The State of Religious Belief Richard Bevan Braithwaite, 1927
