Remaking Of Radio:

The Remaking of Radio Vincent M. Ditingo, 1995 In this era of advancing media technology radio has endured because it has successfully adapted to change The Remaking of Radio is a comprehensive examination of those adaptations and of the many factors shaping today's ten billion dollar commercial radio industry Media expert Vincent M Ditingo explores and explains the principal characteristics of radio's new age including The initial deregulation of the industry by the FCC resulting in a financial investment frenzy The introduction of satellite technology broadening the scope of networks while creating a trend back to the national personality programs of the 1930s and 1940s AM's decline as a result of the explosive growth of FM and its partial recovery with the boom in talk radio Radio's strengthened financial stability stemming from the FCC's relaxation of local and national ownership limits and The move towards digital audio transmissions improving radio's service to both advertisers and listeners Vincent M Ditingo is an award winning business writer media consultant and educator He is a former senior editor of radio for Broadcasting and Cable and is founder and president of Ditingo Media Enterprises in New York City

Remaking History Afsar Mohammad, 2024-05-31 The story this book follows begins on August 15 1947 As the new nation states of India and Pakistan prepared to negotiate land and power the citizens of the princely state of Hyderabad experienced the unravelling of an intense political conflict between the Union government of India and the local ruler the Nizam of Hyderabad The author explores how the state of Hyderabad was struggling to produce its own tools of cultural renaissance and modernity in the background of the Union Government of India's deployment of the central army the Nizam's idea of an Muslim state and the Telangana Armed struggle fostered by leftist parties With evidence from the oral histories of various sections both Muslims and non Muslims and a wide variety of written sources and historical documents this book captures such an intense moment of new politics and cultural discourses

The Broadcaster's Guide to RBDS Scott Wright, 1997-07-29 This handbook is intended to give the broadcast industry an authoritative guide to the Radio Data System RDS also called Radio Broadcast Data System RBDS Since the standard's adoption about 700 stations have begun broadcasting RDS in the United States There is a wide variety of encoding equipment with prices starting as low as 400 and over 30 models of RDS receivers have been introduced for cars home receivers portable and even PC receivers Automobile manufacturer's such as General Motors Ford Audi and Porsch now offer RDS on new vehicles Yet despite all the support equipment in place the FM broadcaster has been reluctant to implement and utilize this service mainly because of a lack of understanding of what RDS can do for the station This book finally provides the information required to understand RDS and its possibilities on a variety of levels so that everyone involved in radio can make the most of it Station owner program director salesperson and talent alike will find the information he or she requires to maximize the possibilities of this new technology Each feature of the system is explained in terms of its practical implementation at the station and interviews with broadcasters currently using the system add a hands on perspective Scott Wright is a recognized pioneer in RDS development As the designer of Delco Electronics first RDS receiver he has been extremely active in the development of the RDS standard in the US and in efforts to educate the broadcast community about its potential He has represented Delco at the European Broadcasting Union s EBU RDS Forum and is currently the Chairman of the National Radio Systems Committee RBDS Subcommittee the US standard setting body He is also a member of the Electronics Industries Association s EIA RDS Forum

Remaking the American Patient Nancy Tomes, 2016-01-06 In a work that spans the twentieth century Nancy Tomes questions the popular and largely unexamined idea that in order to get good health care people must learn to shop for it Remaking the American Patient explores the consequences of the consumer economy and American medicine having come of age at exactly the same time Tracing the robust development of advertising marketing and public relations within the medical profession and the vast realm we now think of as health care Tomes considers what it means to be a good patient As she shows this history of the coevolution of medicine and consumer culture tells us much about our current predicament over health care in the United States Understanding where the shopping model came from why it was so long resisted in medicine and why it finally triumphed in the late twentieth century helps explain why despite striking changes that seem to empower patients so many Americans remain unhappy and confused about their status as patients today

Making Media Futures Phillip H. Roth, Ana María Guzmán Olmos, Alin Olteanu, Stefan Bösch, 2025-04-22 Making Media Futures offers a multi perspectival exploration of how imaginaries and knowledge of the future are constructed in and through various media The volume addresses the discursive dimensions of imaginaries and future visions as well as the impact of technological material and cultural conditions on the propagation of future discourses through media Providing both theoretically detailed and empirically rich investigations the contributions offer a wide range of cases spanning the century from the end of World War II until today and looking at examples from the Southern Hemisphere as well as the Global North Bringing together scholars in media studies science and technology studies STS and the history and philosophy of technology the chapters discuss future visions and imaginations of quantum computing the uncertainty and impact of AI based text to image generation the ideology behind 5G telecommunication standards imaginaries of the Internet of Things transmedia strategies in global and local climate protests how broadcast radio was implicated in the evangelical mission imaginary and how early visions of automating scholarly information management shaped standards and ideals of academia The volume thus complements existing approaches and analytical frameworks for the study of imaginaries and futures discourses with perspectives that are sensitive to the plurality of media specific conditions and technologies The book will interest students and scholars working in media studies STS history and philosophy as well as at the intersection of engineering humanities and social sciences on matters such as sustainability ethics and responsible innovation

early network radio in America produced a new type of community marked by the contradictions tensions between public private mass media democracy nation family DIY Utopia Amber Day,2016-12-22 At first glance contemporary popular culture filled with bleak images of the future seems to have given up on the possibility of positive collective change Below the surface however alternative culture is rife with artist led projects activist movements and subcultural communities of interest that seek to spark the collective imagination and to encourage hunger for alternatives More playfully self conscious than past utopian movements today s are often whimsical or ironic but are still entirely earnest Artists invite us to re author city maps or archive individual ideas for the future while maker collectives urge us to rethink our relationship to consumer goods All seem to have grown out of a similar do it yourself ethos and alternative culture One of the central conflicts informing these case studies is that while it remains immensely difficult to envision anything outside of the current system of consumer capitalism there is nevertheless a powerful desire to take it apart in piecemeal ways We see the longing for new social and political narratives new forms of communion and sociability and new imaginings of the possible longings that are currently unmet by mainstream culture but that are taking expression in myriad ways at the local level Taken as a whole this collection examines what our grand ideals and playful daydreams tell us about ourselves Technologies of Freedom Ithiel de Sola Pool,2009-07-01 How can we preserve free speech in an electronic age In a masterly synthesis of history law and technology Ithiel de Sola Pool analyzes the confrontation between the regulators of the new communications technology and the First Amendment Making Media Work Derek Johnson,Derek Kompare,Avi Santo,2014-08 The management and labor culture of the entertainment industry In popular culture management in the media industry is frequently understood as the work of network executives studio developers and market researchers the suits who oppose the more productive forces of creative talent and subject that labor to the inefficiencies and risk aversion of bureaucratic hierarchies However such portrayals belie the reality of how media management operates as a culture of shifting discourses dispositions and tactics that create meaning generate value and shape media work throughout each moment of production and consumption Making Media Work aims to provide a deeper and more nuanced understanding of management within the entertainment industries Drawing from work in critical sociology and cultural studies the collection theorizes management as a pervasive yet flexible set of principles drawn upon by a wide range of practitioners artists talent scouts performers directors show runners and more in their ongoing efforts to articulate relationships and bridge potentially discordant forces within the media industries The contributors interrogate managerial labor and identity shine a light on how management understands its roles within cultural and creative contexts and reconfigure the complex relationship between labor and managerial authority as productive rather than solely prohibitive Engaging with primary evidence gathered through interviews archives and trade materials the essays offer tremendous insight into how management is understood and performed within media industry contexts The volume as a whole traces the changing roles of management both historically and in the contemporary moment within US and international contexts and across a range of media forms from film and television to video games and social media

Transnational Television Remakes Claire Perkins, Constantine Verevis, 2018-02-02 Providing a cross-cultural investigation of the current phenomenon of transnational television remakes and assembling an international team of scholars this book draws upon ideas from transnational media and cultural studies to offer an understanding of global cultural borrowings and format translation While recognising the commercial logic of global television formats that animates these remakes the collection describes the traffic in transnational television remakes not as a one-way process of cultural homogenisation but rather as an interstitial process through which cultures borrow from and interact with one another More specifically the chapters attend to recent debates around the transnational flows of local and global media cultures to focus on questions in the televisual realm where issues of serialisation and distribution are prevalent What happens when a series is remade from one national television system to another How is cultural translation handled across series and seasons of differing length and scope What are the narrative and dramaturgical proximities and differences between local and other versions How does the ready availability of original foreign series shape an audience's reception of a local remake How does the rhetoric of Quality TV impact on how these remakes are understood and valued In answering these and other questions this volume at once acknowledges both the historical antecedents to transnational trade in broadcast culture and the global explosion in and cultural significance of transnational television remakes since the beginning of the twenty first century This book was originally published as a special issue of Continuum The Making of Gone With The Wind Steve Wilson,2014-09-01 Companion publication to the Harry Ransom Center s exhibition September 9 2014 January 4 2015 marking the seventy fifth anniversary of the film s release Gas Logic ,1922 Sonic Sovereignty Liz Przybylski,2023-07-25 As an embodied practice of Indigenous self determination through musical expression sonic sovereignty offers a frame to listen for the effects of expressive culture in the world Experimenting with possibilities of listening in relation to time and perspective this book coalesces reflections across time and vantage point so that readers can listen backwards and forwards into possible futures The Grand Rapids Furniture Record ,1928 Southern California Business ,1929 Investigation of Concentration of Economic Power United States.
