REMEMBERING HEAVEN'S FACE

A Story of Rescue in War-torn Vietnam

JOHN BALABAN

Remembering Heavens Face

Nick Turse

Remembering Heavens Face:

Remembering Heaven's Face John Balaban, 2002 The author recounts his years in Vietnam as a conscientious objector serving as a teacher and a rescue worker for an organization that sent children with war injuries to the United States

Toxic Truth Lydia Denworth, 2018-07-19 They didn't start out as environmental warriors Clair Patterson was a geochemist focused on determining the age of the Earth Herbert Needleman was a pediatrician treating inner city children But in the chemistry lab and the hospital ward they met a common enemy lead It was literally everywhere in gasoline and paint of course but also in water pipes and food cans toothpaste tubes and toys ceramics and cosmetics jewelry and batteries Though few people worried about it at the time lead was also toxic In Toxic Truth journalist Lydia Denworth tells the little known stories of these two men who were among the first to question the wisdom of filling the world with such a harmful metal Denworth follows them from the ice and snow of Antarctica to the schoolyards of Philadelphia and Boston as they uncovered the enormity of the problem and demonstrated the irreparable harm lead was doing to children In heated conferences and courtrooms the halls of Congress and at the Environmental Protection Agency the scientist and doctor were forced to defend their careers and reputations in the face of incredible industry opposition It took courage passion and determination to prevail against entrenched corporate interests and politicized government bureaucracies But Patterson Needleman and their allies did finally get the lead out since it was removed from gasoline paint and food cans in the 1970s the level of lead in Americans bodies has dropped 90 percent Their success offers a lesson in the dangers of putting economic priorities over public health and a reminder of the way science and individuals can change the world The fundamental questions raised by this battle what constitutes disease how to measure scientific independence and how to quantify acceptable risk echo in every environmental issue of today from the plastic used to make water bottles to greenhouse gas emissions And the most basic question how much do we need to know about what we put in our environment is perhaps more relevant today than it has ever been

Fundamentalism in America Philip Melling, 2013-12-02 This important book challenges the idea that religious fundamentalism can adequately be understood as a paranoid xenophobic faith It demonstrates instead how it draws upon a long tradition of evangelical and millennialist scripture in its engagement with issues at the spiritual and ethical core of postmodernity in the United States The author examines the varieties of fundamentalism as they appear in prophecy sermon film and fiction In its wide ranging consideration of the rhetoric of the New World Order the literature of prophecy Cold War films television evangelism cross border texts and post nationalist writing Fundamentalism in America provides a vital and compelling account of the present state of religious and nationality identity in the United States

Revisiting Vietnam Julia Bleakney, 2013-09-13 This book explores the memorializing practices of American veterans of the Vietnam War at several of the most significant contemporary sites of memory in the United States and Vietnam These sites include veterans memoirs museum exhibits replicas of the National Vietnam Veterans

Memorial and tourism to Vietnam Because war memorializing has since the late 1960s shifted focus from national soul searching to personal identity and recovery I emphasize how contemporary narratives of the war shaped more by memory than by history often are detached from the specific history of the war and its political controversies Drawing on trauma and cultural memory scholarship as well as empirical data gathered during field research in the U S and Vietnam the author examines how veterans memorializing practices have become increasingly individualized commodified and conservative since the early 1980s

Kill Anything That Moves Nick Turse, 2013-01-15 Based on classified documents and first person interviews a startling history of the American war on Vietnamese civilians The American Empire Project Winner of the Ridenhour Prize for Reportorial Distinction Americans have long been taught that events such as the notorious My Lai massacre were isolated incidents in the Vietnam War carried out by just a few bad apples But as award winning journalist and historian Nick Turse demonstrates in this groundbreaking investigation violence against Vietnamese noncombatants was not at all exceptional during the conflict Rather it was pervasive and systematic the predictable consequence of official orders to kill anything that moves Drawing on more than a decade of research into secret Pentagon archives and extensive interviews with American veterans and Vietnamese survivors Turse reveals for the first time the workings of a military machine that resulted in millions of innocent civilians killed and wounded what one soldier called a My Lai a month

Devastating and definitive Kill Anything That Moves finally brings us face to face with the truth of a war that haunts America to this day

America in the World Frank Costigliola, Michael J. Hogan, 2013-12-23 This volume includes historiographical surveys of American foreign relations since 1941 by some of the country's leading historians Some of the essays offer sweeping overviews of the major trends in the field of foreign international relations history Others survey the literature on US relations with particular regions of the world or on the foreign policies of presidential administrations The result is a comprehensive assessment of the historical literature on US foreign policy that highlights recent developments in the field

Late Thoughts on an Old War Philip D. Beidler, 2010-01-25 Philip D. Beidler who served as an armored cavalry platoon leader in Vietnam sees less and less of the hard won perspective of the common soldier in what America has made of that war Each passing year he says dulls our sense of immediacy about Vietnam's costs opening wider the temptation to make it something more necessary neatly contained and justifiable than it should ever become Here Beidler draws on deeply personal memories to reflect on the war's lingering aftereffects and the shallow evasive ways we deal with them Beidler brings back the war he knew in chapters on its vocabulary music literature and film His catalog of soldier slang reveals how finely a tour of Vietnam could hone one's sense of absurdity His survey of the war's pop hits looks for meaning in the soundtrack many veterans still hear in their heads Beidler also explains how Viet Pulp literature about snipers tunnel rats and other hard core types has pushed aside masterpieces like Duong Thu Huong's Without a Name Likewise we learn why the movie The Deer Hunter doesn't get it about Vietnam but why Platoon and We Were Soldiers sometimes nearly do As

Beidler takes measure of his own wartime politics and morals he ponders the divergent careers of such figures as William Calley the army lieutenant whose name is synonymous with the civilian massacre at My Lai and an old friend poet John Balaban a conscientious objector who performed alternative duty in Vietnam as a schoolteacher and hospital worker Beidler also looks at Vietnam alongside other conflicts including the war on international terrorism He once hoped he says that Vietnam had fractured our sense of providential destiny and geopolitical invincibility but now realizes with dismay that those myths are still with us Americans have always wanted their apocalypses writes Beidler and they have always wanted them now

Surviving Vietnam Bruce P. Dohrenwend, Nick Turse, Thomas J. Yager, Melanie M. Wall, 2018-12-05 Uniquely using historical material and military records as well as personal interviews and clinical diagnoses Surviving Vietnam focuses on veterans war zone experiences and the development in some of PTSD It addresses controversies regarding reported rates of PTSD and the importance of exposure to traumatic events compared with pre war personal vulnerability

International Who's Who in Poetry 2005 Europa Publications, 2004 Provides up to date profiles on the careers of leading and emerging poets

Entwined with Vietnam Theodore M. Hammett, 2022-07-26 In 1968 Theodore Hammett entered a war he believed was wrong pressured by his father's threat to disown him if he withdrew from a Marine Corps officer candidate program He hated the Vietnam War and soon grew to hate Vietnam and its people As a supply officer at a field hospital uncomfortably near the DMZ he employed thievery bargaining and lies to secure supplies for his unit and retained his sanity with the help of alcohol music and the promise of going home In 2008 he returned to Vietnam for a five year second tour to assist in improving HIV AIDS policies and prevention programs in Hanoi His memoir recounts his service at the height of the war and how the country he detested became his second home
