Constructing Interpersonality Enrique Lafuente-Millán, Rosa Lorés-Sanz, Pilar Mur-Dueñas, 2010-02-19 The view that academic discourse is by definition impersonal has long been superseded. It seems unquestionable now that the interpersonal component of texts that is the ways in which the writers project themselves and their audience in the discourse is an essential factor determining the success of scholarly communication and has become a fundamental issue in the field of English for Academic Purposes (EAP). Interpersonality is the key issue around which the articles in this edited book focus on. The eighteen contributions included in this volume provide a wide exploratory view of the many academic genres in which interpersonal is manifested and the various analytical approaches from which the textual manifestation of that interpersonal can be studied. The varied origin of the contributors is also representative of the global interest that the issue of interpersonal arouses in the field of academic discourse analysis at an international level. The present volume constitutes a highly valuable tool for applied linguists and discourse analysts with an interest in EAP as well as for students, instructors and language teachers interested in academic discourse. The book may also be of interest to other agents intervening in the research publication process such as translators, proofreaders, reviewers and editors.

English as a Scientific and Research Language Ramón Plo Alastrué, Carmen Pérez-Llantada, 2015-07-31 This volume examines the role of English in academic and research settings in Europe and provides recommendations on the challenges posed by the dominance of English over national languages as languages of science and research dissemination, the need for language support for academics that need to disseminate their research in English and the effect of past and present language policies.

Manual of Applied Romance Linguistics Vera Mathieu, Julia Montemayor Gracia, Claudia Polzin-Haumann, 2025-06-16 This handbook provides a systematic overview, firstly of the basic concepts and secondly of current research topics and trends in Applied Romance Linguistics from a theoretical, methodological and empirical perspective. It takes account of both traditional and innovative research approaches. Following a general introduction to the field and its major topics, methods and objectives, the presentation is divided into four thematic sections: methods and methodology, language, society and knowledge, language acquisition and language education, specialised communication and transfer. The volume is geared towards researchers, teachers and students working in the fields of linguistic and communication studies but also addresses the general public. It aims to provide useful information for anyone dealing with problems of language and communication in their professional or private lives and illustrates career options for graduates of Romance Linguistics.
