Catalogue of the Western Asiatic Seals in the British Museum Terence Mitchell, Ann Searight, 2007-05-30 This volume publishes drawings of the impressions of stamp seals preserved on Babylonian and Assyrian cuneiform tablets and other clay objects in the collections of The British Museum The majority of these seals bears precise dates ranging from the 9th to the 2nd centuries B C represents the Neo Assyrian Neo Babylonian Achaemenian and Hellenistic periods and are set out in chronological order so that the changes in seal design can be clearly seen Among the images from the Hellenistic period are representations of zodiacal signs The volume also includes details of seal impressions on the handles of pottery jars from Palestine Full bibliographical references to previous publications of the cuneiform texts are given and the volume concludes with concordances and indices including a pictorial index of all the seal images arranged typologically In the Service of the King Nili S Fox, 2000-12-31 Titles have always been conferred on persons both to identify their functions in society and to assign honorary status In Egypt even more than in Mesopotamia function related and honorary titles were so valued that officials and functionaries of varying stations collected the titles accrued in their lifetime and preserved them in a titulary the ancient equivalent of a resume Israelites serving at the royal courts in Jerusalem and Samaria or in local administrations also held title but the sources suggest far fewer of them than their neighbors Nili Fox analyzes the titles and roles of civil officials and functionaries in Israel and Judah during the monarchy including key ministers of the central government regional administrators and palace attendants The nineteen titles fall into three categories status related titles function related titles and miscellaneous designations that could be held by a variety of officials Fox sets these Israelite and Judahite titles in their ancient context through extensive study of Egyptian Akkadian and Ugaritic records She also draws upon the corpus of Hebrew epigraphic material which allows her to explore economic components of state organization such as royal land grants supply networks and systems of accounting which would be impossible to understand on the basis of the Hebrew Bible alone Fox also treats the widely debated issue of whether Israelite state organization was influenced by foreign models and if so how much The evidence of non Hebrew sources offers little concrete material to substantiate theories that Israel modeled its government after a foreign prototype and Fox offers a more finessed approach Many features of Israelite administration are best explained as basic elements of any monarchic structure in the ancient Near East that developed to satisfy the needs of an evolving local system Other seemingly foreign features have a long tradition in Canaan and probably were naturally assimilated Fox recognizes the interconnections between the cultures in the region but emphasizes the need to closely examine the Israelite system with internal evidence

 Tigay The Yehud Stamp Impressions Oded Lipschits, David S. Vanderhooft, 2011-06-30 The study of the yehud stamp impressions which appear on the handles or bodies of store jars has persisted for over a century beginning with the discovery of the first of these impressions at Gezer in 1904 Nevertheless until the pioneering work of Stern in 1973 who cataloged classified and discussed the stamp impressions known up to 1970 discovery and publication of new stamp impressions were scattered and analysis was cursory at best Furthermore a gap in research has persisted since then Now Oded Lipschits and David Vanderhooft are pleased to present a comprehensive catalog through the winter of 2008 9 of published and unpublished yehud stamp impressions with digital photographs and complete archaeological and publication data for each impression This long overdue resource provides a secure foundation for general reflection on the whole corpus and illuminates more narrow fields such as stratigraphy paleography administration historical geography and Persian period economic developments within Yehud The catalog clarifies what is nebulous apart from a complete corpus matters such as distribution petrographic analysis of the clay new readings of the seal legends use of the toponym yehud and significance of the title phwa The scope of this catalog renders it a worthwhile tool for all future study of these invaluable artifacts and the period of history that produced them Judah and the Judeans in the Achaemenid Period Oded Lipschits, Gary N.
 Knoppers, Manfred Oeming, 2011-06-30 In April 2008 an international colloquium was held at the University of Heidelberg the fourth convocation of a group of scholars with some rotating members who gathered to discuss the status of Judah and the Judeans in the exilic and postexilic periods The goal of this gathering was specifically to address the question of national identity in the period when many now believe this very issue was in significant foment and development the era of the Persian Achaemenid domination of the ancient Near East This volume contains most of the papers delivered at the Heidelberg conference considering the matter under two rubrics 1 the biblical evidence and the diversity of data from the Bible and 2 the cultural historical social and environmental factors affecting the formation of national identity Contributors K
