Medieval Slavdom The Rise Of Russia:

Medieval Slavdom and the Rise of Russia Frank Nowak, 1970 The Course of Russian History, 5th Edition Melvin C. Wren, Taylor Stults, 2009-01-08 Now in its fifth edition this definitive history of the Russian land and people builds on its success as a fascinating survey of two thousand years of struggle to harness vast resources and talents into a powerful and cohesive nation From its beginning as a savage and exotic land Russia underwent a complex evolution of political social and religious forces the barbarism of its internal conflicts in seeming contradiction with its goals to advance in the realms of technology art education and high culture From the conflicts of the fantastically wealthy ruling class to the poor and oppressed masses emerged the Communist party and the enigmatic figures whose charismatic manipulation of political power reflected the myriad rulers before them Finally as the modern world watched this great entity collapsed in a devastatingly brief time millennia of precarious conflict proving too much for the tenuous coalescence of twentieth century politics Written in an engaging and accessible style this text presents students with a comprehensive look at the momentous events and legendary figures which helped shape Russia's turbulent history The Enlightened Despots Geoffrey Bruun, 1929 Orthodox Mercantilism Alex Feldman, 2024-04-02 This book demonstrates how the political economy of mercantilism was not simply a Western invention by various cities and kingdoms during the Renaissance but was the natural by product of perpetually limited growth rates and rulers relentless pursuits of bullion It contributes to discussions of the economic history surrounding the so called Great Divergence between East and West which would consequently lend context and credence to differences of economic thought in the world today Additionally it seeks to explain present economic thought as tacitly derived from implicit antique paradigms This book advances fields of research from numismatics and sigillography to historical materialism and historical political economy Divided into three parts Orthodox Mercantilism first examines the political theology the sovereignty of the cumene from the early 11th century Second it analyzes its peripheral legislation from the customary laws of newly Christianized dynasties up to the Kormaja Kniga's adoption the Nomokanon by 13th century Orthodox dynasties across Eastern Europe Third it explores how these dynasties and their own satellite dynasties hoarded finite bullion to pay for defense resulting in the 11-14th century coinless period across Eastern Europe and Western Eurasia Appealing to students and scholars alike this book will be of interest to those studying and researching economic and mercantile history particularly in the context of Byzantine and Eastern European societies The Russian Student, 1929 The Commercial Revolution, 1440-1776 Laurence Bradford Packard, 1927 The Industrial Revolution Frederick Charles Dietz, 1927 Catalog of Copyright Entries. Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office, 1957 The Second Hundred Years War, 1689-1815 Arthur Howland Buffinton, 1929 The Nature and the Image of Princely Power in Kievan Rus', 980-1054 Walter K. Hanak, 2013-10-10 In The Nature and the Image of Princely Power in Kievan Rus' 980-1054 Walter K Hanak offers a critical analysis of the annalistic literary and other works that provide rich if conflicting and contradictory information on the nature of princely power and their image or literary representations The primary sources demonstrate an interaction between the reality and the notions concerning princely power and how this power generates an image of itself The author also analyses the textual incongruities that appear to be a reflection of a number of currents Byzantine Varangian Khazar and Eastern Slavic The secondary sources provide a variety of interpretations which Hanak seeks to uphold and dispute His stress however is to view this evidence in the light of a newly Christianized state and the launching of a maturative process in its early history
