Monitoring Evaluation Empower:

Empowerment Evaluation David M. Fetterman, Shakeh J. Kaftarian, Abraham Wandersman, 2014-09-10 This Second Edition celebrates 21 years of the practice of empowerment evaluation a term first coined by David Fetterman during his presidential address for the American Evaluation Association Since that time this approach has altered the landscape of evaluation and has spread to a wide range of settings in more than 16 countries In this Second Edition of Empowerment Evaluation Knowledge and Tools for Self Assessment Evaluation Capacity Building and Accountability an outstanding group of evaluators from academia government nonprofits and foundations assess how empowerment evaluation has been used in practice since the publication of the landmark 1996 edition The book includes 10 empowerment evaluation principles a number of models and tools to help put empowerment evaluation into practice reflections on the history and future of the approach and illustrative case studies from a number of different projects in a variety of diverse settings The Second Edition offers readers the most current insights into the practice of this stakeholder involvement approach to evaluation One of the greatest evaluation innovations of the past two decades has been the development of a professional and systematic approach to self evaluation called empowerment evaluation This book offers you the latest cutting edge understanding of this powerful innovation and evaluation approach May you be inspired and empowered as you adventure through the chapters in this outstanding volume Stewart I Donaldson President elect American Evaluation Association Claremont Graduate University This twenty year follow up to the original provides even better and richer stories about the versatility and utility of empowerment work in most social contexts It expands our understanding of how empowerment evaluation is foundational to any effort to improve and measure growth in any community social environment Robert Schumer University of Minnesota This text brings empowerment evaluation to life and in doing so it offers all evaluators a large body of relevant concepts and tools for designing implementing and assessing evaluation efforts that engage democratize and strengthen stakeholder s self determination Gary J Skolits The University of Tennessee Knoxville Poverty Reduction and Pro-Poor Growth The Role of Empowerment OECD, 2012-04-27 Empowerment of those living in poverty is both a critical driver and an important measure of poverty reduction This report aims to build donor understanding of empowerment and how best to support it The Process of Women's Empowerment Sara Longwe, 2024-09-17 This book begins with a cautionary tale about a development wide area in rural Zambia with the purpose of lessening the burden of labour on women who previously had to fetch water from faraway streams The result of the programme was exactly the opposite it had the actual effect of increasing women s burden of labour In this book Longwe and Clarke seek to explain how a more considered approach can avoid such farcical disaster Central to women s advancement is their own collective participation in the process of recognising and overcoming the instances of systemic gender discrimination which stand in their way The Longwe Empowerment Framework which provides the central core of this book sets out five essential elements of collective action by which women can obtain more control over their own labour and their own lives in a continuous process of increasing collective empowerment This empowerment process being self generative is seen as being equally as important as the resulting material benefits Hope Chigudu a noted feminist and gender consultant concludes her preface to this book by writing that in a nutshell it offers an analytical framework for identifying the potentially progressive and regressive factors to anticipate at each stage of a women s empowerment programme and how to dance with the power dynamics that are inevitable in a patriarchal world

Empowered School David H. Hargreaves,David Hopkins,2004-12-23 The Education Reform Act 1988 and recent legislation aim to raise levels of pupil achievement in particular through the introduction of the National Curriculum and improved self management by schools For governors heads and teachers bringing together these changes will require as part of the new partnership strategies for managing development and change to make the school more effective School development plans are a means of realizing this goal The distinctive feature of a development plan is that it brings together in an overall plan national and LEA policies and initiatives the school s aims and values its existing achievements and its needs for development By co ordinating aspects of planning which are otherwise separate the school acquires a shared sense of direction and is able to control and manage the tasks of development and change This book based on the DES project draws on the experience of LEAs and schools which have pioneered school development plans Besides giving advice on constructing and implementing a school development plan the authors provide a full and practical account of how planning and development need to be managed and what this implies for the way the school is organized at present They also describe how schools can be supported in this process and how development planning fits into current movements for school improvement and effectiveness

Women's Economic Empowerment Inna Michaeli,2022-01-03 Challenging the simplistic story by which feminism has become complicit in neoliberalism this book traces the course of globalization of women s economic empowerment from the Global South to the Global North and critically examines the practice of empowering low income women primarily migrant indigenous and racialised women The author argues that women's economic empowerment organizations become embedded in the neoliberal reorganization of relations between civil society, state and market and in the reconfiguration of relations between the personal and the political. Also examined are the contractual nature of institutional arrangements in neoliberalism, the ontological divide between economy and society and the marginalisation of feminist economics that persists in the field of women's economic empowerment. The book will be of interest to scholars and students of social sciences, gender studies, sociology and economics. This book is based on the author's doctoral dissertation at the Humboldt University of Berlin, Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences. From access to empowerment UNESCO, 2021-12-31

Gender Equality and the Empowerment of Women and Girls DAC Guidance for Development Partners OECD, 2022-05-06 Gender equality and the empowerment of women and girls are prerequisites to the realisation of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development. This Guidance is a practical handbook for development partners supporting those global ambitions.

Youth and Community Empowerment in Europe Peter Evans, Angelika Kruger, 2012 This title offers new insights into the complex issue of social inclusion of young people in different national situations.

Women's Empowerment in Agrifood Governance (WEAGov) Assessment Framework: Insights from the India Pilot Study Ragasa, Catherine, Kyle, Jordan, Yasmin, Sabina, Pande, Harshita, Sharma, Aanshi, Basu, Sampurna, Najjar, Dina, 2025-02-21 Women's equal participation and leadership in political and public life can boost a country's long term economic growth, foster social inclusion and help countries reach the 2030 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Beyond these important outcomes, women's inclusion in public life is a basic human right. Women deserve a role in making decisions, controlling resources and shaping policies. Despite the importance of women's voices and their empowerment in policy and decision making processes, available metrics show that women's policy and political empowerment remains low. Moreover, these metrics are inadequate in systematically tracking women's voices and empowerment across different levels of decision making. IFPRI developed an assessment framework, Women's Empowerment in Agrifood Governance (WEAGov), to assess women's voices and empowerment in national policy processes in agrifood systems. This paper presents results from the pilot testing of WEAGov in India from January to March 2024. In this paper, we present how the WEAGov tool works in the Indian context, analyze trends in the data that we collected during the pilot and provide an overview of the status of women's voices and empowerment in the agrifood policy process as of March 2024. The pilot testing in India provides useful lessons on improving the measurement of these outcomes and offers valuable policy insights on critical entry points for increasing women's voices and empowerment in the national agrifood policy process design, implementation and evaluation.

Innovations as Key to the Green Revolution in Africa Andre Bationo, Boaz Waswa, Jeremiah M. Okeyo, Fredah Maina, Job Maguta Kihara, 2011-08-30 Africa can achieve self-sufficiency in food production through adoption of innovations in the agriculture sector. Numerous soil fertility and crop production technologies have been generated through research, however, wide adoption has been low. African farmers need better technologies more.

sustainable practices and fertilizers to improve and sustain their crop productivity and to prevent further degradation of agricultural lands The agricultural sector also needs to be supported by functional institutions and policies that will be able to respond to emerging challenges of globalization and climate change

Empowering smallholders and family farms in Europe and Central Asia Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations ,2020-09-01 The farm structures in the countries in Eastern Europe and Central Asia are highly diverse but in most of the countries are still largely dominated by smallholders and family farms Supporting smallholders and family farms is one of four priorities for the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations FAO in Europe and Central Asia confirmed by the FAO Regional Conference in 2018 FAO established in the region in 2014 the Regional Initiative on Empowering Smallholders and Family Farms for Improved Rural Livelihoods and Poverty Reduction Regional Initiative 1 as a programmatic umbrella for the implementation of support to smallholders and family farms in the programme countries in the region During 2018 2019 FAO REU conducted country studies on the needs and constraints of smallholders and family farms in eight countries of the region Seven of these were funded from a regional project TCP RER 3601 and the Serbian study was financed from extra budgetary funds The countries were selected from among those where smallholders and family farms dominate the farm structures and from the various sub regions so that together they provide a regional overview The countries covered in the report are Albania Armenia Georgia Kyrgyzstan Republic of Moldova North Macedonia Serbia and Tajikistan The methodology was common among the eight country studies although with some variations from country to country due to differences in national contexts The eight studies were elaborated by national experts supported by international consultants and FAO technical guidance The research methodology combines the use of desk research and statistics interviews with key stakeholders workshops with key stakeholders and decision makers and the use of qualitative cases
