New Canada A Globe And Mail Report On The Next Generation:

7 New Rules for the Sandbox Paula J. MacLean, 2009-02 The New Canada Erin Anderssen, Michael Valpy, Alison Gzowski, 2004 It has become fashionable in the past decade to say that Canada is changing becoming more urban ethnically mixed competitive secular and media savvy Ask anyone under 30 though and you'll hear that the country has changed already There is a new Canada and for young men and women now between 20 and 29 it is the only Canada they have ever known Not only will members of this generation soon be taking over positions of influence in business politics and culture they already are leading Canadian thinking about such issues as race sexuality family and the media They are the mainstream only more so It is time to get to know them For several weeks in the summer of 2003 eight of the Globe and Mail's top writers followed a variety of young adults as they worked played loved married struggled and participated in public and private life The task inspired in part by the 2001 census results was to draw a social map of this new country in pictures stories and hard statistics These remarkable stories have been updated and expanded for The New Canada a vital and revealing snapshot of young Canada today Rescuing Canada's Right Tasha Kheiriddin, Adam Daifallah, 2009-12-14 A provocative and timely call to action for civic minded Canadians yearning for a more competitive political system and better government Canadians everywhere are asking what's wrong with the Conservative Party The Liberal Party of Canada has held power for 70 of the past 100 years a feat unrivaled by any other political party in the Western hemisphere This dominance has caused a great deal of frustration on all political fronts especially on the right In the past two years the long awaited merger of the Canadian Alliance and the Progressive Conservatives has not achieved the results many were expecting Despite the explosive revelations of the sponsorship scandal and attempts to improve his party's image Stephen Harper's Conservatives still trail in the polls In Rescuing Canada's Right the authors examine the problems facing the Conservative Party and the broader conservative movement and offer concrete solutions on how to fix them Some of the issues the book will address Why the Conservative Party and its predecessor parties have such a poor electoral record Why today's Conservative Party is not really conservative Why a new political vision is necessary to inspire Canadians and what it should be How the Liberals use public money to entrench an unhealthy reliance on the state and how the right has failed to challenge it What Canadian conservatives can learn from the American and British experiences How to build a Canadian Conservative counter culture in the media academia and the law How the right can break through to the young and to immigrants in Quebec An action plan to end Canada's democratic deficit and level the political playing field Rescuing Canada's Right will be a hard hitting and groundbreaking work that will introduce new ideas and a passionate call for change for 21st century Canada Emerging from the Dark Age Ahead Charles Fensham, 2011 In this fascinating presentation of faith Charles Fensham argues cogently and passionately for a church that embraces hope in spite of the dark and destructive pressures all around it Although a metaphoric dark time awaits Christianity Fensham assures his readers that this darkness merely conceals the light for the future Emerging from the Dark Age Ahead offers a prophetic and challenging call for contemporary Christians to ask where we have come from where we are and where we are going Professor Fensham borrows from Jane Jacobs the metaphor of the Dark Age ahead bringing social and cultural analysis to bear upon a fresh theology of church and mission for our time and place Drawing from deep roots in the trinitarian tradition and borrowing insight from historic monasticism he calls for a pilgrim steward church that will speak and act constructively in the coming time of troubles This is a creative original work that will stimulate theological students and lay folk as well Harold Wells Professor Emeritus Emmanuel College University of Toronto Insightful provocative instructive words that describe how this book helps the church navigate the deep cultural challenge it now faces of massive technique organized through digitalization Grounding the church's life in a missional hermeneutic of reading Scripture and the church's identity in the social Trinity Fensham boldly yet carefully charts a course for engaging the dark age ahead Craig Van Gelder Ph D Professor of Congregational Mission Luther Seminary Charles Fensham has a unique perspective on the emergent church Born in apartheid South Africa and raised within the apartheid tainted Reformed church he is an immigrant to Canada with experiences of the church in France Switzerland the South Pacific and Africa He teaches at Knox College at the University of Toronto

National Myths Gérard Bouchard, 2013-05-02 National myths are now seriously questioned in a number of societies In the West for instance a number of factors have combined to destabilise the symbolic foundation of nations and collective identities As a result the diagnosis of a deep cultural crisis has become commonplace Indeed who today has not heard about the erosion of common values or the undermining of social cohesion But to efficiently address this issue do we know enough about the nature and role of myths in modern and postmodern societies Against this background National Myths Constructed Pasts Contested Presents relies on a sample of nations from around the world and seeks to highlight the functioning of national myths both as representations that make sense of a collectivity and as socially grounded tools used in a web of power relations The collection draws together contributions from international experts to examine the present state of national myths and their fate in today's rapidly changing society Can or must nations do without the sort of overarching symbolic configurations that national myths provide If so how to rethink the fabrics and the future of our societies This book will appeal to students and scholars interested in sociology national identity and memory studies myths shared beliefs or collective imaginaries

English: One Language, Different Cultures Eddie Ronowicz, Colin Yallop, 2007-08-28 Gives an introduction to culturally determined aspects of communicating in British Australian Canadian New Zealand and American societies This book focuses on effective communication with members of these societies especially on correcting false stereotypes which may cause misunderstandings

Walk Humbly with the Lord Viggo Mortensen, Andreas Osterund Nielsen, 2010-12-17 In June of 1910 delegates gathered in Edinburgh for the first World Missionary Conference One hundred years later the 2010 Church and Mission in a Multireligious Third Millennium conference sought to reconcile a century of seismic shifts in the worldwide landscape of the church with its ongoing mandate to make disciples of all nations Arising out of that recent conference Walk Humbly with the Lord presents a broad multinational spectrum of contemporary approaches to both theology and missiology Recognizing that the old Western notion of Christendom which formed the cultural backdrop of Edinburgh 1910 is now long obsolete the book's twenty seven forward thinking contributors respond to globalization and the enormous growth of religious pluralism worldwide offering reflections on the future of missiology and the relationship of church and mission Together they speculate about the possible shape of Christianity in a multireligious age as God works out new and unforeseen schemes in the reconciliation of the world I wish I could have been at the conference from which this book comes Viggo Mortensen and Andreas Nielsen have assembled a marvelous collection of reflections on mission that will be especially helpful to Christians committed to living faithfully and missionally in today's pluralistic world If a new postsecular reality is emerging as some are saying these essays will help the church be a sign of hope and stability in such a new age Stephen Bevans SVD Catholic Theological Union Chicago The Other Alberta Doreen Barrie, University of Regina. Canadian Plains Research Center, 2006 Religion and the Demographic Revolution Callum G. Brown, 2012 In the 1960s Christian religious practice and identity declined rapidly and women's lives were transformed spawning a demographic revolution in sex family and work The argument of this book is that the two were intimately connected triggered by an historic confluence of factors Uneasy Partners Janice Stein, David Robertson Cameron, John Ibbitson, Will Kymlicka, John Meisel, Haroon Siddiqui, Michael Valpy, 2009-10-22 After decades of extraordinary successes as a multicultural society new debates are bubbling to the surface in Canada The contributors to this volume examine the conflict between equality rights as embedded in the Charter and multiculturalism as policy and practice and ask which charter value should trump which and under what circumstances The opening essay deliberately sharpens the conflict among religion culture and equality rights and proposes to shift some of the existing boundaries Other contributors disagree strongly arguing that this position might seek to limit freedoms in the name of justice that the problem is badly framed or that silence is a virtue in rebalancing norms The contributors not only debate the analytic arguments but infuse their discussion with their personal experiences which have shaped their perspectives on multiculturalism in Canada This volume is a highly personal as well as strongly analytic discussion of multiculturalism in Canada today Covenant Essays: One T. Hoogsteen, 2016-09-09 Essays present a fascinating prose communication well presented each works out a consistent theme The essays in this collection created over a fifteen year span stand on their own although several themes carry through Jesus's lordship the kingdom the church the faith these constitute constants framed by the three Forms of Unity that is the original stuff of the Reformation

The Right to a Healthy Environment David R. Boyd, 2012-10-03 Canada has abundant natural wealth beautiful landscapes vast forests and thousands of rivers and lakes The land defines Canadians as a people yet the country has one of the worst environmental records in the industrialized world Building on his previous book The Environmental Rights Revolution 2012

David R Boyd one of Canada's leading environmental lawyers describes how recognizing the constitutional right to a healthy environment could have a transformative impact by empowering citizens holding governments and industry accountable and improving Canada's green record. The overwhelming majority of the world's nations now recognize environmental rights through laws, constitutions, treaties, or court decisions. Boyd explores Canada's history of failed efforts to do the same within this international context and offers three pathways to constitutional recognition of the right to a healthy environment. This important and provocative book provides a blueprint for renewed leadership in protecting human health, the well-being of the planet, and the interests of future generations.

What Is a Canadian? Irvin Studin, 2009-02-24. Each of these essays begins with the words "A Canadian is..." Each one is very different, producing a fascinating book for all thinking Canadians. Irvin Studin is an idealistic young Canadian who wanted to do something extraordinary for his country. So he decided to approach leading Canadians; he calls them sages to tell us what they believe defines us. The people who responded eagerly to produce an essay of 1,500 to 2,000 words are, in his words, all distinguished Canadian thinkers and achievers from all walks of life: politics, the civil service, academia, literature, journalism, business, the arts, from both official language groups and from all regions of the country, as well as from the Canadian diaspora. The strength of this book lies in the contributors listed in the sidebar. The variety ranges from the funny ("A Canadian is someone who crosses the road to get to the middle") to the serious. Allan Fotheringham through the hostile, the citizen of a country badly in need of growing up. William Watson through the surprising, adaptable. To illustrate, consider the depth and breadth of the Canadian woman's wardrobe. Jennifer Welsh or celebratory, a wonderful thing to be. Bob Rae. A Canadian is certain to find this book fascinating. Contributors: Allan Fotheringham, Thomas Homer Dixon, Roch Carrier, Jake MacDonald, George Elliott Clarke, Margaret MacMillan, Thomas Franck, Rosemarie Kuptana, Gerald A. Beaudoin, Peter W. Hogg, George Bowering, Christian Dufour, Paul Heinbecker, Mary Ellen Turpel-Lafond, John C. Crosbie, Audrey McLaughlin, Roy MacGregor, Charlotte Gray, Hugh Segal, Janet McNaughton, Sujit Choudhry, Aritha van Herk, L. Ebony Roots, Northern Soil Charmaine A. Nelson, 2010-10-12. Ebony Roots, Northern Soil is a powerful and timely collection of critical essays exploring the experiences, histories, and cultural engagements of Black Canadians. Drawing from postcolonial, critical race, and Black feminist theory, this innovative anthology brings together an extraordinary set of well-recognized and new scholars engaging in the critical debates about the cultural politics of identity and issues of cultural access, representation, production, and reception. Emerging from a national conference in 2005, the book records critiques and yet transcends this groundbreaking event. Drawn from a range of disciplines including Art History, Communication Studies, Cultural Studies, Education, English History, and Sociology, the chapters examine Black contributions to and participation within the realms of popular music, television, and film; the art world museums academia and social activism In the process the burning issues of access to cultural capital the practice of multiculturalism definitions of black Canadianness and the state of Black Canadian Studies are dissected Attentive to issues of sexuality and gender as well as race the book also explores and challenges the dominance of black Americanness in Canada especially in its incarnation as hip hop Acknowledging a differently constituted and heterogeneous black Canadianness it contemplates the possibility of an identity in dialogue with and yet distinct from dominant ideals of African Americanness Ebony Roots also explores the deficit in Black Canadian Studies across the nation s universities drawing a line between the neglect of black Canadian populations histories and experiences in general and the resulting lack of an academic disciplinary infrastructure Poignant blends of the personal and the political the chapters are both scholarly in their critical insights and rigour and daring in their honesty Ebony Roots defiantly foregrounds the often disavowed issues of institutional racism against blacks in Canadian academia education and cultural institutions as well as the injurious effects of everyday racism In so doing the book challenges the myth of Canada as a racially benevolent and tolerant state the great white north free from racism and the legacy of colonialism Instead the very definitions of Canada and black Canadianness are unpacked and explored Ebony Roots is a necessary history lesson a contemporary cultural debate and a call to action It is a momentous and overdue contribution to Black Canadian Studies and a must read for academics students and the general public alike

Mission as Penance Charles J. Fensham,2023-05-03 Mission as Penance explores the posture of Christian mission in Canada while also uncovering the theological roots that gave birth to the sense of cultural and religious superiority that led to profound harm to others and to God s creation The story begins by an examination of Johan Bavinck s famous 1954 claim that mission is thus the penance of the church which is ashamed before God and man By drawing on his work through forty years in theological education and pastoral ministry Fensham prescribes a pathway that liberates the church from power games numerical growth and preoccupation with programs and technology to focus instead on genuine listening solidarity and love in action True penance is never satisfied with passivity nor should it result in a state of paralysis For a posture of humble penance to be fruitful it must lead toward concerted action toward change advocacy for justice compassion for the marginalized and care for creation If mission in Canada is engaged in this way the Christian faith might cease to do harm and build a new life giving community of healing

Unnatural Law David R. Boyd,2011-11-01 While governments assert that Canada is a world leader in sustainability Unnatural Law provides extensive evidence to refute this claim A comprehensive assessment of the strengths and weaknesses of Canadian environmental law the book provides a balanced critical examination of Canada s record focusing on laws and policies intended to protect water air land and biodiversity Three decades of environmental laws have produced progress in a number of important areas such as ozone depletion protected areas and some kinds of air and water pollution However Canada s overall record remains poor In this vital and timely study David Boyd explores the reasons why some laws and policies foster progress while others fail He ultimately concludes that the root cause of environmental degradation in industrialized nations is excessive consumption of resources Unnatural Law outlines the innovative changes in laws and policies that Canada must implement in order to respond to the ecological imperative of living within the Earth's limits The struggle for a sustainable future is one of the most daunting challenges facing humanity in the 21st century Everyone academics lawyers students policy makers and concerned citizens interested in the health of the Canadian and global environments will find Unnatural Law an invaluable source of information and insight For more information on Unnatural Law visit David Boyd's site www.unnaturallaw.com The Carbon Bubble Jeff Rubin, 2016-05-17 As the price of oil falls bestselling author and economist Jeff Rubin takes us to the epicentre of the bursting global carbon bubble and dares us to imagine a new engine for growth that does not run on oil For a decade the vision of Canada's future as an energy superpower has driven the country's political agenda as well as the fast paced development of Alberta's oil sands and the push for more pipelines like Keystone XL across the continent to bring that bitumen to market Anyone who objects to pipelines and tanker train traffic north or south of the US border is labeled a dreamer or worse an environmentalist someone who puts the health of the planet ahead of the economic survival of their neighbours In The Carbon Bubble Jeff Rubin compellingly shows how an economic vision that rests on oil is dead wrong Changes in energy markets in the US where domestic production is booming while demand for oil is shrinking are quickly turning the oil dream into an economic nightmare Like US coal stocks the share values of oil sands producers have been drastically reduced by falling fuel prices and are increasingly exposed to the world's efforts to reduce carbon emissions Rubin argues that there is a lifeline to a better future The very climate change that will leave much of the country's carbon unburnable could at the same time make some of Canada's other resource assets more valuable its water and its land In tomorrow's economy he argues Canada won't be an energy superpower but it has the makings of one of the world's great breadbaskets as everything from the corn belt to viniculture heads to higher latitudes And in the global climate that the world's carbon emissions are inexorably creating growing food will soon be a lot more valuable than mining bitumen

How Ottawa Spends, 2009-2010 Maslove Allan, 2009-10-01 This is the thirtieth volume in the series How Ottawa Spends It is arguable that never in these years have Canadians faced such serious economic upheaval and political dysfunction as the current climate The dramatic and seemingly sudden changes in the economy occurred simultaneously with a political drama one that was largely disassociated from the real and pressing economic challenge Early Harper budgets delivered lower taxes for all Canadians partly through highly targeted but politically noticeable small tax breaks on textbooks for students tools for apprentices in skilled trades and public transit costs The needs of the beleaguered average Canadian and the swing voter in the swing constituencies of an already strategized next election were a key part of Conservative agenda setting In the 2007 budget alone there were twenty nine separate tax reductions and federal spending was projected to increase by 10 billion including a 5.7 percent increase in program spending A small surplus of 3.3 billion was planned almost all of which would go to debt reduction As Harper savoured his 14 October 2008 re election with a strengthened minority government although without his desired majority he and his minister of Finance already knew that his surpluses were likely gone in the face of the crashing financial sector and a looming recession Future deficits were firmly back on the agenda Contributors include Malcolm G Bird Carleton University Chris Brown Carleton University G Bruce Doern Carleton University and University of Exeter Melissa Haussman Carleton University Robert Hilton Carleton University Ruth Hubbard University of Ottawa Edward T Jackson Carleton University Kirsten Kozolanka Carleton University Evert Lindquist University of Victoria Allan M Maslove Carleton University Peter Nares Social and Enterprise Development Innovations Gilles Paquet University of Ottawa L Pauline Rankin Carleton University Jennifer Robson Carleton University Robert P Shepherd Carleton University Richard Shillington Informetrica Limited and Chris Stoney Carleton University

The End of the CBC? David Taras,Christopher Waddell,2020-01-29 The End of the CBC is about three overlapping crises the crisis that has enveloped the CBC the crisis of news and the crisis of democracy The emergence of platforms such as Google Facebook Twitter and Netflix the hyper targeting of individual users through data analytics the development of narrow online identity communities and the rise of an attention economy have changed the media landscape in dramatic ways Describing the failure of successive governments to address problems faced by the public broadcaster this book explains how the CBC lost its place in sports drama and entertainment Taras and Waddell propose a way forward for the CBC one in which the corporation concentrates its resources on news and current affairs and re establishes a reputation for depth and quality
