psychologists social workers and counselors Opening The Doors of Perception Anthony Peake,2016-09-13 An eye opening response to Aldous Huxley s widely influential work on psychedelics physical reality and consciousness What exactly are hallucinations Are they actually doors to another reality Anthony Peake thinks so In this stunning book he takes Aldous Huxley s The Doors of Perception and updates it using the latest information from quantum mechanics neurochemistry and consciousness studies Most human beings perceive the doors of perception as being securely closed But here Peake analyzes the concept of the scale of transcendence and suggests there is a scale of perceptions whereby the doors are slowly opened bit by bit to reveal the true nature of reality For normal people glimpses of this reality what the Gnostics called The Pleroma are experienced during noetic experiences However for others the doors are prized open by certain neurological processes starting with migraine and progressing through various altered states such as temporal lobe epilepsy bipolar syndrome autism and schizophrenia A pioneering work on the relationship between physical reality and consciousness Opening the Doors of Perception suggests that man can indeed perceive reality in its true glory After Antiquity Margaret Alexiou,2018-10-18 With the publication of Ritual Lament in Greek Tradition widely considered a classic in Modern Greek studies and in collateral fields Margaret Alexiou established herself as a major intellectual innovator on the interconnections among ancient medieval and modern Greek cultures In her new eagerly awaited book Alexiou looks at how language defines the contours of myth and metaphor Drawing on texts from the New Testament to the present day Alexiou shows the diversity of the Greek language and its impact at crucial stages of its history on people who were not Greek She then stipulates the relatedness of literary and folk genres and assesses the importance of rituals and metaphors of the life cycle in shaping narrative forms and systems of imagery Alexiou places special emphasis on Byzantine literary texts of the sixth and twelfth centuries providing her own translations where necessary modern poetry and prose of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries and narrative songs and tales in the folk tradition which she analyzes alongside songs of the life cycle She devotes particular attention to two genres whose significance she thinks has been much underrated the tales paramythia and the songs of love and marriage In exploring the relationship between speech and ritual Alexiou not only takes the Greek language into account but also invokes the neurological disorder of autism drawing on clinical studies and her own experience as the mother of autistic identical twin sons
