Pen Portraits Patricia Clarke,1988-01-01      Literary Journalism in Colonial Australia Willa McDonald,2023-09-02 This book traces the beginnings of literary narrative journalism in Australia It contributes to evolving international definitions of the form while providing a glimpse into Australia s early press history and development as a nation The book comprises two parts The first examines the forerunners of literary journalism before and during the establishment of a free press including the letters diaries and journals of the early colonists as well as sketches published in the first magazines and newspapers The book asks if these were reporting when there was no thriving press until well into the 19th century many were written by women and convicts whose voices otherwise went unheard The second part examines the first expressions of literary journalism in forms more recognisable today covering topics as varied as homelessness in Melbourne the Queensland trade in Pacific Islander labour and Australia s involvement in overseas wars particularly the Boer War The resulting cultural history reveals important milestones in the development of Australia s press and literature while demonstrating the concerns unveiled in colonial literary journalism still resonate in Australia in the 21st century      Australian Women War Reporters Jeannine Baker,2015-09-01 This is the hidden story of Australian and New Zealand women war reporters who fought for equality with their male colleagues and filed stories from the main conflicts of the twentieth century In Australian Women War Reporters Jeannine Baker provides a much needed account of the pioneering women who reported from the biggest conflicts of the twentieth century Two women covered the South African War at the turn of the century and Louise Mack witnessed the fall of Antwerp in 1914 Others such as Anne Matheson Lorraine Stumm and Kate Webb wrote about momentous events including the rise of Nazism the liberation of the concentration camps the aftermath of the atomic bombing of Hiroshima and the Cold War conflicts in Korea and Southeast Asia These women carved a path for new generations of female foreign correspondents who have built upon their legacy Jeannine Baker deftly draws out the links between the experiences of these women and the contemporary realities faced by women journalists of war including Monica Attard and Ginny Stein allowing us to see both in a new light      Settler Society in the Australian Colonies Angela Woollacott,2015 Examines the rising numbers of free settlers from the 1820s to the 1860s their dependence on Aboriginal immigrant and convict under paid laborers and the slow development of representative government      The Routledge Companion to World Literary Journalism John S. Bak,Bill Reynolds,2022-12-30 This cutting edge research companion addresses our current understanding of literary journalism s global scope and evolution offering an immersive study of how different nations have experimented with and perfected the narrative journalistic form genre over time The Routledge Companion to World Literary Journalism demonstrates the genre s rich genealogy and global impact through a comprehensive study of its many traditions including the crónica the ocherk reportage the New Journalism the New New Journalism Jornalismo literário periodismo narrativo bao gao wen xue creative nonfiction Literarischer Journalismus As SaHafa al Adabiyya and literary nonfiction

Contributions from a diverse range of established and emerging scholars explore key issues such as the current role of literary journalism in countries radically affected by the print media crisis and the potential future of literary journalism both as a centerpiece to print media writ large and as an academic discipline universally recognized around the world The book also discusses literary journalism s responses to war immigration and censorship its many female and Indigenous authors and its digital footprints on the internet This extensive and authoritative collection is a vital resource for academics and researchers in literary journalism studies as well as in journalism studies and literature in general Chapter 9 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license

Women Who Made the News Marjory Lang, 1999-08-26 The first newspaperwomen were employed to attract female subscribers and advertising revenue Once hired they found themselves confined to a narrow range of specialties that catered to conventionally defined women s interests home making fashion and high society and most were patronized by their male peers But these women journalists did more than simply deliver female consumers to advertisers Some of them eventually made names for themselves as commercial reporters or political and even war correspondents By making news about women for women they created a distinctly female culture within the newspaper chronicling the increasing participation of women in public affairs Women Who Made the News is the story of the women who helped raise Canadian women s collective awareness of each other and of their achievements in the period leading up to World War II

Distant sisters James Keating, 2020-09-29 In the 1890s Australian and New Zealand women became the first in the world to win the vote Buoyed by their victories they promised to lead a global struggle for the expansion of women s electoral rights Charting the common trajectory of the colonial suffrage campaigns Distant Sisters uncovers the personal and material networks that transformed feminist organising Considering intimate and institutional connections well connected elites and ordinary women this book argues developments in Auckland Sydney and Adelaide long considered the peripheries of the feminist world cannot be separated from its glamorous metropolises Focusing on Antipodean women simultaneously insiders and outsiders in the emerging international women s movement and documenting the failures of their expansive vision alongside its successes this book reveals a more contingent history of international organising and challenges celebratory accounts of fin de si cle global connection

In the Eye of the Beholder Barbara Dawson, 2014-11-19 This book offers a fresh perspective in the debate on settler perceptions of Indigenous Australians It draws together a suite of little known colonial women apart from Eliza Fraser and investigates their writings for what they reveal about their attitudes to views on and beliefs about Aboriginal people as presented in their published works The way that reader expectations and publishers requirements slanted their representations forms part of this analysis All six women write of their first hand experiences on Australian frontiers of settlement The division into adventurers Eliza Fraser Eliza Davies and Emily Cowl and longer term settlers Katherine Kirkland Mary McConnel and Rose Scott Cowen allows interrogation into the differing representations between those with a transitory knowledge of Indigenous people and those who had a close and more permanent relationship with Indigenous women even encompassing individual friendship More pertinently the book strives to reveal the aspects largely overlooked in colonial narratives of Indigenous agency authority and individuality Australian Studies in Journalism ,2006 Australian Literary Studies ,1989 Nineteenth-century Literature Criticism Laurie Lanzen Harris,1981 Excerpts from criticism of the works of novelists poets playwrights short story writers and other creative writers who lived between 1800 and 1900 from the first published critical appraisals to current evaluations Who's who of Australian Writers ,1995 Australian Literature, 1788-1914 Selina Samuels,2001 This volume commences in 1788 the year of the arrival of the First Fleet sent to colonize Australia and is the logical starting point since the focus is on Australian literature in English and does include entries on Aboriginal writers who wrote and published in English Entries include those writers who produced at least their first important work before the end of 1914 Australian Books National Library of Australia,1991 Media Information Australia ,1989 Bibliography of Australian Women's Literature, 1795-1990 Debra Adelaide,1991 Exhaustive bibliography listing 11 560 fiction poetry drama and non fiction monographs by 3828 Australian women Includes the first book published by a woman in 1795 up to and including some 1991 titles and an author checklist by genres The author has produced two previous bibliographic guides to Australian women s writing The Governesses Patricia Clarke,1989-11-01 For anyone with a taste for social history and perhaps some feeling for the contrast between the romantic triumphs of fictional governesses and the fate of the living species self portrayed here this valuable book should be a special pleasure Tess van Sommers Sydney Morning Herald It is a rare pleasure to read a book that is excellent in every way research writing balance interpretation this is not a book to read about but to read Nancy Kessing The Australian In the second half of the nineteenth century a number of women sponsored by the Female Middle Class Emigration Society left Britain to seek a better life in the colonies Unmarried and unemployed they were among the many educated genteel women who were endeavouring to find work as governesses then one of the few occupations open to them In letters back to the Society these women reported on life as they saw it in the colonies during the years 1862 1882 They tell of their travails of their adjustments to strange and often hostile environments of their loneliness their failures and their successes Most importantly they give fresh and disarming views on colonials and colonial society touching on aspects of pioneering experience and of life in the towns of seven countries during a fascinating period in history World Literature Today ,1993 Australian Books ,1989 Shameless Scribblers Sharyn Pearce,1998
