Penal Reform in Overcrowded Times Michael Tonry, 2001-11-15 This volume brings together a collection of articles on penal reform in the United States Europe Japan and other English speaking countries Unique and wide ranging the volume provides material on penal policy development and research and presents an international comparative focus Written by leading national and international authorities it offers some of the broadest efforts to characterize recent penal trends and to analyze their causes and consequences

Penal Reform in Overcrowded Times Michael H. Tonry, 2001 Overcrowded times solving the prison problem a publication published Castine Me Published for the Edna McConnell Clark Foundation by Castine Research Corp 1990 1999 taken from OCLC record The Penal Crisis and the Clapham Omnibus David J.

Cornwell, 2009-07-10 What is restorative justice and does it work These are just two of the many questions posed by David J Cornwell in this incisive work Based on a lifetime of research and experience it deals with the concerns about crime and punishment of that most vivid of judicial creations The Man or Woman on the Clapham Omnibus As the author explains this human reference point for reason and good sense is likely to be far more receptive to sound explanation and argument than the media and tabloid press in particular might give credit And after all it is his or her taxes which are being routinely wasted on outmoded or discredited methods Crime will not disappear through the application of heavy handed sanctions Indeed they make matters worse With prisons overflowing in many western countries restorative justice offers a better and ultimately more intuitive solution Cornwell dismantles the traditional arguments for locking people away and undermines the idea that it is necessary to be tough on crime The book credits people with a higher level of intelligence It provides them with proper answers and explanations based on sound data copious research and an in depth analysis of existing trends It is a work for people who value credibility rather than politically driven excuses with their increasingly damaging effects Sentencing

Reform in Overcrowded Times Michael H. Tonry, Kathleen Hatlestad, 1997 The articles in this collection originally appeared in the journal Overcrowded Times They provide an overview of sentencing policy practices and institution in the United States other English speaking countries Canada England Australia New Zealand South Africa and Europe Prison Suicides and Overcrowding Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Home Affairs Committee, 2006-02-22 Prison suicides and Overcrowding Oral and written evidence Tuesday 8 November 2005 Ms Frances Crook Ms Pauline Campbell Ms Deborah Coles Ms Juliet Lyon and Mr Geoff Dobson Rt Hon Baroness Scotland of Asthal QC Ms Christine Knott Mr Phil Wheatley

Critical Issues in Crime and Justice: Thought, Policy, and Practice Mary Maguire, 2011 This text provides a comprehensive overview of the criminal justice and criminology curriculum through contributed essays designed to review and expand upon key areas of study The text will explore and examine theory cases laws and policies as they have been shaped by a larger social cultural and historical context Topics span the gamut of the Criminal Justice and Criminology curriculum including crime theory law enforcement jurisprudence corrections and organizations Realist Criminology R.

Matthews,2014-07-07 This book challenges contemporary criminological thinking providing a thorough critique of mainstream criminology including both liberal criminology and administrative criminology It sets a new agenda for theoretical and practical engagement and for creating a more effective and just criminal justice system Incapacitation

Marijke Malsch,Marius Duker,2016-05-23 In many criminal justice systems a new trend towards incapacitation can be witnessed A ubiquitous want for control seems to have emerged as a consequence of perceived safety risks This can be seen not only in the mass incarceration of offenders but also in the disqualification of offenders from jobs in chemical castration in cases of sexual crimes the increased use of electronic monitoring and in the life long monitoring of individuals who pose certain risks Trends towards incapacitation are now even spreading to public administration and the employment sector in the refusal of licenses and the rejection of employees with past criminal records This book discusses the topic of incapacitation from various angles and perspectives It explores how theories of punishment are affected by the more recent emphasis on incapacitation and how criminal justice practice is changing as a consequence of this new emphasis Many contributors express criticisms with this trend towards incapacitation They argue for a better calibration of measures to the severity of the misconduct In addressing an increasingly important development in criminal justice the book will be an essential resource for students researchers and policy makers working in the areas of criminal law sentencing probation and crime prevention Doing Justice to Mercy

Jonathan Rothchild,Matthew Myer Boulton,Kevin Jung,2012-10-05 It is often assumed that the law and religion address different spheres of human life Religion and ethics articulate complex systems of moral reasoning that concern norms deliberation of ends cultivation of disposition and transformation of moral agency Law in contrast seeks to govern human conduct through procedural justice rights and public good Doing Justice to Mercy challenges this assumption by presenting the reader with an urgent conversation between the law and religion that yields a constructive approach both theoretically and practically to the complex role of mercy in our legal process Authored by legal practitioners activists and theorists in addition to theologians and ethicists the essays collected here are informed by timeless principles and yet they could not be timelier The trend in sentencing moves toward an increased severity and the number of incarcerated people in the United States is at an all time high In the half decade since 9 11 moreover homeland security has established itself as a permanent fixture in our lives In this atmosphere the current volume seeks initially to clarify how justice and mercy intertwine in relation to a number of issues such as rehabilitation the death penalty domestic violence and war crimes Exploring the legal philosophical and theological grounds for mercy in our courts the discussion then moves to the practical ways in which mercy may be implemented Contributors Marc Mauer The Sentencing Project Lois Gehr Livezey McCormick Theological Seminary Ernie Lewis Public Advocate Commonwealth of Kentucky Jonathan Rothchild Loyola Marymount University Albert W Alschuler Northwestern University School of Law David Scheffer Northwestern University School of Law David Little Harvard Divinity School Matthew Myer Boulton Andover Newton Theological School Mark Lewis

Taylor Princeton Theological Seminary Sarah Coakley Cambridge University William Schweiker University of Chicago Divinity School Kevin Jung College of William and Mary Peter J Paris Princeton Theological Seminary W Clark Gilpin University of Chicago Divinity School William C Placher Wabash College     Confronting Crime Michael Tonry, 2013-10-11 From Labour's promise to be tough on crime tough on the causes of crime through to the White Paper and new criminal justice legislation controlling crime and reforming the criminal justice system has been one of the government's key priorities This book provides a detailed review of the thinking behind these new plans and legislation looking at policies and proposals in the field of punishment particularly those embodied in the Halliday Review of the Sentencing Framework 2001 the government White Paper Justice for All 2002 and the 2002 Criminal Justice Bill The contributors to the book subject to scrutiny the evidence for the evidence based policy making that is often claimed as a distinctive new feature to these processes examining approaches to drug dependent offenders dangerous sex offenders nuisance offenders procedural and evidential protections in the courts sentencing guidelines sentencing management racism in sentencing custody plus custody minus and reducing the prison population     The New Punitiveness John Pratt, David Brown, Mark Brown, Simon Hallsworth, Wayne Morrison, 2013-06-17 Throughout much of the western world more and more people are being sent to prison one of a number of changes inspired by a new punitiveness in penal and political affairs This book seeks to understand these developments bringing together leading authorities in the field to provide a wide ranging analysis of new penal trends compare the development of differing patterns of punishment across different types of societies and to provide a range of theoretical analyses and commentaries to help understand their significance As well as increases in imprisonment this book is also concerned to address a number of other aspects of the new punitiveness firstly the return of a number of forms of punishment previously thought extinct or inappropriate such as the return of shaming punishments and chain gangs in parts of the USA and secondly the increasing public involvement in penal affairs and penal development for example in relation to length of sentences and the California Three Strikes Law and a growing accreditation of the rights of victims The book will be essential reading for students seeking to understand trends and theories of punishment on law criminology penology and other courses     Feminist Studies Hemangini Gupta, Kelly Sharron, Carly Thomsen, Abraham Weil, 2025-06-02 Feminist Studies An Introductory Reader offers a unique approach to teaching and learning feminist thought Crafted with the movement and translation of ideas in mind this book is broken into four sections Feminist Epistemologies Feminist Ontologies Feminist Orientations and Resistance Each chapter includes two well known classic texts that commonly appear in Feminist Studies classes as well as two new texts written by scholars who engage critique and extend those ideas in their work In addition the book is accompanied by a companion website which includes discussion questions assignment ideas lesson plans and other materials useful for classroom instruction Feminist Studies An Introductory Reader is designed for those new to feminism as well as more seasoned feminist thinkers It is an ideal resource for students in introductory and

advanced feminist theory courses as well as those interested in social scientific and humanistic inquiry more broadly

Command and Persuade Peter Baldwin, 2021-10-05 Why when we have been largely socialized into good behavior are there more laws that govern our behavior than ever before Levels of violent crime have been in a steady decline for centuries for millennia even Over the past five hundred years homicide rates have decreased a hundred fold We live in a time that is more orderly and peaceful than ever before in human history Why then does fear of crime dominate modern politics Why when we have been largely socialized into good behavior are there more laws that govern our behavior than ever before In Command and Persuade Peter Baldwin examines the evolution of the state's role in crime and punishment over three thousand years Baldwin explains that the involvement of the state in law enforcement and crime prevention is relatively recent In ancient Greece those struck by lightning were assumed to have been punished by Zeus In the Hebrew Bible God was judge jury and prosecutor when Cain killed Abel As the state's power as lawgiver grew more laws governed behavior than ever before the sum total of prohibited behavior has grown continuously At the same time as family community and church exerted their influences we have become better behaved and more law abiding Even as the state stands as the socializer of last resort it also defines through law the terrain on which we are schooled into acceptable behavior

Institutionalizing Restorative Justice Ivo Aertsen, Tom Daems, Luc Robert, 2013-06-17 Exploring the key issues and debates surrounding the question of the incorporation and institutionalization of restorative justice this book builds bridges between those concerned with the practical and the more theoretical aspects of penal development Emotions, Crime and Justice Susanne Karstedt, Ian Loader, Heather Strang, 2011-04-01 The return of emotions to debates about crime and criminal justice has been a striking development of recent decades across many jurisdictions This has been registered in the return of shame to justice procedures a heightened focus on victims and their emotional needs fear of crime as a major preoccupation of citizens and politicians and highly emotionalised public discourses on crime and justice But how can we best make sense of these developments Do we need to create emotionally intelligent justice systems or are we messing recklessly with the rational foundations of liberal criminal justice This volume brings together leading criminologists and sociologists from across the world in a much needed conversation about how to re-calibrate reason and emotion in crime and justice today The contributions range from the micro analysis of emotions in violent encounters to the paradoxes and tensions that arise from the emotionalisation of criminal justice in the public sphere They explore the emotional labour of workers in police and penal institutions the justice experiences of victims and offenders and the role of vengeance forgiveness and regret in the aftermath of violence and conflict resolution The result is a set of original essays which offer a fresh and timely perspective on problems of crime and justice in contemporary liberal democracies Sentencing and Society Cyrus Tata, Neil Hutton, 2017-03-02 Combining the latest work of leading sentencing and punishment scholars from twelve different countries this major new international volume answers key questions in the study of sentencing and society It presents not only a rigorous examination of the latest legal and empirical research from around the world but also reveals the workings of sentencing within society and as a social practice. Traditionally work in the field of sentencing has been dominated by legal and philosophical approaches. Distinctively this volume provides a more sociological approach to sentencing so allowing previously unanswered questions to be addressed and new questions to be opened. This extensive collection is drawn from around one third of the papers presented at the First International Conference on Sentencing and Society. Almost without exception the chapters have been revised, cross referenced and updated. The overall themes and findings of the international volume are set out by the opening Introduction and the closing Reflections chapters. Research findings on particular penal policy questions are balanced with an analysis of fundamental conceptual issues making this international volume essential reading for sentencing and punishment scholars, criminal justice policy makers and graduate students.

Conviviality and Survival Sacha Darke, 2018-07-16 Brazilian authorities continuously fail to comply with international norms on minimal conditions of incarceration. Brazil's prison population has risen ten fold since the country's return to democracy in the 1980s. Its prisons typically operate at double official capacity and with 100 prisoners for each guard on duty. At the same time however the average Brazilian prison is not as disorderly or its staff inmate relations so conflictual as our established theories on prison life might predict. This monograph explores the means by which Brazilian prisons function in the absence of guards. More specifically the means by which prison security and inmate discipline is negotiated between prison managers, gangs and the wider inmate body. While fragile and varied this historical tradition of co-produced governance has for decades kept most prisons in better order and enabled most prisoners to better survive.

Overcrowded Times, 1997 The Role of the Media in Criminal Justice Policy Natalia Antolac-Saper, 2022-09-09 This book provides a socio-legal examination of the media's influence on the development and implementation of criminal justice policy. This impact is often assumed. And especially in the wake of high profile crimes the press is routinely observed calling for sentences to be harsher and for governments to be tougher on crime. But how do we know that there is a connection? To answer this question the book draws on a case study of the media reporting of the rape and murder of Jill Meagher in Melbourne, Australia, as well as other well known cases including those of James Bulger, Sarah Payne, Stephen Lawrence and Michael Brown among others. Deploying a socio-legal framework to examine how the media's often powerful and emotive narratives play a crucial role in the development and implementation of law, the book provides a deep and critical reflection on its influence. The book concludes with a number of suggestions for media reform both to moderate the media's influence and to incorporate a broader range of viewpoints. This multi-disciplinary book will appeal to scholars and students in socio-legal studies, criminology and criminal law as well as those working in relevant areas in sociology and media studies.

Sentencing and Sanctions in Western Countries Michael Tonry, Richard Frase, 2001-05-31 This collection of original essays surveys the evolution of sentencing policies and practices in Western countries over the past twenty five years. Contributors address plea bargaining, community service electronic monitoring standards of use of incarceration and legal perspectives on sentencing policy developments among other topics Sentencing and Sanctions in Western Countries provides a range of scholars and students excellent cross national knowledge of sentencing laws and practices when and why they have changed over time and with what effects
