People And Power In The Pacific The Struggle For The Post Cold War Order:

People and Power in the Pacific Walden F. Bello, 1992-01-01 Asia-Pacific in the New World Order Christopher Brook, Anthony McGrew, 2013-11-05 Asia Pacific in the New World Order critically explores the notion that a distinctive regional power bloc is developing linking countries bordering the Pacific with East Asia at its core This student friendly volume sheds light on the complex interplay between global regional and national forces which have transformed the Asia Pacific area into one of the most vibrant and economically successful regions in the world Historical narratives alongside geopolitical and geoeconomic perspectives are deployed to examine the shifting pattern of power relations and security structures across the region set within a wider world context Key issues addressed include what are the primary security problems of the region and how are they being resolved does the dynamic growth of the region and particularly the rise of China pose a challenge to existing structures of world order The text has a strong interdisciplinary flavour drawing on analytical approaches from the international relations political economy and political geography literature Authors have been drawn from the Asia Pacific region and the UK and all are established scholars in their specialist fields People and Power in the Pacific Walden F. Bello, 1992 The Influence of Small States on Superpowers Richard L. Bernal, 2015-07-22 The conventional wisdom is that small developing countries exert limited if any influence on the foreign policy of superpowers in particular the United States This book challenges that premise based on the experience of the small developing country of Jamaica and its relations with the United States It raises the question if the foreign policy of the United States can be influenced by even a small developing country should Washington be worried The Geopolitics of Australia's Regional Relations D. Rumley, 2001-06-30 The origins of this book go back 30 years to the stimulation and interest generated by the political geography seminars led by John House at the University of Newcastle Upon Tyne I was very fortunate to graduate among its extremely capable sporty and enthusiastic class of 68 from where several academic geographers emerged Equally fortunately some of them and their predecessors had already blazed a trail to undertake graduate studies in Canada At the University of British Columbia I was supervised at different times by Julian Minghi and Victor Prescott both of whom are not only extremely capable academics but are also very fine people owe an enormous debt to John Julian and Victor and to the British and Canadian taxpayers who provided financial support for my University studies In 1974 I began an academic career at the University of Western Australia where I have been ever since save for a two year period from 1991-3 as Professor of Australian Studies in the Department of International Relations at the University of Tokyo Viewing Australia and the Asia Pacific region from this different perspective within an extremely supportive Japanese environment had a profound impact I am especially grateful for the support provided by so many Japanese academic colleagues and friends beginning as early as 1976 Three individuals deserve special mention for their help guidance and enduring friendship George Ohshima Hiroshi Tanabe and Akihiro Kinda The Trifurcating Miracle Satoshi Ikeda, 2018-10-24 This title examines the transformation of

Japan's national economy It employs the concept of the structure of accumulation composed of the organizations of labor credit and markets The postwar Japanese miracle trifurcated into prosperous corporations squeezed workers and parasitic bureaucracy in the slow growth period 1974-91 The miracle continues only for the major Japanese corporations that are East Asianizing and globalizing Pacific Asia? Melvin Gurtov, 2002 Emphasizing human and environmental security over traditional power politics Mel Gurtov offers a provocative reinterpretation of security in the Asia Pacific region The author questions a number of prevailing assumptions such as the China threat a U.S. centered balance of power and the necessity of a greater Japanese security role He argues instead for a cooperative framework for future security that focuses on people's basic needs is sensitive to Asian nationalism and gradually replaces military power with developmental priorities With its concise appraisals of the security policies of the United States China Japan the two Koreas and the ASEAN countries this work will be a valued reference for policymakers scholars and students alike Environmental Justice Paul

Thompson, 2017-09-29 Environmental justice is one of the most controversial and important issues in contemporary social science Volume 8 of the Energy and Environmental Policy series challenges our understanding of environmental justice in a global context It includes theoretical investigations and case studies by leading authors in the field Global forces of technology and the development of global markets are transforming social life and the natural order These changes require a critical examination of nature-society relations Increasingly modernization assigns the risks of modernity to those with the least power and greatest vulnerability to environmental harm Conventional environmentalism which focuses on critique of the effects of humanity against nature is inadequate to the challenges of globalization In particular it fails to explain sources of persistent patterns of social injustice that accompany escalating environmental exploitation As the capacity for environmental destruction expands broader concerns about environmental injustice have come to the fore including awareness of threats to whole cultures ways of life and entire ecologies The volume's authors consider the links between expanded patterns of environmental injustice and the structures and forces underlying and shaping the international political economy Environmental injustice is examined across a variety of cultures in the developed and developing world Through case studies of climate colonialism revolutionary ecology and environmental commodification the global and local dimensions of the problem are presented The latest volume in this important series demonstrates that environmental justice cannot be reduced to simple parables of indifference prejudice or appropriation It forges understanding of environmental injustice as a development of international political economy itself Likewise initiatives on behalf of environmental justice are seen as elements of broader movements to secure self-determination in a globalizing world This book will be of interest to policymakers energy and environmental experts and all those interested in the environment and environmental law It provides new perspectives on the place of environmental justice in international political and economic conflict East Asian Economies Toshihiko Kawagoe, Sueo Sekiguchi, 1995 East Asia is regarded as growth center in the world today even as political tension in that region remains high Economic growth has spilled over from Japan to the Asian newly industrialized economies as well as to the middle income countries of the Association of Southeast Asian Nation ASEAN through foreign trade and investment Despite economic growth an East Asian multilateral security scheme was never created Will this situation change in the new international environment With these trends in mind the collection of articles in this volume sheds light on economic and political issues of natural in East Asia The articles discuss a comprehensive range of topics Macroeconomic performance foreign direct investment trade policies financial markets security arrangements surveys of recent developments in South Korea People s Republic of China and Taiwan Integration within ASEAN focusing on AFTA and sub regional co operation Integration of Indochinese economies in to greater Southeast Asian markets

The Rise of East Asia Mark Berger, Douglas Borer, 2002-09-11 There is great interest in the Pacific Century and what its implications for the future will be The rapid economic growth of East Asia was already setting the region apart from the rest of the world by the 1970s By the 1980s the trend was seen to have spread southward to Thailand Malaysia and Indonesia while China s provinces had also become integral to the regional economic boom In this exciting new study many of the ideas and expectations associated with the Pacific Century are placed under critical scrutiny The book includes studies of particular countries such as China Japan South Korea Vietnam Indonesia and Malaysia There is analysis of economic and political trends in the region the reasons behind its rise and its importance on a global scale The rise of East Asia represents an historic turning point with immense significance world wide This book will be of interest to anyone concerned about the new approaches to and the debate about the rise of east Asia and the coming of the Pacific Century

Comparative Literature and Comparative Cultural Studies Steven Tötösy de Zepetnek, 2003 Articles in this volume focus on theories and histories of comparative literature and the field of comparative cultural studies Contributors are Kwaku Asante Darko on African postcolonial literature Hendrik Birus on Goethe s concept of world literature Amiya Dev on comparative literature in India Marian Galik on interliterariness Ernst Grabovszki on globalization new media and world literature Jan Walsh Hokenson on the culture of the context Marko Juvan on literariness Karl S Y Kao on metaphor Kristof Jacek Kozak on comparative literature in Slovenia Manuela Mourao on comparative literature in the USA Jola Skulj on cultural identity Slobodan Sucur on period styles and theory Peter Swirski on popular and highbrow literature Antony Tatlow on textual anthropology William H Thornton on East West power politics in cultural studies Steven Totosy on comparative cultural studies and Xiaoyi Zhou and Q S Tong on comparative literature in China The papers are followed by an index and a bibliography of scholarship in comparative literature and cultural studies compiled by Steven Totosy Steven Aoun and Wendy C Nielsen

The State, Class and Developmentalism in South Korea Hae-Yung Song, 2019-10-16 This book problematises the statist underpinnings of the concept of the developmental state in terms of both state society and national global relations challenging the notion that the state is the agent of national development qua being autonomous from the domestic and global economies Presenting a thorough and comprehensive critical assessment of the extant approaches and theories of the Korean developmental state in particular this book demonstrates that the existing literature including Marxist critiques only inadequately and partially challenge statism It examines how statism reinforces and is reinforced by Third World Developmentalism the idea that development is in itself a positive goal and that a nationally autonomous mode of development should be promoted as a means of empowerment In opposition this book offers a critique of statism by constructing an alternative theoretical framework extending Marx's concept of commodity fetishism to state society and national global relations Drawing on a new theoretical framework and significant Korean literature The State Class and Developmentalism in South Korea offers a novel historical interpretation and critique of the developmental state in the Korean context As such it will be useful to students and scholars of Asian studies Development Studies and International Political Economy Fire on the Rim William H. Thornton, 2002 Fire on the Rim combines an idealist's call for social justice cultural difference and environmental sustainability with a realist's recognition of the continuing need for balance of power security relations around the Pacific Rim Although this melding of idealist and realist elements is sure to meet opposition on the Right and Left alike the author's call for moral realism is a vital step toward an Asia policy fit for the twenty first century Visit our website for sample chapters

The Asian Future Pracha Hutuanuwat, Ramu Manivannan, 2005-02 Brings together the ideas and experiences of some of Asia's outstanding politicians intellectuals and social activists Through in depth interviews provides an overview and critique of the present system and describes a vision of a new Asian society Emerging Economies and Challenges to Sustainability Arve Hansen, Ulrikke Wethal, 2014-10-10 The rise of emerging economies represents a challenge to traditional global power balances and raises the question of how we can combine sustainability with continued economic growth Understanding this global shift and its impact on the environment is the paramount contemporary challenge for development oriented researchers and policy makers alike This book breaks new ground by combining scholarship on the role of emerging economies with research on sustainable development The book investigates how the development strategies of emerging economies challenge traditional development theory and sustainability discourses With regional introductions and original case studies from South Asia East Asia Latin America and Sub Saharan Africa it discusses how to conceptualise sustainable development in the global race for economic prosperity What characterises the development strategies of emerging economies and what challenges are these posing for global sustainable development How can emerging economies shed light on the global challenges dilemmas and paradoxes of the relationship between socio economic improvements and environmental degradation This book will be a valuable resource for researchers and postgraduates in development studies geography economics and environmental studies Developmentalism and Dependency in Southeast Asia Jason P. Abbott, 2003-08-29 This book provides a detailed cross country study of the automotive industry in South East Asia Abbott argues that contrary to prevailing opinion the diffusion of manufacturing in the Asia Pacific has been characterized by hierarchical networks of production linked to Japan for technology Asia/Pacific as Space of Cultural Production Rob Wilson, Arif Dirlik, 1995 Although the Asia Pacific region occupies a prominent place in geopolitical thinking little is available to readers concerning the resistant communities and cultures of Pacific and Asian peoples This book fills that gap by documenting the efforts of diverse indigenous cultures to claim and reimagine Asia Pacific as a space for their own cultural production by presenting essays poems and memoirs by prominent Asia Pacific writers that resist appropriation by transnational capitalism through the articulation of autonomous local identities and counter histories of place and community In addition cultural critics spanning several locations and disciplines deconstruct representations particularly those on film and in novels that perpetuate Asia Pacific as a realm of EuroAmerican fantasy This collection offers a new perception of the Asia Pacific region by presenting the Pacific not as a paradise or vast emptiness but as a place where living struggling peoples have constructed contemporary identities out of a long history of hegemony and resistance back cover Struggling To Be Heard Valerie Ooka Pang, Li-Rong Lilly Cheng, 1998-09-03 The social psychological and educational needs of Asian Pacific American youth often go unmet This book written by multicultural educators social workers psychologists and others challenges stereotypical beliefs and seeks to provide basic knowledge and direction for working with this population often labeled as the model minority Privatizing Nature Michael Goldman, 1998 An easily read book illuminating the multifarious process of environmental degradation as well as the motley social movements especially on a grass root level resisting the privatisation of common resources and ecological degradation on both a local and global level Capital Class Tackling the key themes such as the convergence of environment and social justice global commodities and the role of social movements the contributors draw on examples from the Amazon Mexico Cameroon India and the industrialised North Issues of Security in East Asia in Post-cold War Era Seiji Endō, 1994
