Silent Reading and the Birth of the Narrator Elspeth Jajdelska, 2007-01-01 Uses historical linguistic and literary evidence to discuss the reorientation of the text and reader towards one another This work investigates changes in punctuation sentence structure and letter and diary writing in the period to illuminate the emergence of a different prose style and the Writing the Self Peter Heehs, 2013-02-14 The self has a history In the West the idea of the soul entered Christianity with the Church Fathers notably Augustine During the Renaissance the idea of the individual attained preeminence as in the works of Montaigne In the seventeenth century philosophers such as Descartes formulated notions of selfhood that did not require a divine foundation in the next century Hume grew skeptical of the self's very existence Ideas of the self have changed markedly since the Romantic period and most scholars today regard it as at best a mental construct First person genres such as diaries and memoirs have provided an outlet for self expression Protestant diaries replaced the Catholic confessional but secular diaries such as Pepys s may reveal yet more about the self After Richardson novels competed with diaries and memoirs as vehicles of self expression though memoirs survived and continue to thrive while the diary has found a new incarnation in the personal blog Writing the Self narrates the intertwined histories of the self and of self expression through first person literature Stories of the Soviet Experience Irina Paperno, 2011-01-15 Beginning with glasnost in the late 1980s and continuing into the present scores of personal accounts of life under Soviet rule written throughout its history have been published in Russia marking the end of an epoch In a major new work on private life and personal writings Irina Paperno explores this massive outpouring of human documents to uncover common themes cultural trends and literary forms The book argues that diverse as they are these narratives memoirs diaries notes blogs assert the historical significance of intimate lives shaped by catastrophic political forces especially the Terror under Stalin and World War II Moreover these published personal documents create a community where those who lived through the Soviet era can gain access to the inner recesses of one another s lives This community strives to forge a link to the tradition of Russia s nineteenth century intelligentsia thus the Russian intelligentsia emerges as an additional implicit subject of this book The book surveys hundreds of personal accounts and focuses on two in particular chosen for their exceptional quality scope and emotional power Notes about Anna Akhmatova is the diary Lidiia Chukovskaia a professional editor kept to document the day to day life of her friend the great Russian poet Anna Akhmatova Evgeniia Kiseleva a barely literate former peasant kept records in notebooks with the thought of crafting a movie script from the story of her life The striking parallels and contrasts between these two documents demonstrate how the Soviet state and the idea of history shaped very different lives and very different life stories The book also analyzes dreams most of them terror dreams recounted in the diaries and memoirs of authors ranging from a peasant to well known writers a Party leader and Stalin himself History Paperno shows invaded their dreams too With a sure grasp of Russian cultural history great sensitivity to the men and women who wrote and a command of European and American scholarship on life writing Paperno places diaries and memoirs of the Soviet experience in a rich historical and conceptual frame An important and lasting contribution to the history of Russian culture at the end of an epoch Stories of the Soviet Experience also illuminates the general logic and specific uses of personal narratives Unfortunate Person Moty Stromer, 2008 An English translation of a Yiddish manuscript written by Moty Mordechai Stromer 1910 1993 in April May 1944 while he was hiding at the Jagonia now Yahidnya farm waiting for the liberation of the area from the Nazis Contains memoirs and diary notes The German occupation caught Stromer in Kamionka Strumilowa near Lyov After having been brutally beaten by Ukrainians Stromer fled to Lyov and entered the ghetto In June 1943 having survived numerous Nazi murder actions and forced labor in the Jan wska camp and having lost all of his relatives Stromer escaped from the ghetto and was hidden by his neighbors in Kamionka the ethnic German farmer I zef Streker and his wife The Less Noble Sex M. Jeanne Peterson, 1989-05-22 Physically frail badly After the war Stromer settled in the USA educated girls brought up to lead useless lives as idle gentlewomen married to dominant husbands and relegated to separate spheres of life these phrases have often been used to describe Victorian upper middle class women M Jeanne Peterson rejects such formulations and the received wisdom they embody in favor of a careful examination of Victorian ladies and their lives Focusing on a network of urban professional families over three generations this book examines the scope and quality of gentlewomen's education their physical lives their relationship to money their experience of family illness and death and their relationships to men brothers and friends as well as fathers and husbands Peterson also examines the prominent place of work in the lives of these leisured Victorian ladies both single and married Far from idle the mothers wives and daughters of Victorian clergymen doctors lawyers university dons and others were accomplished and productive members of society who made substantial public and private contributions to virtually every sphere of Victorian life The Works of the Rev. Visualizing the Holocaust David Bathrick, Brad Prager, Michael David Richardson, 2008 Visual representations are an essential but highly contested means of understanding and remembering the Holocaust Photographs taken in the camps in early 1945 provided proof of and visceral access to the atrocities Later visual representations such as films paintings and art installations attempted to represent this extreme trauma While photographs from the camps and later aesthetic reconstructions differ in origin they share goals and have raised similar concerns the former are questioned not as to veracity but due to their potential inadequacy in portraying the magnitude of events the latter are criticized on the grounds that the mediation they entail is unacceptable Some have even questioned any attempt to represent the Holocaust as inappropriate and dangerous to historical understanding This book explores the taboos that structure the production and reception of Holocaust images and the possibilities that result from the transgression of those taboos Essays consider the uses of various visual media aesthetic styles and genres in representations of the Holocaust the uses of perpetrator photography the role of trauma in memory aesthetic problems of mimesis and memory in the work of Lanzmann Celan and others and questions about mass cultural representations of the Holocaust David Bathrick is Emeritus Professor of German at Cornell University Brad Prager is Associate Professor of German at the University of Missouri and Michael D Richardson is Associate Professor of German at Ithaca College Pseudo-Memoirs Rochelle Tobias, 2021-07 Pseudo Memoirs redefines the notion of fiction itself a form that has all too often been understood in terms of its capacity to produce a seeming reality Rochelle Tobias argues that the verisimilitude of the novel derives not from its object but from the subjectivity at its base What generates the plausibility of fiction is not the referentiality of its depictions but the intentionality of consciousness Edmund Husserl developed the idea that consciousness is always intentional in the sense that it is directed outside itself toward something that it does not find so much as it constitutes as an object Pseudo memoirs reveal the full implications of this position in their double structure as the tale of their own telling or the fiction of life writing In so doing they reveal how the world of fiction is constructed but more important they bring to the fore the idealist premises that fuel the novel and guarantee its truth even when it remains an invention of the imagination Rochelle Tobias explores novels by Thomas Mann Robert Walser Thomas Bernhard and W G Sebald in conjunction with philosophical and theoretical texts by Ren Descartes Husserl Friedrich Nietzsche Gy rgy uk cs Roland Barthes and Maurice Blanchot Death of a Legend Bill Groneman, 1999-06-15 On March 6 1836 one of the most well known Americans of his time fought and died in one of America's most celebrated battles In recent years the fate of David Crockett at the Alamo has become a subject of controversy and debate Life Writing Sally
