reflect on many of the issues and challenges raised by the current trends and tensions in early childhood mathematics education. They emanate from seven countries: Australia, Northern Ireland, Norway, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, and Switzerland. Ever since Froebel invented the kindergarten, mathematics has been a part of early childhood pedagogy. Mathematics is an important part of children's daily life which helps them to understand the world around them. Nowadays, early childhood mathematics is in the international spotlight. Partly this is the result of myriad studies that seem to show that early childhood mathematics achievement is a strong predictor of success or otherwise in future school mathematics, other school subjects, and life itself. Another influence on early childhood mathematics education is the advent of the political and advocacy juggernaut known as STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics). Early childhood mathematics education is important for children's present and future learning. This book provides a strong collection of current research for the consideration of all in the early childhood education field. It was originally published as a special issue of the European Early Childhood Education Research Journal.
